U. S. ABOLISHES MILK CODE HERE; SEE PRICE WAR

BY PAUL POTTER.

A new milk price war which is expected to lower the retail cost in the Chicago area was forecast last night as a result of an order issued earlier in the day in Washington by Secretary Wallace abolishing the price fixing agreement which he imposed on the local industry last Aug. 1. The order becomes effective on Jan. 1.

The organized milk industry of Chicago was the first in the country to seek regulation under the New Deal farm law, the agriculture adjustment act. In terminating the agreement Secretary Wallace declared it was done at the request of the Pure Milk association, bargaining cooperative for 18,000 dairy farmers in the Chicago area.

No Immediate Change.

While no immediate effect on milk prices is expected as a result of the abrogation of the trade pact, it was indicated last night that the price war probably would break out into the open soon after the first of the year. Meanwhile it was said that the "Big Four" distributors and other large dairy companies would continue to charge 11 cents a quart, the code price since Nov. 1.

Cut rate operators whose increased operations were held to have caused the breakdown of the federal code will continue to charge 8 and 9 cents a quart, but without fear of federal prosecution. They will be subject to city and state health regulations, however.

Blanket License Remains.

In his order Secretary Wallace made no reference to the blanket license which he issued last Aug. 1, covering all sellers of milk in Chicago and the suburbs. Officials of the AAA indicated the blanket license would be left in effect in Chicago to be revised and enforced later should the government decide to attempt some other form of regulation.

While Secretary Wallace declared that the Pure Milk association's request for canceling of the agreement left the government no alternative, he was reported as far from reluctant to comply, as he and Chester C. Davis, new farm administrator, both regarded the code as unenforceable.

Marks New Policy.

The secretary's order was said to be the first major move toward a change in policy of the AAA following the removal of George N. Peek of Moline as administrator two weeks ago. Peek believed in the voluntary trade agreements of industries as a means of increasing farmers' prices and urged their enforcement. Wallace, favoring a nation-wide program of production control for major farm commodities, took an opposite view and has been left free by President Roosevelt to pursue that course.

That the local dairy industry hopes to make some changes in the basic price schedules for milk and cream, and in the scales paid the farmers and union labor, was seen this week with the meeting of the Milk Council, Inc., trade association of larger dealers. Their plans when ready are to be submitted to a conference of milk dealers and farmers.

Meanwhile the Pure Milk association and those companies buying milk from it will continue on the present basis of bargaining, it was said by D. N. Geyer, manager of the farmers' agency. Dr. Clyde L. King, who resigned last Saturday from the AAA as dairy administrator, will be called in to arbitrate any differences between the two groups, it was reported, before any threat of a farmers' strike over low prices can be made.

Makes Public Telegram.

Geyer made public yesterday the telegram which he sent to Secretary Wallace Monday charging the government with failure to uphold the agreement and requesting its termination:

"The absolute failure of your department to enforce the terms of the marketing agreement for the Chicago milk shed and the license based thereon has entirely broken down the milk market in the Chicago metropolitan area, and demonstrates the utter futility of any further attempt to stabilize the market or restore the parity of the farmer provided in the agricultural act by the continuance of this agreement.

"Conclusive evidence in numerous cases of price chiseling by distributors not parties to the agreement but subject to the license has been filed with

OFFICER SLAIN IN GUN BATTLE; CONVICT SEIZED

Paris, Ill., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Eugene Teague, 24, of Indianapolis, an Indiana state policeman, was fatally wounded and scores of pedestrians narrowly escaped death or injury today when Indiana state policemen, headed by Capt. Matt Leach, engaged in a gun fight with Edward Shouse, 27, one of the convict gang which escaped from Indiana state prison Sept. 26. Teague joined the Indiana state police in May.

Shouse, a man named Carl Miller, and two women companions were captured and taken to Indianapolis for questioning. After a preliminary questioning Miller, who was found in the La France hotel outside which the fight took place, was sent on to Indiana reformatory at Pendleton. A third man, said by Indiana authorities to be named Bremen, escaped in the fight.

Police Await Party.

Acting on an unexplained tip, the Indiana policemen waited in Paris for the arrival of an automobile driven by Shouse. The car, recognized by its license number, came down the street to a point almost in front of the La France hotel. The policemen called to Shouse to surrender.

Shouse, it was said by Leach, cowered behind the steering wheel of the car. The second man jumped from the car with the first exchange of shots and escaped.

The two women gave their names as Mrs. Frances Colen, 28, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Ruth Spencer, 24, San Diego, Cal. They were reported to have been traveling with Shouse for some time.

Slain by Own Colleagues.

Leach said he did not know who fired the shots which struck Teague, although he said it had been almost definitely established that he was struck by bullets fired by Indiana policemen. The fatal shot entered Teague's head at the base of the brain and passed out through his mouth.

The capture and shooting took place when downtown Paris was crowded with Christmas shoppers. Motorists scurried to curbs while pedestrians scattered to shelter or fell prone in the street. Shouse was captured at the muzzle of a revolver held by Albert Stepp, Paris policeman. Local police cooperating with Indiana officers were headed by Addison Crable, chief of police.

Shouse was sentenced to 20 years in Michigan City prison from Vigo county, Ind. [Terre Haute], in June, 1930, for auto banditry.

One of Ten Who Escaped.

Shouse was one of ten convicts who shot and slugged their way out of prison after overpowering guards with weapons which had been smuggled into the prison.

James Clark, one of the convicts, was captured two days later at Hammond, Ind. Then Joseph Jenkins was killed by a posse at Nashville, Ind.

The capture of Shouse left seven members of the gang still at large. They are Charles Makley, Walter Detrick, Joe Burns, Russell Clark, John Hamilton, Joseph Fox, and Harry Pierpont.

Release Dillinger from Jail.

After their escape the convicts formed a gang which succeeded in liberating John Dillinger, regarded Indiana's public enemy No. 1, from the Lima, O., jail. In freeing Dillinger his companions killed Sheriff Sarber.

Dillinger, identified in connection with numerous Indiana and Ohio bank robberies, again assumed leadership of the gang. They armed themselves by raiding police arsenals at Peru and Auburn. They robbed a bank at Greencastle of $30,000 and then moved into Chicago where they have been connected with several daring holdups. They also are credited with a bank robbery at Racine, Wis.

Dillinger avoided capture in Chicago recently when he shot his way out of a carefully laid police trap.

John Hamilton, one of the escaped convicts, was identified last week as the slayer of Sergt. William Shanley of Chicago, who attempted to question him.

400,000 Face Sterilization in Germany

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—The Nazis today announced plans for their mass sterilization campaign, designed to purge Germany of physical and mental defectives. The first batch of the 400,000 men and women who have been selected as candidates for sterilization will be acted upon by special "health courts" early in the new year. The "law to prevent progeny afflicted with hereditary diseases" becomes effective Jan. 1. Doctors have picked the persons thought to be unfit from hospitals. About 1,700 health courts reinforced by 27 appeal courts will decide which of these must undergo the necessary operations.

About half the candidates are mentally deficient. Most of the rest suffer from such diseases as epilepsy, blindness, deafness, alcoholism, insanity, or St. Vitus' dance. Some have serious physical deformities. It must be proved that these diseases, of which nine are specified in all, are hereditary if the operations are to be performed.

Will Take Two Years.

It is expected that two years will be required to pass on the defectives and carry out the verdicts of the courts.

The official communique points out that the operations will accomplish a large national saving in the long run. The total initial cost is estimated at $4,500,000. This would be more than made up in a few years, it is claimed, since statisticians place Germany's present annual expenditures for unfit at $115,000,000. Social insurance companies will pay the bills for the sterilization.

Jews Hit by Press Law.

With the headline "No Jews on German Newspapers After Jan. 1" Der Deutsche today celebrated the announcement of a new press law. Only Jews who saw action in the world war or whose fathers or sons were killed in action will be allowed to work on newspapers, and even they will be under supervision and restrictions.

Men who worked for Socialist or communist organs before the Hitler era will never be allowed to return to newspaper work in Germany, it is decreed. A non-Jewish German with a Jewish wife will be tolerated, provided he was married before the present régime.

All other newspaper men must be inscribed on a professional roll. The application for inscription must be accompanied by a police statement certifying the good moral repute of the applicant.

PASSENGER SHIP AGROUND; SENDS SOS MESSAGE

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Canadian National liner Prince George was aground tonight on Badso rock, four miles from Anyox, B. C., on Observatory inlet, northern British Columbia, and was calling for immediate assistance. Wireless calls from the ship were picked up here.

SOS Is Flashed.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 20.—(AP)—An SOS message asking immediate assistance was picked up here tonight at 11 o'clock from the crack Canadian National passenger liner Prince George, aground in British Columbia waters. The message was received by both the harbor radio and the coast guard.

The harbor radio said the liner reported it was aground on Badso rock, four miles from Anyox, B. C., on the Portland canal. The position is far up the northern coast of British Columbia near the southern tip of Alaska.

No vessels were known to be in the vicinity of the stricken ship, the harbor radio said.

The Portland canal is 75 to 100 miles north of Prince Rupert.

The Prince George left Vancouver, B. C., Monday night and had nearly reached the most northern point of her run, Anyox, when she went aground. She was due at Anyox Thursday morning.

She is a combined freight and passenger liner with a passenger capacity of about 300 and a crew of about 60.

Il Duce Fetes 92 Mothers of 1,288 Children

ROME, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The 92 "champion" mothers in Italy's provinces, who have brought 1,288 children into the world, came to Rome today to receive the enthusiastic acclaim of Premier Mussolini and the populace.

Their five day visit is at the expense of the state and is a part of the kingdom's celebration of mothers' and infants' day which, with the Fascist campaign to boost the birth rate, has become one of Italy's most important holidays. The climax of their stay will be Il Duce's reception for them on Sunday.

Takes Blue Ribbon.

Signora Paolina Belluci of Naples, the mother of 20 children, wore the prized blue ribbon of the Mothers' National Protective association as the woman who has given birth to the largest number of children in Italy.

The other mothers have children averaging 14 in number. The women are being fêted by national and local authorities and will receive prizes.

Particular emphasis has been placed on the celebration Sunday, because it will give Premier Mussolini an opportunity to emphasize his campaign for a larger population.

Newspapers today were filled with eulogies of motherhood and stressed Mussolini's viewpoint that Italy must have increasing numbers to assure her future as a great power.

Bachelors Supply Funds.

The expenses of the mothers are met out of funds raised through a special tax on bachelors who have passed their 25th birthday without marrying.

The government inspired press jubilantly told the nation tonight that "the battle against the modern evil of restricting the size of families has been won."

Newspapers prominently displayed the picture of the Marquise Agatha di Mannarini, the mother of 15 and Rome's champion matron, as proof that Mussolini's large family program is applicable to all classes.

Babies of newlyweds will be brought to the prize awarding ceremonies Sunday. Their fathers will be awarded free street car rides by the government during the year.

Council Acts to Tighten Up Liquor Rules

An amendment to Chicago's liquor ordinance, prohibiting retail liquor establishments from remaining open after 1 a. m. on week days and 2 a. m. on Sundays, was unanimously adopted by the city council yesterday. It was signed by Mayor Kelly as soon as it was adopted. The new amendment will become effective Dec. 31.

Under the original ordinance tavern owners were prohibited from selling liquor after those hours, but it was assumed that if liquor had been sold before the closing hour the purchaser might remain in the establishment after the closing hour to drink it. The amendment will cause liquor dispensaries to be closed promptly on the stated hours and all customers will be excluded after those hours.

Provisions for Closing.

"During such prohibited hours of sale the premises of such retail liquor dealers shall be kept closed," the amendment reads, "and no persons other than employés or members of the immediate families of such dealers shall be permitted to remain therein. All doors opening on any street and all other doors opening out of such premises shall be securely locked at said closing hours and shall be kept locked until the opening hours named herein."

The opening hours as provided in the ordinance are 7 a. m. on week days and 1 p. m. on Sundays.

The amendment was submitted by Mayor Kelly in accordance with views expressed by him ten days ago. At that time he commented on the difficulty of enforcing a prohibition of liquor sales after certain hours if taverns were still left open, and said that he believed it would be advisable to amend the ordinance to require that all drinking places be closed for stated periods.

Would Permit Ban on Bars.

Mayor Kelly also offered another suggestion for revising the present ordinance in regard to its provisions relating to the issuance of licenses. He proposed that the name, address, and nature of business of each applicant be published for five days prior to the issuance of the license.

He pointed out that this would allow residents of the community in which the liquor dealer plans to operate to make a complaint against the issuance of a license in case they didn't want liquor dispensaries in their neighborhood. The mayor's suggestion was sent to the council license committee for consideration.

Mayor Kelly warned tavern owners that yesterday was the deadline for making deposits on retail liquor licenses. Tomorrow the police will start closing places which have not made a $250 deposit. Only 2,500 out of 8,000 licensed beer places in the city have made the deposit, which is for a license for the first six months of 1934.

Districts Excluding Liquor.

The council approved the requests of two aldermen that certain districts in their wards be kept free of liquor dealers by the refusal of licenses in those areas.

Ald. James J. Cusack of the 5th ward asked that no licenses be issued in the district bounded by Hyde Park boulevard, Cottage Grove avenue, 62d street and the lake, with the exception of both sides of Lake Park avenue between 51st and 55th streets.

Two districts in the 4th ward will not have liquor dealers as a result of the request of Ald. B. A. Cronson. One is bounded by the south side of 47th street, the east side of Lake Park avenue, and the north side of 51st street and by the west side of Blackstone avenue to 53d street, then along the north side of 53d street to the west side of Drexel boulevard and then north to 47th street.

The other district in that ward has its limits 50 feet inside a square bounded by Cottage Grove avenue, 47th street, South Park way, and 51st street.

BAULER SHOWS HIS WORRIES AS HE FACES COURT

A dejected figure stood before Municipal Judge Jay A. Schiller in the Felony court yesterday. It was Ald. Mathias [Paddy] Bauler of the 43d ward vainly trying to hide his anxiety beneath a jaunty exterior as he was arraigned on a charge of assault with intent to murder Policeman John J. Ahearn in a gun battle outside Bauler's tavern at 343 West North avenue early Tuesday morning.

Even the granting of more than a month's continuance did not erase the worried look from the alderman's face. The reason given for the delay—that the wounded policeman may die—did not tend to ease the politician's mind. The case will come up again on Jan. 23.

Condition of Wounded Improves.

Last evening, however, death was said by physicians to be a remote possibility for either of the two men shot during the pistol fight between Ald. Bauler and Policeman Ahearn.

Dr. Fred Rettig, staff physician at the Alexian Brothers hospital, declared: "Gains in Policeman Ahearn's condition have partly dispelled fears that the wound would leave him permanently crippled. The outlook is very favorable, although his condition will prevent probing for the bullet for three or four days." The bullet struck Ahearn in the right hip and lodged near his spine on the left side.

The other man wounded was Assistant Sheriff Frank Wright. He was struck by a bullet in the cross-fire between Bauler and Ahearn, supposedly a bullet from Ahearn's gun. Dr. Franklin McCarthy, chief surgeon at St. Joseph's hospital, reported that Wright was "considerably improved." Wright, at first, had been given only a fifty-fifty chance to live, the bullet having pierced his liver and lung.

Bauler Appears Alone.

Ald. Bauler was alone when he appeared in the Felony court at the Criminal court building. He sat by himself in the jury box until he was joined by his attorney, John K. Murphy.

The alderman's pale blue eyes were restless. He passed a fat hand over his thin, flaxen hair. He brightened somewhat when Michael Igoe, Democratic leader, walked over and shook his hand. A group of bailiffs, deputies and small political fry who had been hanging back, wondering whether Ald. Bauler had become too "hot" for public greetings, plucked up courage and swarmed over to him with unctuous salutations.

"Everything's been printed in the newspapers," Bauler told newspapermen who asked him for a statement. Since his first hasty remarks, soon after the shooting, when he declared he shot Ahearn in self-defense, the alderman has remained silent upon advice of his attorney.

State Asks Continuance.

When the case was called Assistant State's Attorney John Phillips asked for a continuance.

"There are a couple of people in the hospital in this case," he said. "Even if they recover, they will be a month in bed."

"We're ready for trial now but have no objection to a continuance," announced Defense Attorney Murphy.

When Judge Schiller asked Ald. Bauler if he had a statement to make Attorney Murphy quickly interposed and declared that was unnecessary.

"We will show this happened through no fault of Ald. Bauler," he asserted.

Witnesses' Stories Unchanged.

The statements of witnesses in the case remained unchanged yesterday. Policeman Ahearn, his partner, Policeman Edward Hayes, the young woman who was with them, Miss Mary Tyler, and one or two others maintained their versions that Ald. Bauler shot Ahearn as the latter was sitting in an automobile with his overcoat and gloves on. This had been preceded by a quarrel between the alderman and the policeman when Ahearn tried to gain entrance to Bauler's saloon at 4 o'clock in the morning.

Friends of Ald. Bauler upheld his self-defense theory by asserting that Ahearn had knocked the alderman down and had been verbally abusive to him.

The alderman was a lonely man last night. For years he has held forth each evening in one of his saloons, singing, dancing and wise cracking before an admiring audience of his henchmen. The most pretentious place he ever started was the place where the shooting occurred. This establishment, in the quarters formerly occupied by the Immigrant State bank, was dark yesterday, and police were instructed to see that it remains so. Bauler's license to operate a cabaret and tavern were revoked and his application for a liquor dealer's license was denied.

In commenting on the revocation Mayor Kelly declared that he was against the operation of a tavern by any public official.

"Any man holding public office has absolutely no right to operate a place where drinks are sold," he declared. "We have a duty to perform in preventing the abuse of the privileges granted by repeal and public officials should avoid the liquor business."

Two other drinking places were closed on order of the mayor. The tavern of Andrew Damm, 418 North State street, was closed because two robbers were traced to the place on Dec. 13. The tavern of John McGlade, 3720 Harrison street, was closed because McGlade's brother, James McGlade, was shot in a fight in the place recently.

The state liquor control bill, now pending passage, provides that a license cannot be reissued for a year after revocation. Police Commissioner Allman said that this law would apply to Bauler's place.

298 CONVICTS GO HOME FOR XMAS; RETURN ON JAN. 1

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Prison gates swung open for 298 Alabama long term convicts today and they left for home with Gov. B. M. Miller's wishes for a happy Christmas.

Before dark on New Year's day they are expected back in their prisons and road camps scattered over the state.

"They were a happy lot," said Capt. Joe Partin, assistant warden at Kilby prison here. "They were so happy to be outside that some of them didn't know which way to go.

"More than 70 left here this morning and all stopped to thank the warden and me. They all said they would be back on Jan. 1 and I know they will."

Automobiles were waiting for a few at the prison gates and some thrifty souls had saved enough for train fare home, but the greater number—especially the 201 Negro men and 24 Negro women—set out along the highways.

All have served more than two years in Alabama prisons and were chosen from the prison population of more than 5,000 as the most outstanding convicts.

BRITAIN TO BUY BIBLICAL CODEX FROM SOVIETS

LONDON, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The British museum will buy the codex sinaiticus, which has been called the most valuable manuscript in the world, from the soviet government at a price of $500,000, Prime Minister MacDonald told the house of commons today.

The manuscript consists of a large part of the Old Testament and the epistles of Barnabas and the shepherd of Hermas, written in Greek, as a translation from Hebrew in the second half of the fourth century.

The document has been in Russia since it was presented to Alexander II in the middle of the 19th century. The first trace of codex sinaiticus was found by Tischendorf, the renowned biblical scholar, on Mount Sinai in 1844. It is written in 48 lines to a four column page, on thin vellum.

500 at Banquet in Honor of Attorney De Stefano

A testimonial banquet in honor of Rocco De Stefano, attorney and former assistant corporation counsel, was held at the Morrison hotel last night. It was attended by about 500 of his friends. The event, which marked the anniversary of his 35th year in the legal profession, was given by the Justinian Society of Advocates, an Italian-American legal organization. Attorney General Otto Kerner, Judges Francis Allegretti and Francis Borrelli, and Samual A. Hoffman, former assistant state's attorney, were among the speakers.

Dr. Eugene Chesrow Gets Decoration from Italy

Dr. Eugene Joseph Chesrow, Chicago physician, was decorated last night with the cross of the Order of the Crown of Italy in recognition of his benevolent and charitable work among the Italians of this city. Guiseppe Castruccio, Italian consul, made the presentation at a banquet in the Lake Shore Athletic club attended by 600 persons. The medal is the gift of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and was bestowed on Dr. Chesrow on the recommendation of Premier Mussolini.

HORNER-KELLY SPLIT ON LIQUOR BILL REOPENED

Phone Talk Shows Strife Over Home Rule.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner and Mayor Kelly again are in disagreement over the proposed Illinois liquor law. It is understood they talked over the telephone today and found that they could not renew the understanding they believed they reached in a conference here last Sunday.

Once again the trouble is over the question of home rule for Chicago. The two officials hold opposing views as to their Sunday agreement on one important phase of this question. Mayor Kelly says the agreement was that Chicago was to handle all its own license matters except that in the case of a denial of a license an appeal might be taken to the state commission. Gov. Horner believes the agreement was that an appeal to the commission might be taken if a license "has been improperly issued, denied, revoked or refused to be revoked."

Early Action Doubtful.

The disclosure of the new disagreement came as a result of events in the senate amending process, the developments being so serious as to lead to general predictions that the senate will quit work for the week tomorrow and to a renewal of forecasts that no bill can be passed by two-thirds vote.

The break in the senate came when the Horner forces sought to pass an amendment that fitted the governor's views but not those of Mayor Kelly.

For a time the roll call showed sufficient votes to pass the amendment. Then two senators changed their votes and the proposal was defeated. But that action left the bill in such shape that there were immediate demands for a recess until after the holidays because of the "hopelessness" of the situation. That motion was tabled by a vote of 36 to 5.

Try to Save Vital Clause.

One of the important parts of last Sunday's agreement to provide home rule for Chicago dealt with a provision of the bill as passed by the house of representatives allowing appeals from local commissions to the state commission in all licensing matters. According to the Kelly leaders it was agreed that local commissioners should have full power in all matters of licensing except that an appeal would be allowed in cases in which licenses had been refused by the local authorities.

The amendment supposed to make this change did not do so. The critics of it said that the newly proposed section was merely a repetition of the broad powers—in different language—conveyed by the original text to the state commission.

Maypole Sounds Warning.

Despite these protests, which showed the Cook county Democrats, supported by some Chicago Republicans, ready for a real rupture if necessary, L. O. Williams, [Dem., Clinton], who is handling the bill, insisted on going ahead with the amendment. During a long debate George M. Maypole [Dem., Chicago] warned Williams that he might defeat the entire bill.

At that time the roll call stood 23 to 22 for the "anti-Kelly" amendment, but as the seriousness of the danger of a complete smashup was emphasized, two Republicans—Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton, and Arthur A. Huebsch of Brookfield—changed their votes. That made the result 21 to 24 and the amendment was lost.

Then Huebsch made the motion to recess until after the holidays, saying: "It is become more and more obvious that we are not making any real progress and that we are putting this bill into such shape that it would not be possible to obtain 34 votes for it."

Recess Proposal Tabled.

Huebsch also proposed that a simple bill providing for state revenue from intoxicants be passed and put into effect until a final bill could be worked out. James J. Barbour [Rep., Evanston] protested that the assembly would not "dare" quit its task. Richey V. Graham [Dem., Chicago], president pro tempore, moved that the recess proposal be tabled and on that came the 36 to 5 vote which sent the chamber back to its long grind.

A few minutes later there came a quiet bit of action that for a time puzzled the press gallery and other observers. The Kelly forces submitted without protest to the slaughter of an apparently important amendment which was outside the Horner-Kelly list of 64. It was said to have originated with Gov. Horner and his own advisers, and its apparent purpose was that license appeals in Chicago go directly to the Circuit or Superior court.

But it was found that it provided for appeals by the court route only to a limited extent less than that expected. It did provide for recourse to the courts on revocations, refusals to revoke and refusals to grant hearings, but it also left in the bill the provision that appeals concerning the granting or the refusal of licenses must go to the state commission.

From the Kelly viewpoint this latter latitude would permit a state commission to control the license situation in Chicago. According to the language used a state body could nullify a license issued by the city or could order the issuance of a permit the city had refused.

50 Cent Whisky Tax Wins.

Earlier in the day the 50 cent gallonage tax on whisky won out by a vote of 22 to 20 and the $50 annual license fee for retailers was approved by 22 to 11.

In none of the proceedings during the day did the supporters of the bill show they were anywhere near the 34 votes required to make it a law immediately.

An amendment by N. M. Mason [Rep., Oglesby] that would have killed the state commission proposal entirely was defeated when it was tabled by a vote of 29 to 9.

The night session consisted chiefly of considering the 94 odd amendments introduced by individual senators. The first real debate was on the "distillery districts'" demand that the Powers amendment passed in the house be eliminated. This required that any alleged whisky, including less than 74 per cent of 4 year old stuff, be labeled "imitation whisky."

An amendment which would have eliminated the labeling requirements was put to the test by a motion to table it, and that motion was lost by a vote of 4 to 30. Then it was adopted by a viva voce vote. As the Powers amendment was put in the bill in the house of representatives by acclamation, it is expected that when the bill goes back there it will be restored.

MICHIGAN'S HOPE FOR LEGAL LIQUOR BY CHRISTMAS FADING

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Hopes for a supply of legal liquor for Christmas in Michigan were virtually abandoned today when members of the liquor control commission revealed that it would be next to impossible to open any of the projected state liquor stores by Saturday. The commission has refused to open any other temporary avenue of retail distribution.

Commission members were certain, however, that the state stores would be in operation and an ample supply of liquor available before New Year's eve. Orders for upwards of a million dollars worth of whisky have been placed. Gin and wines are also being purchased for immediate delivery.

It was announced that four stores will be opened to start with in Detroit, although the state metropolis is entitled to one for each 75,000 of its 1,600,000 population. Other stores have been approved for Grand Rapids, Flint, Lansing, Saginaw, Pontiac, Bay City, Kalamazoo, Jackson, Muskegon, Port Huron, Battle Creek, Ann Arbor, and Mount Pleasant.

WISCONSIN BEER LAW IS CHANGED; LIQUOR BILLS HIT

Levy $1 a Gallon on All Malt Beverages.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Approval of the $1 barrel tax on beer containing more than 3.2 per cent alcohol was voted by both houses of the state legislature today, but sponsors of two bills designed to regulate sale of hard liquors abandoned the fight for adoption of their plans.

The senate pounded the Bolens-Kleker bill so hard with amendments that Senator Harry Bolens of Port Washington, chairman of the interim committee which drew up the measure, asked permission to withdraw it.

Kills State Commission Plan.

Senator Bolens made his request after the senate had killed the provision for a full time state control commission.

In the other house, Assemblyman Jerome Fox, Democratic floor leader, introduced a substitute to the Schmedeman-Fox regulatory bill. The substitute eliminates the liquor commission, establishing a board of appeals which would act on disputes arising from local regulations. It also eliminates the governor's plan to require a $1 fee annually for the purchase of liquor in bulk.

Administration leaders in the assembly planned to rush the substitute measure to a vote tomorrow and send it to the senate where a similar plan of dealing with the Bolens bill was advanced today.

Seek Compromise on Bill.

The senate refused to kill the Bolens bill entirely, but put over for action tomorrow a resolution proposing an adjournment of the legislature to give a committee an opportunity to work out a compromise measure acceptable to the senate and assembly.

Liquor tax measures now pending in both houses will be taken up after the fight over control plans has been settled.

The beer bill approved today is a corrective measure. It levies a tax retroactive to Dec. 5 and was particularly designed to reach breweries outside of Wisconsin which might not be liable to a tax on beer of more than 3.2 per cent under the $1 a barrel law passed at the regular session.

OLYMPIC ENTERS N. Y. HARBOR WITH 1,000 TONS OF YULE LIQUOR

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—With 14,567 bags of Christmas mail and 1,000 tons of Christmas liquor, the liner Olympic arrived today, more than twelve hours behind schedule because of heavy seas.

The liquor, including whiskies, gins, and wines, required the services of 150 stevedores, who started work at 1 o'clock and were expected to be kept busy until nearly midnight.

Among the passengers was Marcel P. Labourdette, president of Labourdette & Co., agents for Moet & Chandon champagne. Included in the cargo were 1,500 cases of champagne, which, according to Mr. Labourdette, was the first Moet & Chandon to enter this country since 1919.

TIRED SOLONS LEAVE MAINE DRIER THAN EVER

Augusta, Me., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The special session of the Maine legislature adjourned sine die tonight, leaving the state drier than before the repeal of federal prohibition and without new sources of revenue to replenish its shrunken treasury.

Last minute efforts to salvage some measure to meet Gov. Louis J. Brann's demand for legalizing hard liquor for "medicinal and mechanical purposes and the arts," as authorized by the state constitution, proved futile.

After listening to the chief executive's exhortation, the house made an unfruitful gesture toward enacting the once-spurned drug store hard liquor measure. Reconsidering yesterday's unfavorable vote, the lower branch again passed the bill to be engrossed. In the final roll call, however, on which a two-thirds majority was required, the vote was: For, 74; against, 50; absent, 23.

Yesterday's vote was: For, 91; against, 52; absent, 4.

Many of the law makers had tired of it all and had headed for home.

Council Names a Tract 'Ernest Hummel Square'

A triangular tract of land at 100th street and Indianapolis avenue was named "Ernest Hummel square" yesterday by the city council at the request of Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] in whose ward it lies. Ernest Hummel, according to the alderman, formerly was a city treasurer and was the first alderman to represent that section in the council.

HARVARD ASKS LICENSE TO SELL STUDENTS BEER

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Harvard college, which a century ago tolerated a brewery in its sacred yard, but frowned on serving alcoholic beverages even in pre-prohibition days to any of its students, today made application for a license to sell malt beverages in its dining halls.

The application for the license went forward to the Cambridge licensing board in the absence of President James Bryant Conant as a result of yesterday's special municipal election in which the city went wet by more than 3 to 1 for the first time in half a century.

The decision to apply for the license was reached after a lengthy conference of the deans of various departments in the university and the administrative officers this morning.

Under the state law special tables will be reserved for students more than 21 years of age, and the beer may be served only to them at those tables.

BEATEN TO DEATH IN QUARREL OVER AUTO ACCIDENT

Vincent Millo, 45 years old, 846 Blue Island avenue, was beaten to death last night after a quarrel with an unidentified man at Morgan and Taylor streets.

The two men were driving cars which collided, but without serious damage to either. The second man left his car, carrying a jack handle, and struck Millo several times on the head. He then entered his own car and fled.

Witnesses called the Maxwell street police, who took Millo to the county hospital. He was dead on arrival there.

FRANCE SEIZES AMERICAN AND WIFE AS SPIES

16 Others Are Nabbed in Alleged Red Ring.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 20.—Two young Americans, Robert Gordon Switz, 29, son of the late Theodore A. Switz of Madison, Wis., and his wife, formerly Marjorie Tilley, 22, are being held incommunicado by French police on a charge of being active members of a gang of international spies who have been selling French military secrets to soviet Russia.

Sixteen alleged confederates of various nationalities were gathered in at the same time by the counter espionage bureau of the Paris police department in the greatest spy roundup France has seen since the war. All those arrested, according to the police, had papers showing their affiliation with the Communist party.

Violation of Soviet Pledge.

French opinion was shocked at the alleged revelation that the soviets are carrying on espionage in France despite their solemn pledge not to do so made to former Premier Edouard Herriot at the time recognition was granted—a pledge similar to the one Maxim Litvinov, soviet foreign commissar, made to President Roosevelt recently at the recognition parley in Washington.

Coming at a moment when a campaign is under way for closer understanding with the soviets—and there is even talk of a military alliance—the raids staged by the Parisian sleuths are likely to have important political repercussions. Already there is a threat of an interpellation in the chamber of deputies.

The international angle to the case will be brought out more strongly if developments in the next few days confirm a report in police circles that has not been officially divulged yet—namely: that the gang was not merely providing Moscow with illicit information regarding the military strength of its potential ally, but was engaged in sabotaging the French national defense by securing defective equipment for the army, navy, and air forces.

Find Documents on American.

Switz, who is known here as "the aviator," was arrested with his attractive young wife at the Hotel Rue Dantin yesterday. The pair, according to police, had in their possession secret French military documents and a large sum of cash.

Little could be learned about Switz here today. Dr. Horatio S. Krans, director of the American University union, remembers that Switz registered at his office three years ago, saying he was a Yale graduate of the class of 1917. His wife said she was graduated from Vassar in 1932. Dr. Krans said Switz told him he was interested in aviation and hoped to get a commercial aviation job here.

So far Switz has made no representation to the American embassy and no action has been taken by American diplomatic officials on his behalf.

Several Women Among Suspects.

Among the 18 others arrested were:

Benjamin Bercowitz, a merchant, born May 10, 1891, at Iasi, Rumania; a naturalized Canadian.

Mrs. Clara Bercowitz, his wife, and also a naturalized Canadian, born Dec. 19, 1903, in Bendery, Rumania.

Moise Salmon, 26, and his wife, Chana, 27, both Polish medical students.

Mme. Lidia Tchekaloff Stahl, 48, a Russian language teacher, who made a number of mysterious trips to Finland and is alleged to be the messenger of the gang, carrying stolen documents to agents charged with taking them into Russia.

[Finnish police last October arrested 20 persons, alleged members of a soviet Russian espionage ring. Among those arrested were Arvid Jacobson and his wife, both formerly of Michigan. Finnish secret police said Jacobson confessed to being a Russian spy.]

Mlle. Madeleine Mermet, 23, a French teacher.

Prof. Louis Pierre Martin, 43, a translator in the marine ministry.

Dourham Narandisch, 42, a Serbian journalist.

Two Russians named Rochezki and Mackovic, who are believed to have organized the gang slipped through the police ring and have apparently left the country.

Police claim it was through shadowing them that their attention was drawn to the Switzs and subsequently to other members of the alleged spy gang.

Police under the personal supervision of Police Prefect Chiappe have been stalking their quarry for more than eight months.

The police have not yet made clear exactly what the case against Switz and the others is based on. They seem fully convinced, however, that the gang was working for the soviets.

According to one account the gang concentrated its activity on naval aviation affairs. Most of the arrested persons had suspiciously large sums of cash available, notably Prof. Martin, who had nearly $2,000 in his pockets. The French school teacher, Mlle. Mermet, allegedly had in her possession special cameras for photographing documents, as well as a clandestine radio sending outfit.

Hunt Clews in Colonies.

It is believed the ring had important ramifications in the French colonies and provinces and the police hint at further sensational disclosures.

Switz, after spending a while in France, made a long trip to the United States, returning in a few months. He turned up again at the University union and told Krans he was out of a job and trying to find work. He gave his American address then as in care of Bard & Calkin, 25 Broad street, New York.

Switz's wife was born in New York, the daughter of John Tilley, an English born chauffeur, and a Swiss mother. Switz's father is said to have been a naturalized Russian.

Identified in New York.

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Robert Gordon Switz, arrested in Paris today as a suspected member of an espionage ring, was identified tonight as an aviator and commercial traveler.

Albert Sprague Bard, a lawyer, who said he had known Switz a number of years and who has been forwarding his mail, said Switz had been traveling back and forth across the ocean for a dozen years or more. He represented two firms dealing in scientific instruments, Bard said.

Switz' home is at East Grange, N. J., but he has not lived there for some years, Bard said. His mother, Mrs. Genevieve Switz, a widow, has lived at the same address in East Orange for fifteen years, neighbors said. Mrs. Switz, an active clubwoman, was not at home.

Health department records showed Switz was born in East Orange on Oct. 28, 1904, making him 29 years of age. He has two brothers, Paul, a former Yale football star, who now works in the New York financial district, and Theodore Switz, a chemist.

Switz married Miss Tilley here last May 19. The ceremony was performed in the municipal chapel by Deputy City Clerk Philip A. Hines.

Switz qualified for a limited commercial flying license at the Curtiss-Wright flying school in 1930. Officials of the school said that when he came there on Feb. 14, 1930, he was equipped with a French flying license.

Investigation at Winnipeg, Canada, concerning Benjamin Bercowitz, who also was arrested in the general roundup in Paris, showed that a man giving the name of Benjamin Bercovitch received Canadian naturalization there in 1913. He lived in Winnipeg about a year and then left for Saskatchewan.

At Moosejaw, Sask., it was recalled that Bercovitch conducted a general store in Vanguard for about a year. Those who knew him there said he took little part in community affairs and was of a retiring nature.

Not Listed by Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The latest issue of the Yale alumni directory does not list the name of Robert Switz, who said he was a Yale graduate after his arrest in Paris on a charge of espionage. The directory issued on Sept. 15, 1932, also contains a list of nongraduates, but Switz's name is not among them.

U. S. Asks Information.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The state department tonight cabled the American embassy in Paris for complete information on the arrest by French authorities of a couple who described themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz on charges of espionage. State department officials have received no advices concerning the arrests from the embassy in Paris. It was reiterated that the embassy would do whatever might be necessary to protect the legitimate interest of Mr. and Mrs. Switz.

U. S. TURNS OVER $42,000,000 TO SANITARY BOARD

Sewage Plant Funds Put in Loop Banks.

The federal government turned over $42,169,813 of public works funds yesterday to the sanitary district for sewage disposal construction in Chicago. The transaction took place at the Chicago Federal Reserve bank, where PWA officials from Washington handed over five checks for the amount to Ross A. Woodhull, chairman of the district's finance committee.

The federal money, which represents the largest PWA outlay in the country to date, will finance for the next two years the sewage disposal program made necessary by the mandate of the United States Supreme court. The court's decree provides that the diversion of water from Lake Michigan at Chicago must be reduced to 1,500 cubic feet a second by the end of 1938.

Deposit Money in Loop Banks.

The money was deposited in five loop banks as follows: First National bank, $15,179,315; Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, $14,990,000; Northern Trust company, $5,000,000; Harris Trust and Savings bank, $3,500,000, and the City National bank, $3,500,000. It will be paid out as needed.

Trustee Woodhull assured Lloyd H. Landau, PWA general solicitor, that the district would put men to work on the construction program as soon as possible. Employment for approximately 16,000 persons will be provided directly on the projects and in ancillary industries.

"On projects that the district had already started but halted because funds were exhausted," explained Woodhull, "we expect to resume work within a few days."

These projects, in various stages of construction, will cost $8,000,000 to complete. Philip Harrington, chief engineer for the district, will ask the trustees at a meeting today for authority to advertise immediately for bids on the remainder of the federally financed program.

In addition to Woodhull, Harrington, and Landau, the conference yesterday was attended by Frederick Z. Marx, attorney for the local PWA board; Frederick Clay, Landau's assistant; John S. Kemp, national disbursing officer for PWA; George H. Parker, PWA chief accountant; Henry Cutler, legal expert on municipal securities, and others.

Offer Bonds as Collateral.

As collateral for the federal loan the district turned over to the government sanitary district 4 per cent 20 year bonds to the amount of the total grant. The district also has promised that the state legislature will pass laws enabling the district to pledge judgments and other assets as additional security.

Federal officials will supervise the awarding of contracts and the disbursement of money to contractors.

Earlier in the day a public hearing was held on the district's 1934 budget of $99,605,027. Business agents of various unions appeared before the board and asked for additional appropriations to employ more men. The trustees expressed the belief that the budget would be passed on Jan. 2 in its present form. The corporate, or operating, fund has been reduced approximately $1,000,000 from the 1933 figure.

Dr. Karl Meyer Undergoes Operation; Accident Sequel

Dr. Karl Meyer, medical superintendent of the Cook county hospital, was reported resting easy yesterday at the University hospital after an operation for traumatic hernia. The operation was performed by Dr. Raymond W. McNealy, who said that Dr. Meyer would remain in the hospital for two weeks. The operation was made necessary by injuries suffered by Dr. Meyer in an automobile accident last May 27 in Evanston.

Artist Burroughs Files Cross Bill for Divorce

Stanley Oldham Burroughs, 1456 Fargo avenue, a commercial artist, filed a cross bill for divorce yesterday in the Circuit court against Mrs. Alice Armstrong Burroughs, who has a bill pending in which she charges him with drunkenness and cruelty. Burroughs charges adultery, basing the charge on a raid last Saturday on the apartment of Lowell Johnston, 170 East Superior street, where Mrs. Burroughs was found draped. Burroughs also asks custody of two children.

AIMEE HUTTON ATTACKS SINGER'S PLEAS FOR CASH

Says She Paid Balm to Suing Nurse.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—After being back in her home town tonight after a long revival tour of eastern American cities by several thousand enthusiasts from Angelus Temple, the Rev. Aimee McPherson Hutton filed a divorce cross bill. She served notice to the world in general and her estranged spouse, David L. "Daring Dave" Hutton, in particular, that she intends to emerge from the second divorce and the third marriage of her active career, on terms that suit herself.

The woman pastor's attorneys filed a cross bill in which they "throw a book" of accusations at portly Dave, who had started it all here last July 18 when he filed his own original divorce action while Aimee was homeward bound from Europe.

These Are Her Charges.

The Rev. Aimee accuses Dave of cruelty on following asserted grounds:

1. He made public appearances and had photographs taken of himself and scantily clad women.

2. He abandoned the cause of organized religion, thereby breaking a promise at the time of their wedding.

3. He joined the stage and made theatrical appearances in the very cities in which she was holding church meetings, his stage appearance being used as a vehicle for ridiculing her appearances and her ideals. He permitted vaudeville theaters to bill him in big bright outdoor lights as "Aimee's Man."

4. He kept hounding Aimee for $5,000 to pay off the heart balm judgment Miss Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, comely nurse, won from Dave in a spectacular trial shortly after Dave wed Aimee.

Angry When Refused Money.

5. He accused her of secreting money, and grew angry when she did not find sums to give him.

6. He threatened to release public statements derogatory to her reputation and injurious to her character.

7. He caused her to become ill by rudely and cruelly breaking the news to her that Miss St. Pierre had won a judgment against him, and further was responsible for her illnesses by attempts to interfere with her religious organization and church staff at Angelus Temple.

ERNEST STEVENS OUT AS MANAGER OF THE STEVENS

The resignation of Ernest J. Stevens as manager of the Stevens hotel was revealed yesterday in the United States District court. Stevens is under sentence of one to 10 years' imprisonment for embezzlement of funds of the Illinois Life Insurance company, which was controlled by his family. The first announcement of Stevens' resignation, which became effective on Dec. 15, was made with the appointment of Otto K. Eitel, former manager of the Bismarck hotel, to manage the Stevens hotel.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson authorized C. Wayland Brooks and Arthur B. Hall, co-receivers of the Stevens hotel, to employ Mr. Eitel. Receiver Brooks said that Stevens had resigned as resident manager and relinquished his suite in the Stevens hotel without announcing any reason for the act.

Mr. Eitel has resigned as manager of the Bismarck hotel, the receivers announced, after holding the post since the hotel was opened in 1926.

THREE GIVE UP ON CHARGES OF UTILITY FRAUD

Insull Jr. to Surrender Today, Attorney Says.

Morse Dell Plain, president of the Northern Indiana Public Service company, and two others of the seven defendants named in an indictment voted on Tuesday by the Lake county, Ind., grand jury, surrendered yesterday to Sheriff Lillian Holley of Lake county at Crown Point. They were released on bonds of $10,000 each.

The others who surrendered are Bernard P. Shearon, secretary-treasurer of the company, and Thomas G. Hamilton, a former director who is now general manager of the Gary Street Railway company.

Dell Plain, Shearon, Hamilton and four others are charged in the indictment with grand larceny, embezzlement of the public service company's funds, and conspiracy to commit those acts.

Other Defendants Named.

The four other defendants are Samuel Insull Jr., who was vice chairman of the board of directors of the company before his father's utility empire collapsed, and John H. Gulick, Edward W. Lloyd, and Charles W. Chase. The latter three were directors at the time of the offenses charged in the indictment, but are not connected with the company now, nor is Insull.

The younger Insull is now assistant to the chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company, Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, and Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. Gulick and Lloyd are vice presidents of the Commonwealth Edison company. Chase is general manager of the Indianapolis Railways company.

Young Insull will surrender and post bond today, his attorney, Floyd E. Thompson, said last evening. Gulick's attorney, James G. Condon, said that his client would probably surrender at the same time.

Details of Charges Secret.

The actual charges of the indictment by Indiana law remain a secret until the defendants have been placed under bond. With the true bill, however, the grand jurors presented an extensive report charging gross mismanagement of the company, the milking of its assets for the benefit of holding companies, and the concealment of profits in order to justify continuance of high rates charged the public.

President Dell Plain issued a statement in which he blamed the investigation and indictment on his refusal to agree to leniency for Howard W. Duncan, former assistant treasurer of the company, who confessed an embezzlement of $132,000 in company funds two months ago.

When he pleaded guilty Duncan made the first of his charges, and he was the star witness of Prosecutor Estill in ferreting out alleged misdeeds of company officials and presenting them to the grand jury.

"I wish to assure the 17,000 stockholders and other security holders of the company that its officers have not engaged in any improper practices," said Dell Plain in his statement.

Asks an Early Hearing.

"I cannot comment in detail on the charges, because I have not had an opportunity to examine them. The other side of the story has not been told, however. We will request an early hearing on these charges in order to disprove them.

"Before this burst of notoriety I was given an opportunity by defense counsel [for Duncan] to stop it if I would agree to join in a request for a suspended sentence for Duncan. I was told that if I did not agree to such leniency the company would be exposed to unfavorable publicity which would reflect on its integrity, its rate structures, and its officers.

"I refused to join in any recommendation for a suspended sentence, and Duncan's attorney apparently has made good his threats with a vengeance."

The Grand Jury's Report.

In its report, delivered to Judge William J. Murray in the Criminal court at Crown Point, the grand jury charged that the Northern Indiana Public Service company had been milked of millions of dollars for the dual purpose of supporting holding companies which controlled it in the Insull pyramid and of concealing profits in order to maintain rates which the jurors characterized as "unjust, unfair, and exorbitant."

"However," the report said, "on account of the weakness of Indiana laws governing public utilities and the lack of criminal penalties for violations of such laws, we have not voted many other indictments which we feel should be voted.

"We are convinced from our investigation that the Northern Indiana Public Service company is a very strong operating company and if it were not burdened with the task of supporting the holding companies and helping the weaker affiliated companies through manipulation of properties, funds and assets generally, that it would be able to furnish service to the consuming public, providing operations were under proper management, at rates 50 per cent lower than at present."

Loan Retirement Reviewed.

The manner in which the grand jurors charge that the stockholders of the operating company were defrauded was principally in the retirement of loans to the Midland Utilities company, which stood immediately above the operating company in the Insull financial setup. These loans, which reached a total of $6,700,000 in 1930, had been reduced to $970,480 at the beginning of 1933.

The reductions were accomplished, it is charged by the grand jurors, through the transfer of worthless or highly inflated assets from the holding company to the operating company.

As an instance the report cited a transfer, to apply on the debt, of 732 shares of stock in the Shore Line Shops, Inc., another Insull concern. The stock was accepted at par of $73,200, although it was a security junior to a $90,000 bond issue on three properties of the Shore Line Shops, and the properties, the jury charged, were worth only $60,000.

A similar instance, it was charged by the jury, was the transfer to the Northern Indiana Public Service company by the Midland Utilities company of some Hammond lots, at a valuation of $53,315. Frank R. Martin, Hammond assessor and a veteran real estate broker in the town, appraised these lots at only $2,943, Prosecutor Estill said yesterday.

Another incident, in which it is charged that Dell Plain and other officers of the company made large personal profits at the expense of the company, was described by the prosecutor. This was the construction, in 1925, of office buildings in Hammond and Michigan City.

Although the company's credit was good at the time, and it could have borrowed funds or floated bonds for construction of the buildings, Mr. Estill said, the construction was left to special building corporations, in which Dell Plain, other company officers, and prominent citizens of the two towns were stockholders.

Charges 8 Per Cent Dividends.

Rentals were fixed at conferences of directors of the utility company and building companies, who were in some cases the same individuals, the prosecutor said. These rentals were sufficient, Mr. Estill charged, to pay 8 per cent dividends to the building's stockholders. Then, at the end of three years, he said, the utility company bought the stock of the building companies, paying twice the amount invested by the stockholders.

Prosecutor Estill said that he would take action at once to get an appraisal of the properties of the Northern Indiana Public Service company, for the purpose of gaining a reduction of its rates to the public. The company serves 216 Indiana towns and cities.

Prosecutor Estill has had the coöperation of the federal government and its agents in the investigation which resulted in the indictment, and he will seek this coöperation and expects to get it in the rate investigation, he said. The United States Supreme court, he pointed out, has held that the proper basic for utility rate fixing is the reproduction costs of those properties of a company which are used and useful in its business, plus a profit of between 7 and 8 per cent.

Jurors Demand Rate Inquiry.

Such a rate investigation was one of the things recommended by the grand jurors. They also urged that the legislature amend Indiana laws governing utility companies to make possible prosecution of some of the offenses for which the jurors said they could find no ground for indictment in present statutes.

Another recommendation was that stricter supervision be made of sales of securities, including the use of the proceeds of such sales.

UNION BUSINESS AGENT ARRESTED AS TNT PLOTTER

Lloyd Little, business agent of local 150 of the Hoisting Engineers' union, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with participating in a conspiracy to extort $250,000 from Chicago coal dealers. He was released after he had posted bail of $2,500 with Judge Jay A. Schiller in the Felony court.

Little is the tenth man to be seized on the warrants issued in connection with the grand jury investigation of the Trucking and Transportation exchange, a now defunct organization, by which hoodlums extorted $500,000 yearly from Chicago business men.

The grand jury yesterday continued to hear the testimony of coal dealers and contractors said to have paid tribute to the organization. Indictments are expected to be returned before the first of the year.

WIDOW OF CAPT. POLK DIES AT 92.

POLICEMAN DIES IN BATTLE WITH ESCAPED FELON

Convict Is Captured After Gun Fight.

gan City [Ind.] prison, and have since terrorized Chicago, telegraphed Chicago police information on which a raid was made on an apartment at 115 North Parkside avenue. The apartment, which had been rented two weeks ago by men who gave their names as H. Ellis and C. Nehr, was not occupied.

Mrs. B. W. Houghton, manager of the building, was shown pictures of all the convicts not yet recaptured, and also was shown a picture of Shouse, who was taken prisoner in Paris, Ill. She said she could not identify any of the men.

Many Hiding Places Here.

Supervising Captain John Stege, who has been placed in charge of the search here for the Indiana bandits, said they had hundreds of hiding places in Chicago, due to the fact that more than 300 convicts paroled from the Michigan City prison live here. Members of the Indiana gang, which is headed by John Dillinger, keep moving, seldom living in an apartment more than one week, Stege said.

In every instance, he said, they have had the help of Chicago residents in obtaining apartments, and have quickly found women companions.

In the Felony court Mrs. Elaine Dent Sullivan Burton De Kant, who was with John Hamilton, one of the Indiana felons, when Hamilton killed Police Sergt. William Shanley last Thursday, was arraigned yesterday as an accessory to the murder. She trembled as she stood before Municipal Judge Jay A. Schiller and heard her attorney, Reuel H. Grunewald, plead in vain for her liberty.

She is 24, red haired, and a former waitress. She protested she did not know Hamilton was an escaped convict, and she sobbed: "I didn't know he was a gunman."

Case Continued to Jan. 10.

Assistant State's Attorney John Phillips asked for a high bond pending the trial of Mrs. De Kant's case, which was continued until Jan. 10. Judge Schiller asked about the number of names she has and which, according to the police, are aliases.

"She has been married three times," her attorney explained.

In an anteroom, after Judge Schiller had fixed her bail at $15,000, Mrs. De Kant said she met Hamilton about a month ago and took him to the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Dent, 3847 North Kedvale avenue, for Thanksgiving dinner.

"If I ever get out and he tries to get in touch with me, I'll put the button on him" [inform the police], she said. "What a surprise it was to me that he should turn out this way. Why, I never heard him say 'damn.' And was he clean? He'd take two baths a day. I'm accustomed to meeting gentlemen, and I thought he was one."

Mrs. De Kant's attorney said she would be unable to obtain bail and would have to stay in jail pending trial. He said her defense would be that she did not know Hamilton was a fugitive from justice and that she had no part in the killing of Sergt. Shanley.

As the police continued their hunt yesterday for the bandits who looted the vault of the closed Union Trust and Savings bank at 3900 West North avenue last week they took fingerprints of the holders of the deposit boxes. This was done in order to eliminate these people from the search for the bandits.

Doctor Cited for Contempt for $1,068 Alimony Debt

After Attorney Jerome Strauss had charged that Dr. Charles O. Eye, 4175 Irving Park boulevard, was $1,068 in arrears on alimony payments to Mrs. Gladys Esther Eye of Mundelein, who divorced him in 1930, Judge Rudolph F. Desort yesterday ordered the physician to show cause today why he should not go to jail for contempt of court. A month ago, John Dillinger, bank robber and escaped Indiana convict, shot his way out of a police trap after leaving Dr. Eye's office, where he had gone under an assumed name for treatment.

PRESIDENT ASKS EXTENSION FOR HIS OWN CODE

Cites Blanket Pact with Employers.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today invited all employs who have not become regimented under a general NRA code to extend their adherence to the President's reemployment agreement for another four months.

The agreement, in effect since Aug. 1, expires on Dec. 31. Under an executive order issued today by the President any employer may renew his pledge for a period extending until April 30, 1934.

It will not be necessary, however, for employer to sign a formal renewal, for the President provided that any employer who continues to display the NRA's Blue Eagle after the first of the year thus automatically will manifest his acceptance of the agreement for the new period.

May Remove Blue Eagle.

If any employer desires to be released from the provisions of the agreement, it was pointed out, he may simply remove the Blue Eagle from display. But if the employer is a unit in any industry for which a regular code has already been approved, he is not affected in any manner by the lapse or renewal of the NRA, and must continue adherence to the code. Compliance with the code, when certified to postmasters or other local NRA units, entitles such an employer to continue displaying the Blue Eagle.

In a statement accompanying his executive order the President pointed out that permanent codes have been approved which cover 70 per cent of the workers who are eventually to be brought under codes, so that the renewal of the NRA will affect not more than 30 per cent.

Statement by President.

"In the midst of winter and with many persons out of work," the President declared, "it is essential that the new year should not bring with it any letdown in the recovery program in the trades and industries which at that time have not come under approved codes and to which, therefore, only the President's reemployment agreement applies.

"I am, therefore, inviting every employer in those trades and industries to join with me in an extension of the President's reemployment agreement for four months. By that time it is expected that the process of code making will have been virtually completed.

"I urge all employers in trades and industries not covered by codes to cooperate by continuing to maintain higher wages and shorter hours. The need for their help is still great.

May Continue Eagle.

"Employers joining with me in this extension of the President's reemployment agreement may continue to display the Blue Eagle as a symbol of their coöperation, and those few employers who have not heretofore signed the agreement may sign it as extended and upon delivering a signed certificate of compliance to the postoffice may obtain a Blue Eagle.

"Display of the Blue Eagle on or after Jan. 1, 1934, by an employer whose business is not entirely covered by an approved code will be treated as an acceptance of the extension of the President's reemployment agreement and a representation that he is complying with it for that part of his business not covered by approved codes."

Warns of Penalties.

It was indicated in the President's executive order that employers who continue to display the Blue Eagle, but who no longer, after Jan. 1, adhere to the terms of the expired agreement, would be prosecuted for an unlawful display of the federal insignia. Some lawyers confessed themselves puzzled about the legality of the blanket extension.

The anxiety of the President in wanting no letdown in employment over the winter months reflected the announcement by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins yesterday that between October and November 287,000 workers had rejoined the total of the unemployed.

First Break Since March.

Although it was the first month since last March in which the employment rate showed a decrease, the drop was larger than in any previous year for a decade past, except in 1929, when the drop was at the same rate of 3.5 per cent. There is some feeling in the administration, however, borne out by preliminary statistics, that in the last three weeks business has picked up again, and there is hope expressed that the next month's employment figures may be more encouraging. It was learned today that the carloadings report for the current week will show a substantial increase, which is counter to the seasonal trend.

President Roosevelt said progress was being made in the selection of 48 state directors of the National Emergency Council. These directors will enjoy great power in their states, since they will be the direct representatives and spokesmen for the administration on practically all local applications of the emergency recovery laws.

Movers Lose Blue Eagle.

Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson today took a Blue Eagle from the J. J. Martin company, furniture movers of West Roxbury, Mass., whose owners had publicly asserted, "no union or union men will be tolerated in our business." The action of the NRA administrator was the first case in which an employer had lost his Blue Eagle because of alleged violation of section 7-A, the labor section of the recovery act.

Five restaurants in scattered parts of the country and a Lewisburg, Pa., junk dealer also lost their Blue Eagles for other violations of the President's agreement.

TALK OF FORCING $270,000,000 REVENUE BILL ON CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A disposition to override administration opposition and force their $270,000,000 revenue bill through the house at the January session of congress was manifested today by members of the house ways and means committee.

The recommendations of Acting Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, it has been estimated, would scale the revenues down to about $100,000,000.

The provisions drawn by the committee would tighten the administrative provisions of the income tax laws to prevent avoidance of tax.

In the face of protests by scores of witnesses, the committee is preparing to end its hearings on the general revenue measure and turn its attention on Friday to formulating the new liquor tax bill.

President Roosevelt has informed Democratic leaders the administration desires early action on the liquor tax bill to let the treasury get the benefit of a higher rate as quickly as possible.

SEC'Y PERKINS SEES BRIGHTER YEAR FOR LABOR

Speaks to Railroad Workers' Chiefs.

In the declining days of the old year Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins looks forward to a new year of greater security, leisure, and income for the wage earners of the country. This outlook was revealed last night in an address before the annual banquet of the Railway Labor Executives' association in the Palmer house.

She advocated a ten point program to improve the conditions of labor: permanent limitation of hours of labor, prohibition of child labor, minimum wages, betterment of working conditions, provision for aged workers, unemployment reserves, adequate workmen's compensation laws, free public employment exchanges, improved administration of labor laws, and steps to insure the permanence of improved labor conditions.

General adoption of these points is under way, she said, and will aid all wage earners and be of real value to employers. She predicted that the vast internal market would be revived by increasing the purchasing power of the masses.

Seasonal Drop in Employment.

Since March millions have been put to work and the purchasing power has been increased by three billion dollars, she said. In November there was a seasonal drop in employment, which may continue in December and January, but a rise is certain early in 1934, she asserted.

Of the railroads Miss Perkins said: "Those who have studied the problem believe that if the roads improve their service in competition with other forms of transportation they will work their way out of their difficulties as economic conditions improve. Under the recovery program the railroads will benefit by carrying more freight and passengers with a resultant increase in revenues and employment."

Miss Perkins, who wore a black lace gown, urged unity of action in meeting the problems of depression.

Immediately after her address Miss Perkins took a train for Washington. She was in the city only a few hours after her arrival at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Urges Government Financing.

A scaling down of capital obligations of railroads and governmental financing without profit of all needed credit was urged by George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. Only the drain of a topheavy financial structure prevents railroads from properly supporting employés, he said.

A. F. Whitney, chairman of the railway labor executives' association and president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, made a plea for shorter hours and higher wages. Unless these are adopted, he said, the day will come when the majority of the American people will be dependent on a dole or charity.

Officials of the 21 railroad unions will meet today in conferences to adopt a legislative program embodying the demand for shorter hours, retirement pensions, and other legislation sought by the workers. The conferences were to have been held yesterday, but were postponed because the short duration of Miss Perkins' visit necessitated the holding of the banquet at an earlier hour than had been planned.

FASCIST SYSTEM FOR POLAND IS FORECAST BY PARTY SPOKESMAN

WARSAW, Poland, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Abandonment of the parliamentary system in Poland and inauguration of a sort of Fascism was foreshadowed today in a statement by a member of the government party who submitted to the sejm [parliament] a proposal for amending the constitution. The party member, former minister of Justice Stanislaw Car, said:

"The government party has decided to abandon the parliamentary system which was born in England but which had degenerated in other countries prior to Marshal Pilsudski's coup. That the British system is not good for Poland is evident from the fact that once during an election there were thirty-five different parties on the slate."

The government party previously had approved a plan for amending the constitution giving the president more power. Under their plan, voting in the Polish senate would be restricted to a body of "elite."

Britain to Give $7,500,000 a Year for Indian Defense

LONDON, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The intention of the British government to contribute $7,500,000 annually to Indian defense was announced by Prime Minister MacDonald in the house of commons this evening. This is in line with the recommendations of a judicial advisory tribunal which has completed its report on investigation of the long controversy between the British and Indian governments over the cost of raising and training British troops for service in India.

Two gunmen took $35 in a robbery early yesterday of a garage at 0825 Kenwood avenue, and then forced the manager, Harold Asherait, to drive them in his car to 87th street and Paxton avenue, where they forced him to the street and drove away.

FLAMES WRECK HIGH SCHOOL IN CALUMET CITY

Fire last night wrecked the interior of the Thornton Fractional Township High school at 154th and Kankakee streets in Calumet City. The loss was estimated at $800,000.

The school, a two story brick structure 350 feet long and 125 feet wide, is about five blocks from the business section of Calumet City. Its enrollment is 875 pupils, but none of them was in the building when it burned.

Fire Starts on Second Floor.

It was believed that the fire started from spontaneous combustion in the manual training room on the second floor, where CWA workers, who had been washing and painting the walls, had left paint brushes, waste, and other material.

Constantine Kobski, a school janitor and the only person in the building, gave the alarm. By the time firemen arrived, however, the roof was afire. The names were rained by a brisk west wind.

The fire departments of five cities, including Chicago, were asked for help. Chicago sent three companies, Harvey and Hammond two each, and Dolton and Lansing one each. Despite their efforts the building could not be saved.

Insurance Covers Building.

Victor Lockhart, principal of the school, said the building was insured for its full value, but that the insurance did not cover the full worth of its contents.

The school was erected in 1923 when the pupils in Thornton township became too numerous to be accommodated in the Thornton Township High school in Harvey. The school in Calumet City was named the Thornton Fractional Township High school to distinguish it from the institution in Harvey.

A special meeting of the burned high school's board will be called today to arrange for renting classrooms in elementary schools for the high school pupils.

SCHOOL BOARD'S WARRANTS HELD TO 25 MILLIONS

Final Steps Taken to Pay 14,000 Teachers.

Final steps for the advance of $1,860,000 by the loop banking syndicate for the school pay day were taken yesterday by the board of education. The board adopted a resolution limiting the issuance of 1932 educational fund tax anticipation warrants to a total of $25,073,128 at the request of the banks.

Through a previous agreement with the banks the board had limited its issuance of 1932 warrants to 60 per cent of the tax levy, instead of to 75 per cent as authorized by statute.

Supersedes Former Action.

The new resolution superseded the former action in order to allow the banks to purchase approximately $1,200,000 worth of 1932 school warrants from the city's funds. With this purchase there will be outstanding $19,454,000 worth of these securities in the hands of the public. The remaining $5,619,128 in school warrants held in the city treasury will not be sold to the public, according to a second clause in the resolution.

The banks will take both 1932 and 1933 warrants to a total of $1,860,000 to provide the funds for the pay roll. The school board will deposit a like amount of 1933 educational warrants in the city's aggregate of funds.

Word from Banks Awaited.

James B. McCahey, president of the school board, said he was awaiting word from the banks that the cash had been actually deposited with the city treasurer, ex-officio treasurer of the board. When the word is received the checks for the 14,000 teachers and 4,000 other school employés will be placed in the mails at once.

It appeared last night that the envelopes containing the checks for the workers' services during the first two weeks of April would not be mailed out until this afternoon.

Ten of the eleven members of the board voted for the resolution demanded by the banks, while Mrs. W. S. Hefferan passed her vote. Her contention that the board was "making concessions to the bankers" precipitated a heated debate.

Former Limit Extended.

"We are not tying ourselves up," asserted McCahey. "The banks have liberalized the issuance of warrants beyond the former limit to bring about this pay day."

"I am going to pass my vote," declared Mrs. Hefferan. "I think the teachers could have been paid without making concessions to the bankers. Of course I'm a woman and you gentlemen are so much smarter than I am. I'm objecting to being called upon to make a snap judgment."

"Well, if a majority of the board members passed their vote," retorted Trustee Joseph P. Savage, "the teachers would not be paid."

Trustee Ernst Buehler declared there was nothing in the resolution that hadn't been conceded by the board in the past.

Then Trustee Savage launched into an attack on critics of the board, "outsiders who think they know more about running the school board than we do."

Says Mayor Coöperated.

"We never would have obtained this money," declared Trustee Savage, "if it hadn't been for the coöperation of Mayor Kelly. He is releasing warrants held in the city treasury to help out the school board. And I know personally that the president of this board has been spending every day conferring with bankers and public officials in order to bring about the pay day."

In voting for the resolution Trustee Irwin Walker declared the banks in Chicago and throughout the country had gone through a cleansing process and were necessarily determining on the soundness of a public institution before lending money to it.

"The banks have more than filled their obligation to us," said McCahey, "and have tendered their confidence in the board by giving us the money. I know their service will be appreciated by the teachers and other employés."

The board then adjourned until 2 o'clock today in order to be ready for action should any new obstacle appear in the way of the pay day.

The city council adopted unanimously a resolution introduced by Ald. Oscar Nelson [48th] requesting that the proposed $50 state license on retail liquor dealers, plus the 2 cent gallonage tax on beer, be paid to the counties for the sole purpose of paying teachers' salaries. The tax regulations are pending before the legislature.

CHRISTMAS CROSSES TO SHINE OUT FROM BUILDINGS IN LOOP

Christmas crosses of light are to shine from loop buildings on Christmas eve and Christmas night as the result of an appeal made yesterday by George W. Rossetter, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Managers of many of the larger stores have agreed to produce the effect of huge crosses by turning on lights in certain of their offices and darkening other rooms.

The Building Managers' association, the State Street council, and the North Michigan Avenue association have agreed to coöperate in this form of illumination.

C. E. Olin, manager of the Palmolive building, which on Christmas eve, 1930, was the first to display the Christmas cross, said two crosses will be shown on the building from sundown to midnight on both Christmas eve and Christmas night. The cross on the south side will cover 28 floors, measuring 336 feet in height and 160 feet in width. The north cross will be 23 floors high.

INSURANCE MEN CALLED IN AUTO THEFT INQUIRY

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.
Automobiles stolen, 68; recovered, 67; stripped, 13 (from police records for the twenty-four hours ending at midnight Tuesday).

Judge John Gutknecht of the Boys' court yesterday launched an investigation of the alleged practice of automobile insurance companies selling recovered cars to dealers who equip them with new parts from automobiles stolen for that purpose. He ordered officials of several automobile insurance companies to appear in his court at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Judge Gutknecht acted after questioning Herbert Ellingham, 39 years old, of 517 West 75th street. Ellingham said he purchased 75 cars from insurance companies and reëquipped them. He said when he purchased cars which he suspected were stolen he would switch the parts from one car to another and be able to give a good bill of sale based on his purchase of a wrecked, stripped or disabled car from an insurance company.

Judge Gutknecht declared he believed there was a police and political connection with fences who engage boys to steal and strip cars, selling the accessories.

Northwestern Co-ed Fined on a Traffic Charge

Miss Caroline Roberts, 20 years old, a Northwestern university sophomore and daughter of John M. Roberts, president of the Central Scientific company, 460 East Ohio street, was fined $4 yesterday in the Evanston Municipal court by Justice James M. Corcoran. She was charged with failure to give a signal as she drove her automobile away from a curb, resulting in a collision with another car.

FAVORS REVISION OF THE TEACHERS' PENSION SYSTEM

D. F. Campbell Urges New Annuity Plan.

Placing of the Chicago school teachers' pension system on the allocation-reserve basis to supplant the present stipulated annuity plan was urged yesterday by Donald F. Campbell, authority on pension law and actuary of a number of large pension systems of public employés.

All the other pension bases in the city, including those of city and county employés, are on the allocation-reserve basis. Under this plan the pension money reserves are allocated and built up for each employé from year to year while he is in service. These funds, which are invested in 4 per cent municipal bonds, are accumulated from pension taxes and from systematic deductions of the salaries of the participating employés.

Safeguards Annuities.

This latter system is considered more actuarially sound in that it more precisely safeguards the payment of annuities in future years. The amount of annuity paid to retired employés is computed on the basis of the salary last earned, the length of service, and age.

In the teachers' stipulated annuity system receipts are all thrown into one pot from which are paid all benefits and expenses without regard to the future obligations being accumulated against the fund. Pension payments do not depend upon salary or age, and the table of expectancy in life is not considered as to the future adequacy of the fund.

In his report Mr. Campbell emphasized that in the event of a change by the teachers of their pension plan, the amounts of pensions now being paid and obligated should not be altered. A change to the allocation-reserve system, he said, should be a gradual one, commencing with new teachers.

Disproportionate Benefits.

"Teachers who retire upon completion of 25 years of service," said Mr. Campbell, "receive pensions entirely out of line with the pensions of those who have devoted their entire working life to the service. The retirement of teachers at early ages, under the present system, throws a much heavier burden on the fund than would accrue if the pensions of such teachers were graded on an increase in pension for each year of service built up on a uniform plan from the beginning of service and graded as to expectation of life upon retirement of pension."

He pointed out that an ultimate result would make unnecessary the compulsory and voluntary act which compels the payment of a $1,500 annual retirement annuity to teachers past 70 years of age in addition to the pension fund annuity which now ranges between $800 and $1,000 a year. The retirement annuity of $1,500 comes out of the teachers' salary fund. The total of these compulsory annuities paid out in 1926 was $87,425. For 1933 the figure is $375,000 for 740 retired teachers, a sum which otherwise could have been used to pay salaries.

Under the present pension system the teachers contribute from their salaries into their pension fund, which now pays the $1,000 maximum annuity, $4.50 a month during the first four years of service, $6 for the second four years, $7.50 for the third four years, and $10 thereafter. Pension taxes make up the balance of the fund. The 1933 tax levy for this purpose was $1,314,131.

CARDINAL PLAYS SANTA CLAUS TO 88 NEEDY BOYS

Many Groups Prepare Parties for Poor.

Thousands of Chicago's needy, both children and grownups, are being entertained at parties and given Christmas presents this week.

Yesterday Cardinal Mundelein filled the rôle of Santa Claus to 88 boys from poor families. They were taken to a loop store by the Rev. Patrick Hayes and the Rev. John O'Mara of Holy Name cathedral and there outfitted with new clothes. Twelve more will receive new outfits today.

This is the fourth successive year that Cardinal Mundelein has followed this practice. The boys are selected from 50 of the poorer city parishes by the parish pastors. They range in age from 7 to about 14 years.

D. A. R. to Give Party.

The Chicago chapter of the D. A. R. will give a Christmas party for the Children of the American Revolution this afternoon in the Stevens hotel. Members of the Mary Virginia Ellet Cabell society will present a typical D. A. R. meeting and other children will take part in a Christmas sketch and musical program.

Almost the entire company of "Lady Be Nice," musical revue at the Blackstone theater, will give an afternoon show today for disabled veterans in Hines hospital. Among the performers will be Frances White, Sibyl Bowan, the Royce sisters, De Haven and Nice, a chorus of dancing girls, Ruth Pryor, Leonora Padilla, and Jose Castro.

Tomorrow night Junior League girls will assist Santa Claus in distributing gifts to 1,000 needy children from the city settlements. The distribution will take place after a dinner for the children in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. The occasion is the children's Christmas benefit for Episcopal church social service institutions under the sponsorship of the Church club of Chicago.

Goodwill Industries Party.

The handicapped employés at the Goodwill Industries will be given a Christmas party at 4 p. m. tomorrow at 1341 Congress street under the direction of the advisory board of the Women's Organization for Goodwill. Gifts will be distributed.

The Volunteers of America will entertain poor children tomorrow evening in the headquarter's auditorium at 2841 Washington boulevard. The next morning the organization will distribute approximately 1,000 Christmas baskets to needy people.

The Women's Faculty club of Northwestern university medical school will serve Christmas dinners to 600 children on Saturday in Thorne hall on the McKinlock campus, it was announced by Mrs. Loyal Davis, president of the club. The children, who are from all sections of the city, are either under treatment by the medical school's free clinic or have been treated there during the last year.

Children to Sing Carols.

Fifty children from the Civic Music children's classes will gather around a Christmas tree in the lobby of the Stevens hotel Saturday afternoon to sing carols. Toys and refreshments will be given to the children at a party to be held later by the hotel management in the Children's Fairyland of the hotel.

Cigarets, tobacco, razors, handkerchiefs and other gifts will be distributed among the men in municipal shelters Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at a party given by the city bureau of public welfare. A party for unemployed women will be given at the same time in the women's municipal home, 5120 South Park way.

Children of the St. Elizabeth school, 41st street and Wabash avenue, were guests yesterday at a Christmas gift party given in the school by Our Lady of Victory council of the Ladies of Isabella.

SELL 225 CLUB FURNISHINGS AT AUCTION TODAY

An auction of the furnishings of the luxurious 225 club, which was owned by Edgar B. Lebensberger, who shot and killed himself after he had been indicted in federal court for disposing of stolen bonds, will be held in the club building at 225 East Superior street beginning at 2 p. m. today.

Jack Rubens, chief investigator for the public administrator's office, said that furnishings cost $45,000, but that it was doubtful if more than $5,000 would be received from the sale, which was ordered by Judge O'Connell of the Probate court.

Rubens is seeking to get permission from the federal government to sell Lebensberger's stock of liquors, once valued at $25,000. The beverages were seized by federal agents and locked in a warehouse.

THE DAVIS COMPANY

LAD'S FORTUNE, 125 PENNIES, TO GOOD FELLOWS

Edward Armour, 4, Says He Earned Money.

Leaving his entire fortune of 125 pennies, tied up in a paper sack, Chicago's youngest philanthropist walked out of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Public Service office at 1 South Dearborn street last Saturday afternoon a late recruit to the happy army of Good Fellows who on Christmas morning will take baskets of food and toys to less fortunate families of this city.

The little lad, Edward K. Armour, 4 years old, said he had earned the money carrying wood for his parents and neighbors. He was accompanied to the bureau by his father and grandmother, who also gave $2 to the Good Fellow fund. The three would not give their address.

Other Junior Good Fellows.

Master Armour leads the procession of junior Good Fellows in Chicago. Other juvenile contributors are a group of eight children, seven girls and one boy, ranging in age from 4 to 10 years, known as the Neighborhood club. The members are Ruth Hauser, Terese Hewson, Nona Scholz, Nancy Lou Larson, Evelyn Filson, Dorothy Paethe, Roberta Filson, and Teddy Filson. Another youthful organization, the Kappa Gama, sends in one dollar. Rosemary Lynch, 10 years old, 5537½ Winthrop avenue, is the president, and the members are Lois Kroeschall, Francis Wager, Dorthy Bell, Ruth Newsome, Nance Haggerty, and Connie Carrier.

The letter was written on stationery which featured cartoons of Herby and Smitty, two characters in the comic strip, Smitty, which appears daily in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Only Three Days Left.

Although only three more days are left in which one may purchase the supplies for the basket you can quickly become a Good Fellow by calling Superior 0100, or visit in person the Good Fellow bureau at THE TRIBUNE Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street. Today is the last day for your written application. The coupon printed in today's issue will not appear again during the 1933 Good Fellow campaign. The Good Fellow bureau will be open Sunday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

MOST DENSE FOG WITHIN MEMORY COVERS ENGLAND

LONDON, Dec. 20.—(AP)—England approached Christmas week today under the pall of the most widespread fog of the season. The heavy mist enveloped virtually the whole country, in some sections of which it was called the densest within memory. Three persons thus far have been reported killed in fog collisions.

One of the densest spots was Manchester, where at midday the city was as dark as night. At Liverpool, all Merseyside was badly affected. Shipping along the English channel was seriously hampered. At Hull inspectors walked ahead of street cars and warned other traffic. Air traffic was paralyzed. Only one continental airliner was able to leave Croydon airdrome; no planes arrived.

The S. S. Fratton, bound for Southampton from the Island of Jersey, grounded today on a rock ledge at the Isle of Wight. A tug stood by and the Fratton, with 10 passengers, was refloated at high tide shortly after midday. The same fog sent the Norwegian steamer Viator, bound from Palermo to Southampton, ashore at Calshot.

WOMAN'S CLUB GIVES $1,000 TO CHARITY FUND

The Chicago Woman's club yesterday day contributed $1,000 to the $4,000,000 Community fund for Allied Chicago Charities. This, with $974 in other pledges, increased the total collected by the women's division of the fund to $68,000. The total pledged to all divisions of the fund amounted to $2,589,739.

The largest listed pledge yesterday was $13,985, from employés of the Chicago Rapid Transit company. The Corn Products Refining company contributed $2,500, and the employés of the United Light and Power company pledged $1,948, the company adding $1,000. Employés of the Chicago Board of Trade pledged $1,149.

R. Douglas Stuart, president of the fund, announced that Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, co-chairman of the women's division, had been appointed to the executive committee of the fund.

DIES OF HEART DISEASE.

Plan to Carry Good Fellow Baskets

Three garages, members of the United States Garage association, each will be Good Fellows to a needy family living in their locality. They are the Beaver garage, 1417 Howard street; the Chain garage, 1440 North Clark street, and the Hollywood Park garage, 5839 North Kedzie avenue. Earle B. Beaver, manager of the Beaver garage and president of the association, said he hoped others of the organization would join this movement.

Two dozen sets of aluminum toy dishes, donated by the Aluminum Manufacturing company, Conway building, will be placed in Good Fellow baskets to be delivered by THE TRIBUNE reporters who will themselves take the baskets Sunday afternoon.

A check for $40.02, proceeds of a bowling match between the Pabst Blue Ribbon bowling squad and a team composed of Coach George Halas and members of the Chicago Bears professional football team, has been received at the Good Fellow bureau.

Paul Magnuson, president of the Employes Good Fellow club of the Insurance Company of North America, will speak over W-G-N tonight at 9:15 o'clock. The musical program at that time will feature the W-G-N Concert orchestra and Tom, Dick and Harry, singing trio, with their arranger, Carl Hoefle. The Employes Good Fellow club has been giving baskets of food and toys to the less fortunate for thirteen years.

NIGHT SHOPPERS JAM STORES ON STATE STREET

Buyers in Holiday Mood Despite Crush.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

A huge night shopping crowd jammed State street stores last evening in the final rush to complete Christmas buying. At 8 o'clock, when the stores closed, the customers swarming into the streets resembled in numbers those of a busy Saturday afternoon.

The seven blocks of State street, considered by the State street council the most concentrated retail district in the world, was converted into a vast Christmas fair with the coming of nightfall. Down the street festive with huge metallic wreaths and old-world lanterns, the throngs passed in holiday mood.

Children See Santa.

Parents bringing their children downtown for a glimpse of the toy departments paused to watch the brightly lighted windows along the street and to laugh with the small ones at the animated Mother Goose characters performing their antics. The toy departments themselves took on a carnival air with merry-go-rounds and a live wooden soldier 7 feet tall, with Santa Claus and Punch and Judy theaters and the magical army of toys.

All types of stores were doing a rushing business. Shoe stores were filled with customers. Lingerie shops were crowded. Men's clothing stores, drug stores, the five and ten cent stores, shops in the Palmer house arcade, small dress shops, all were reaping the harvest of the night time shopping fiesta.

In the big department stores every floor was filled, some crowded until one was compelled to elbow his way. Gloves, hosiery, scarfs, cocktail shakers, men's wear, women's wear, children's wear—fathers and mothers deeply engrossed in deciding the momentous question, whether to get Susie the red checked dress or the blue one, or the doll with yellow curls or straight black hair.

Toy Floors Popular.

The families as a whole seemed to collect on the toy floors, however. In one store a long line of youngsters waited to tell Santa Claus what they wished, while the parents stood back of a railing.

"Now you go up and shake hands with Santa and tell him your name is Joyce and what you want for Christmas," coached one fond father. Joyce was able to shake hands with Santa and to tell in a weak voice her name, but the words stuck there. The great moment was too much.

Five year old Georgie strode forward manfully, but when he approached the jolly saint his shoulders sagged. He turned a quivering lip, searching for his mother. "Mother," he wailed, "I forgot what you told me to ask Santa Claus for?"

The stores will remain open at night the rest of the week.

SALE OF TURKEYS AND CHRISTMAS TREES IS BRISK

Two essential items in the Christmas program—turkeys and evergreen trees—were finding many thousands of buyers yesterday, according to merchants. Turkeys are retailing from 23 to 29 cents. Some grades are as low as 18 and 19 cents. The prices run about a cent a pound higher than they were at Thanksgiving time, when they were at the lowest levels in many years.

Christmas trees, however, are higher than at this time a year ago. Supplies are lighter, merchants report, although the trees are coming to Chicago from a wider area than in many years before. Some trees come from New England, and as far west as Montana. Wholesale prices are about 45 per cent higher than last year, with retail prices varying widely.

HURT WHEN TRUCK OVERTURNS.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—William T. Wilson, Evansville, driver for the Deep Rock Oil company, is in St. Mary's hospital with a fractured skull received in an accident yesterday when his small service truck overturned on the lower Mount Vernon road.

CITY LOSES AGAIN IN JUDGES' FIGHT ON REDUCED PAY

Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan yesterday overruled a demurrer filed by the city challenging his jurisdiction in the mandatory injunction suit brought by Municipal Judge John H. Lyle against the city.

The ruling was the second victory for the municipal judges in their efforts to escape the 78 day pay cut which applies to all other city officials and employés. The first was an injunction entered last summer by Judge Peter H. Schwaba in the Superior court, restraining the city from making pro-rata deductions from each pay check of the judges.

The present suit is for an injunction ordering the city to include appropriations for the judges' pay from Oct. 15 to the end of this year in salary appropriations for the court for 1934. Since the city was prevented from making pay cuts, the regular appropriation for judges' salaries ran out Oct. 15.

The city was given five days to answer Judge Lyle's suit.

SOVIET AGENTS PLAN EXHIBIT AT FAIR NEXT YEAR

Confer with Rufus Dawes on Building.

Three representatives of the Russian government yesterday conferred with President Rufus C. Dawes of A Century of Progress as the first step in negotiations for an exhibit and concession to be built by the U. S. S. R. at the 1934 exposition.

The representatives were introduced to President Dawes by Ralph Budd, president of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy railroad. They are P. B. Belsky, Chicago representative of Intourist, Inc., travel bureau operated by the soviet government; G. A. Melamed, New York representative of the travel bureau, and W. A. Kurtz of Moscow, president of Intourist.

Large Building Planned.

Mr. Kurtz, who is in charge of the negotiations for the Fair exhibit, was enthusiastic over the plans of the Russian government to build a three or four story building showing the activities of Russia under the soviet régime. He said the exhibit would be strictly a government project.

The representatives obtained a plot of the Fair grounds, pictures of other government exhibits, and a general prospectus of the Exposition. These are to be sent to Russia and negotiations are expected to be concluded shortly. No estimate as to the proposed cost of the exhibit was made.

Propaganda Banned.

While no mention was made of the matter at yesterday's meeting it previously had been pointed out that Russia would be expected to sign a clause similar to that in the contracts of other exhibiting countries. This clause requires the exhibiting country to agree that no propaganda against the United States government be included in the exhibit.

Russia tried ten times to place an exhibit at the 1933 Fair, it was said yesterday, but was not included in the official invitations. The invitations were sent out by former President Hoover and were confined to governments with which the United States had diplomatic relations.

QUIT PRIVATE JOBS; GET MORE PAY WITH CWA

Columbus, O., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Ohio's CWA administration today crossed broadaxes with Washington on a question involving a pay differential of a dime or so.

Adjt. Gen. Frank D. Henderson, state administrator, said he does not like the way Harry L. Hopkins, national administrator, does business.

Hopkins, at Washington, was on record as saying if certain charges involving the employment of men on CWA projects were true, it would warrant his cutting down the quota in Toledo at once.

The argument was initiated two days ago when the CWA complaints committee at Toledo announced it had received reports of men quitting their jobs in private industry—where they were making from 38 to 40 cents an hour—and taking jobs on CWA projects at the prescribed rate of 50 cents an hour.

Another arm of the federal government's recovery administration, the NRA, figured in the improglio inasmuch as the firms which, said the complaint committee, reported desertions from their laboring ranks were paying the code rates fixed for their industries.

Today Henderson called for a showdown in a tartly worded telegram to his national chief, asking for rulings on specific points at issue.

REACH ACCORD ON CLEANING INDUSTRY CODE

Prices Cut; 20 Per Cent Under Present Rates.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Hugh S. Johnson announced tonight that difficulties in the cleaning and dyeing industry had been settled and made public a new schedule of prices.

The NRA administrator also disclosed that special Blue Eagle insignia would be given cleaners who render services of a higher quality than the "cash and carry" operators.

The new schedules are about 20 per cent under the prevailing rates.

Johnson announced that a price study board had been created to keep tab on the operation and effect of the new schedules.

This board will be authorized to hold public hearings in any locality on petition of 50 per cent of the cleaners in the locality, to determine and recommend whether the schedules should be modified.

The new price list, effective Friday, supplants schedules approved Nov. 22 for a 30 day trial period.

Under the new schedules the minimum prices which can be charged for cleaning and pressing men's suits and women's plain dresses will be 50, 60, 70, and 75 cents, according to the trading area, instead of the now prevailing 65, 75, 85, and 95 cent rate.

Still Owner Grins Until He's Told of Gas Fraud

Steve Ostrowski, arrested when an explosion disclosed the presence of a still in his florish shop at 11912 South Michigan avenue, grinned yesterday when he faced Municipal Judge Leon Edelman. "You can't hurt me," said Steve. "There's no prohibition law now." He lost his smile, however, when attorneys for the gas company charged him with defrauding the company, through a pipe which passed gas around the meter for use under the still. He was fined $250 and sent to the Bridewell for three months.

Bodies Recovered

The bodies of John Pendl, 48 years old, Lake county deputy sheriff, and his son, Frank, 20 years old, who were drowned Tuesday night when they plunged through the thin ice of the Fox river six miles west of Antioch, were recovered yesterday. The Pendls were operating their home made ice boat when the tragedy occurred.

Mrs. Mary Pendl made a heroic effort to save her husband and son when she heard their cries for help as they struggled in the water several hundred feet from their home near the river bank Tuesday night. Seizing a long rope she approached them as closely as she dared and tossed the end of the rope to her husband.

Pendl pulled himself out of the water and then returned to aid his son. Under the weight of both the ice gave way again and both were plunged into the water.

The plane took off at 1:03 p. m. today for a second attack on the unofficial eight day women's mark. Carrying 175 gallons at the takeoff, and receiving about 100 gallons more late today, it was believed no further contact would be necessary until some time tomorrow.

Sandwiches, fruit, and coffee were taken up for lunch, and dinner was transferred during the afternoon contact.

The plane made two takeoffs today, the first at 10:42 a. m. They came down about an hour later for a motor adjustment, and returned to the air at 1:03 p. m.

U. S. ABOLISHES MILK PRICE CODE IN CHICAGO AREA

your department since the inception of the contract and license.

"Many cases of payments by distributors to producers of prices under that fixed in the contract and license have been filed with your department."

This was the second time the Pure Milk association has requested the cancellation, it was disclosed by Geyer. A similar notice was given the AAA on Oct. 19, but was not acknowledged by the federal agency, Geyer said. Instead, the Chicago milk companies were called in and an agreement reached to advance both the retail and farmers' prices for milk in November.

Wallace Denies Charges.

Answering Geyer yesterday, Secretary Wallace denied his charges and declared that "from Aug. 1 to Dec. 1 no evidence was presented to this department by you, your association or any one else justifying action for revocation of license because of failure to pay the farmer his price or because of purchases other than on the base and surplus plan, although several times requests were made orally to you and your counsel for such evidence."

Hearings on the milk code were held by the AAA in Chicago in November. Secretary Wallace, in his reply to Geyer, declared that at this hearing for the first time evidence was produced of one violation of the farm price provisions of the license, "but that violation was by a dairy whose license already had been revoked. To proceed against that dairy for failure to pay farmers their price would have required reopening of that case."

Secretary Wallace also pointed out that the Pure Milk association counsel had been opposed to such action and had asked that the attorney general file suit to enjoin the violator from continuing in business, a procedure which had already been discussed with the attorney general.

Sought by Association.

The agreement cancelled yesterday was originally sought by the milk association and a delegation of milk dealers headed by F. H. Kullman, vice president of the Bowman Dairy company, on May 16, the day President Roosevelt signed the farm adjustment act.

As a result the retail milk price was raised in May from 9 to 10 cents a quart, the farmers getting only a part of the increase. A second price boost from 10 to 11 cents a quart was made on Nov. 1 upon threats of a farmers' strike, and has resulted in decreased consumption of from 5 to 10 per cent since that time. The blanket license for all sellers of milk in the metropolitan area was issued by Secretary Wallace on Aug. 1.

There seemed to be no doubt last night in Washington that the AAA would drop all charges of milk code violations now pending against independent distributors in Chicago. Although under the law the farm administration still has power to prosecute the alleged violators, it was reported that no effort will be made to do so.

MILK GROUP CHIEF ASSAILS RADICAL MEMBERS OF AAA

Holman Accuses Faction of 'Sabotage.'

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Radical members of the agricultural adjustment administration were charged today with attempting to "sabotage" the farm coöperative movement because it obstructs their plan to scuttle the private profit system.

The charges were directed at the AAA by Charles W. Holman, secretary of the National Coöperative Milk Producers' association, in a vehement attack on the policies adopted by the farm administration with regard to relief for the dairy farmers of the country.

Assails "Social Controls."

"It is difficult to prove," Mr. Holman declared, "but we have every reason to believe that individuals under the secretary of agriculture, without his knowledge, have been sabotaging the coöperative movement, particularly the dairy coöperative movement. Coöperatives are founded upon a principle of voluntary working together as owners of private property, and as such these institutions stand in the way of those who desire to subjugate, even to the point of extermination, the profits of private industry by means of a vast and intricate system of 'social controls' operated from Washington."

The National Milk Producers' association, largest dairy coöperative in the country, likewise charged through Mr. Holman that Secretary Wallace's failure to proceed with the AAA butter buying program in accordance with an agreement with the nation's dairy interests was responsible for the recent collapse in butter prices. At the same time the dairy farmers sharply criticized the AAA for its slowness in drafting milk marketing agreements for various localities and for its failure to enforce those already in effect.

Wallace Pushes Plans.

Meanwhile, Secretary Wallace pushed forward plans for the development of a new national program for controlling the production of milk. Leaders of the dairy industry, including Mr. Holman, he announced tonight, have been asked to confer on Friday with officials of the AAA with a view to formulating a milk control plan.

"The basic difficulty facing the dairy industry is due to two factors," Secretary Wallace said. "The first is an increase in production, which since 1928 has been growing at a rate of 3 per cent per year. This increase has occurred simultaneously with the second factor, the disastrous decline in consumer purchasing power which came with the depression."

JURY WITHHOLDS APPROVAL OF COLORADO DAM

Committee Releases Report on River Project.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Agitation stirred by a Taxpayers' Protective association, which resulted in the current Los Angeles county grand jury investigation of the healthfulness of Colorado river water, today resulted in a report from the grand jury's special committee which may have important results.

The grand jury committee, with Mrs. Richard Smith as chairman, released a report which states that "many important facts have been learned," and declines to hand down the word of approval which was sought by backers of the Colorado river aqueduct enterprise.

Ask Public Quiz.

As a result of the action, some challengers of the $250,000,000 Colorado river aqueduct project said they would insist on public investigation of the entire problem.

Both the Boulder dam—government underwritten $150,000,000 project—and the Colorado river aqueduct, which is expected to convey water which has been made available by Boulder dam, may be involved in further threshing out of the matter.

First, challengers of the Colorado river aqueduct set up the contention that water contained a fluorine content so high that the water if brought to this area over 150 miles of desert and mountain, might be regarded as unhealthful once it was made available. Fluorine, it was asserted by a volunteer committee of investigation, was ruinous to teeth of growing children, and had other deleterious effects. It was this matter that the grand jury committee was first empowered to investigate.

Determine Content.

The report turned in by grand jurors today stated: "The investigation of the quality of Colorado river water, which is to be furnished to the people of Southern California in a few years at the cost to those same people of hundreds of millions of dollars, was undertaken with the view of developing all known facts in regard to the fluorine content of the water in question, and its possible reaction on the health or well being of our people.

"The very mention of Colorado river water brought information to the committee which was staggering in its content and proportions. The notability of the water to be supplied to this district for irrigation as well as domestic purposes became only one thin line of an investigation that the committee feels might very poorly be taken up by a succeeding grand jury."

PLAN NEW POLICY FOR DISTRIBUTION OF CWA MONEY

Separate Agency to Allot Jobs in Illinois.

A new policy for the distribution of federal easy money in Illinois under which the activities of the civil works administration will be completely severed from their present connection with the emergency relief fund organization probably will be announced in Washington today.

Howard O. Hunter, CWA field supervisor in six states, said yesterday that the advisability of such a change had been debated for a long time and that a more efficient and satisfactory method of accomplishing relief and reemployment apparently had been decided on in the national capital.

Only Available Clearing House.

No dissatisfaction, he added, had been expressed over the management of the CWA affairs through the relief forces in the state headed by Robert J. Dunham. He recalled that when the civil works administration gave imperative orders that 231,000 men be employed on projects in the state within a month the relief organizations were pressed into service as the only available clearing house. They made it possible, he said, to find projects on which all the CWA workers authorized could be employed.

"A good job was done," the supervisor asserted, "but relief is one thing and reemployment is another. It is neither fair nor wise to add all the troubles of the CWA permanently to those the relief organization already has with its own problems. It is my expectation that the CWA will set up its own executive force. We hope to keep it small, as there is no use creating a large organization for the few weeks or months the CWA program continues in existence."

Fight Political Pressure.

It has been reported, on apparently good authority, that the patience of Mr. Dunham has been tried by pressure which political leaders great and small have endeavored to exert on the giving out of the CWA jobs. It is known also that he has fought strongly against these efforts and has succeeded in a measure in keeping the politicians suppressed.

However, it is said, the task is becoming increasingly difficult. Although Mr. Dunham himself has refused to make public his views, his friends asserted yesterday that he believes there will be much political trading in Washington when the President goes to work to get appropriations to continue the CWA program beyond Feb. 15, when the present appropriations are exhausted. Such trading normally would be expected to result in an increase in political power over the job giving.

Responsible to Gov. Horner.

In his original capacity as relief administrator Mr. Dunham was responsible only to Gov. Horner and had a free hand in establishing policies without regard to political considerations. As for the CWA, its general management is in Washington and red tape has been much more evident.

Mr. Dunham, according to his friends, has been unable to approve some of the rules issued and has opposed the seeming dominance of union labor over some of the rule makers. It is the opinion of these friends that he would rather resign than be a rubber stamp for CWA officials and for labor boards whose orders he regards as likely to foment strikes or result in inequitable rates of pay for nonunion men. There have been frequent charges of such discrimination already.

Under the new setup he will devote himself exclusively to the disbursement of relief funds, while the hiring for the CWA will be taken over by a new organization.

Demand 75 Cents an Hour.

A delegation from St. Clair and Madison counties, composed of labor leaders, appeared before Supervisor Hunter yesterday and requested that a flat rate of 75 cents an hour be paid to all unskilled workers on highway projects under the CWA in the two counties. At present some laborers receive 40 cents and some 75 cents.

In connection with this demand it is recalled that complaints already are heard in various rural communities against the scale paid to CWA workers. Private employers, beginning to find work for men, are finding it hard to pay as high a scale as the federal government is paying and especially as high as the scale union labor is demanding.

In reply to the St. Clair and Madison delegation Mr. Hunter said the rules of the state highway department, long established, would be followed. Workers on original construction are to receive 75 cents and those engaged in repairs on existing roads 40 cents.

Employment for Jobless Teachers.

Fifty new projects which will give employment to persons qualified as school teachers were approved yesterday by Mr. Dunham. They had already been stamped with the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction. Most of the jobs will have to do with adult education.

Noted Singer and Son in Chicago

Recovers Her Health

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, on her way to a family Christmas celebration in New York, arrived in Chicago yesterday on the California Limited of the Santa Fe railway, accompanied by her youngest son, George. Appearing robust and fresh after a month's rest in a San Diego hospital, Mme. Schumann-Heink said she had completely recovered from the severe illness which seized her when she was here for the American Legion convention last October.

"I don't want to die yet," the opera singer said with characteristic vigor. "I would like to live everything all over again—the misery and all."

Again she declared: "I know, as they say it in German, that nobody can jump over his own shadow, but I could still sing Erda in 'Rheingold.'"

COUNTY BUILDING ELEVATORS WILL BE IMPROVED

The county finance committee at a meeting yesterday voted to incorporate in the 1934 budget an item of $13,221 to install a signal system on the county building elevators and to improve the service generally. It was announced at the meeting that the civil works administration had assigned 275 men to the work of washing, repairing and rehabilitating the county building.

Woman and Two Men Held on Robbery Charge

Miss Beulah Bigger, 24 years old, 4001 Argyle street, and two men companions were held to the grand jury yesterday by Municipal Judge Jay A. Schiller on a charge of robbing Jacob Wexler, 5043 North Troy street, of $1,040 on Dec. 4. The men defendants are James Pogue, 28 years old, and Jack Kaufman, 28 years old. The bonds for the three accused were fixed at $10,000 each.

Continue Case of Youth Charged with Lynching

San José, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The preliminary hearing of Anthony Cataldi, 18, charged with participation in the recent lynching here of Thomas H. Thurmond and John M. Holmes, was continued today until Jan. 9 by Justice of the Peace Chester Moore.

TWO INSURANCE AGENCIES GET ALL HOLC BUSINESS

Favoritism Under Donne Is Revealed.

BY AL CHASE.

Federal government investigators have begun to delve into the handling of insurance business in connection with the Illinois branch of the Home Owners' Loan corporation. William J. Donne, 8th ward Democratic politician, recently resigned as Illinois manager for the HOLC, after his administration had been attacked on charges of political favoritism.

While William H. McNeal, special representative sent from Washington to conduct the investigation of the local HOLC office, refused yesterday to disclose the findings in his investigation so far, it became known that two insurance agencies got all the business of renewing or writing new insurance on the dwellings of applicants for home loans.

95 Per Cent to One Agency.

The two agencies are C. M. Verdé & Co., 175 West Jackson boulevard, which got 95 per cent of the business, and the Metropolitan Agencies, which has offices at 134 North La Salle street, in the same building with the HOLC. Chris M. Verde of 2733 Prairie avenue, Evanston, is head of the Verde concern. The Metropolitan concern was founded recently by Martin O'Brien, for many years a leader in the Cook county Democratic organization, and Albert J. Horan, municipal court bailiff, who formerly was alderman of the 29th ward.

Donne had a list of 78 insurance brokers who were supposed to share in the HOLC insurance business. However, it is said, the names of the two concerns which got all of the business are not on that list. Donne insisted, when questioned several days ago, that the insurance business was distributed without favor among many concerns.

Organized insurance interests in Chicago complained several weeks ago that the HOLC business was not being properly apportioned. It is understood that this complaint was a factor in causing Washington to order Donne to stop forcing insurance on home owners where it wasn't needed.

Ban on Loans Lifted.

Mr. McNeal reported late yesterday that the ban on the making of new loans at the Illinois HOLC office, ordered by Washington recently, had been removed, and that his staff was completing several loans.

United States Attorney Dwight H. Green and Leo J. Hassenauer, his first assistant, will confer here tomorrow morning with Daniel McNamara Jr., associate general counsel of the HOLC in Washington. All the ramifications of the local HOLC difficulties will be considered. This is seen as the first official act leading up to possible prosecution in connection with the cleanup of the Illinois HOLC.

LAUNDRY LOSES BLUE EAGLE FOR CUTTING WAGES

Third Chicago Firm to Suffer.

The Flat Iron laundry, 3629 North Halsted street, lost its Blue Eagle yesterday for failure to comply with the provisions of President Roosevelt's NRA wage agreement. The laundry in the third Chicago concern to lose its eagle.

In a telegram to Mrs. Ole Odegard, owner of the laundry, Gen. Hugh. S. Johnson, NRA administrator, notified the owners that their right to the insignia was being taken away for specific violation of the hourly wage scale for all its employes.

The wage agreement, which had been approved by the Chicago Laundry Owners association, provided for a maximum week of 45 hours and minimum wages of 25 cents an hour.

Investigation of complaints against the laundry by Conciliator E. F. Ronneberg disclosed the company had been under the NRA for six weeks but that for the last five weeks the wages of ironers on flat work had been reduced from 25 cents to 20 cents an hour.

Mrs. Odegard was summoned before the Chicago NRA compliance board. She admitted the violation, explaining that under the code her company was losing money. She said the firm's pay roll increased $3,000 during the six weeks of compliance. About 80 employes, mostly colored, were involved.

TWO OF BARBERS' GROUP JAILED ON THREAT CHARGES

Frank J. Bishop, 58 years old, 4729 North Winchester avenue, vice president of the Master Barbers' association, and Clarence H. Richards, 42 years old, 6145 Winthrop avenue, who said he was bookkeeper for the association, were locked up at the detective bureau last night on charges of intimidation.

Both were identified by Angelo Scacco, who has a barber shop at 204 North Clark street, as men who had threatened him if he did not raise the price of haircuts in his shop from 25 cents to 50 cents. When Scacco refused to heed the warnings, he said, vandals broke into his shop on Dec. 7 and broke windows, cracked mirrors, and slashed the leather seats of barber chairs, causing $300 damage.

Bishop and Richards denied they had ordered or committed the sabotage of Scacco's shop.

Wife Divorces Official of Oak Park Dairy Concern

Mrs. Mabel W. Renz, 1126 North Woodbine avenue, Oak Park, was granted an uncontested divorce yesterday by Judge Joseph Sabath in the Superior court from William Renz, an official of the Theodore Renz & Sons Dairy company in Oak Park. Questioned by her attorney, Benjamin Davis, Mrs. Renz testified that she left her husband last March 31, after he had twisted her wrist. She was granted $300 a month alimony and the custody of two children, William Jr., 18 years old, and Jane, 16. The father is to set up a $1,000 trust fund for each child.

SURPLUS RELIEF AGENCY GIVEN BROAD POWERS

New Federal Agency's Charter Revealed.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The new Federal Surplus Relief corporation is an agency enjoying broader powers than those vested in any other emergency arm of the government, it was disclosed today as its articles of incorporation became available.

Although the corporation's functions are generally understood, to consist of acquiring surplus agricultural products for distribution to the destitute unemployed, plans are under way whereby it could act for the agricultural adjustment administration in buying up or leasing submarginal lands to retire them from cultivation under the farm recovery program.

At the direction of the President, the corporation could exercise all authority vested in the public works administration, the AAA, and the federal emergency relief administration.

May Be Absorbed.

All these agencies could be made permanent through their absorption by the Surplus Relief corporation, in the opinion of some government legal experts, since it is to have "perpetual existence."

Among powers vested in the corporation is authority "to accept grants or deliveries in any of the states, districts, territories, or colonies of the United States, or in any and all foreign countries (subject to the laws of such state, district, territory, colony, or country) of moneys, commodities, lands, or other property of any class, nature, or description made to it under and pursuant to said acts of congress or any amendment or amendments thereto heretofore or hereafter made."

Empowered to Buy.

For the purpose of "relieving the existing national economic emergency" the corporation is empowered to purchase, store, handle, and process surplus farm or other commodities and "to dispose of the same so as to relieve the hardship and suffering caused by unemployment and to adjust the severe disparity between the prices of agricultural commodities and other products."

Authority to provide for expansion of markets, to remove or increase and improve the distribution of agricultural or other commodities and products, is also vested in the corporation.

Of particular interest to many federal legal experts is a provision authorizing the corporation to carry on all of its business and operations, "without restriction or limit as to amount, to purchase or otherwise acquire, hold, own, mortgage, sell, convey, or otherwise dispose of real and personal property of every class, nature or description."

Incorporated Oct. 4.

The incorporation was made on Oct. 4 at Wilmington by Secretaries Wallace and Ickes and Harry L. Hopkins, now head of the corporation. Since then the members have been increased to include Acting Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury and William I. Myers, governor of the farm credit administration.

The certificate was drawn by Jerome Frank, counsel for the AAA, who has been criticized by some officials of that agency for his liberal views. Secretary Wallace supported him when George N. Peek, then farm administrator, told the secretary that he would resign unless he was preceded in retirement by Mr. Frank.

Some see in the Surplus Relief corporation a plan to coördinate all farm recovery efforts by placing them within its jurisdiction.

Question Legality.

It is questioned by some officials whether there is any authority in the law for the delegation of AAA powers to the Surplus Relief corporation. While the farm act authorizes the establishment of "agencies," corporations are not mentioned.

The NRA also is authorized to set up auxiliaries and corporations as are here specified.

The extent to which the corporation may already have exercised the authority vested in it could not be definitely ascertained today. Most of its surplus acquisitions have been financed by the AAA through the proceeds of processing taxes.

Obtained PWA Funds.

It has, however, obtained several million dollars from the public works administration.

While the certificate of incorporation provides for "Perpetual" duration of the corporation, it provides that when its purposes have been accomplished or in event of its dissolution, "the members of the corporation shall cause all the assets of the corporation, other than money, to be sold in such manner and at such times as the members of the corporation shall deem best to promote the public interest."

As to the intention of the administration to utilize the corporation for retiring submarginal lands from cultivation, it is contended by those favoring the project that authority for it is possessed in the power to reduce or remove surpluses.

Further Powers.

It is contended that if further authority is needed for the operation it can be delegated to the corporation by the President under powers vested in the AAA.

The plan for using the corporation for this purpose resulted, it is understood, from the submission by the attorney general of an adverse opinion on the proposed establishment of a land purchasing corporation for the same purpose. He held that establishment of such a corporation would be of questionable legality, it is understood.

Discussing this topic in his annual report, Secretary Wallace said:

"In the long run, it would be cheaper for the government to purchase farms, rather than lease them. For one thing, the rate of interest that the government pays is considerably less than the percentage of rental value of farms to the capital value."

GERMAN PAPER HAILS CHANCELLOR HITLER AS THE NEW MESSIAH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—Chancellor Hitler is probably the new Messiah, according to a German newspaper, which boasts the biggest circulation in the country. It is the organ of the German food profession, with a circulation of 514,000. The paper says that Christmas symbolizes the birth of the Christ child, and speaks of the "man who was given to Germany to prepare the way for the fulfillment of the divine wishes. Thus, Germany should rejoice in the hope that maybe this is a fulfillment of the divine promise of the Savior who fought, suffered, and died for things for which we are struggling heroically—an empire of light and divine purity."

YOUTH LEADERS REBEL AT ACTS OF GERMAN BISHOP

Give Him Till Saturday to Change Policy.

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—(AP)—An ultimatum by a powerful Protestant church body tonight opened a rebellion of Evangelical youth leaders to deprive Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller of the last vestiges of his authority.

Representatives of the Pastors' Emergency federation, which embraces more than 4,000 clergymen whose spiritual heads are former Reichsbishop Friedrich von Bodelschwingh and the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, gave Bishop Mueller a note which, observers believed, might bring to a head the bitter and long standing church controversy.

They advised the Rev. Mr. Mueller that if he does not, by next Saturday, reform the Protestant church cabinet in such a manner as to give a hope of real peace within the church they will inform the federal interior ministry and the public that they no longer have confidence in the reichsbishop.

Charge Reform Has Failed.

The representatives declared also if the reform is not forthcoming they will be neither willing nor able to meet the distrust of their congregations in the reichsbishop's policy which, they charge, has not led to a needed reformation in the church based solely upon the articles of faith. It was further stated that Mueller was attempting to keep up a semblance of peace within the church by promulgating laws which he has no authority to propose.

This ultimatum follows one by the Lutheran bishops of Bavaria, Wuerttemberg, Baden, Hessen, the Palatinate, Hanover, and Hamburg, which was delivered yesterday to the reichsbishop. The latter group declared also that unless Mueller, before Saturday, reconstructs the cabinet in accordance with their demands for purity of doctrine and for the elimination of politics from the church they will inform the government, the public, and their congregations that they no longer are able to back Reichsbishop Mueller's authority by the authority they enjoy as regional bishops.

Resent Sports Control.

The current phase of the church dispute started in November when the Rev. Mr. Niemoeller and two other pastors were ordered suspended from their pastorates for opposing the demands for anti-Semitism, an "editing" of the New Testament, and the elimination of the Old Testament made by the more radical leaders of the Nazi German Christian movement. Since then the controversy has involved charges of scriptural heresy in the church, demands for the resignations of several Nazi church leaders, and the resignation of Evangelical cabinet members.

Another threat of rebellion was voiced Monday by Evangelical youth leaders, many of whom are Nazi German Christians, who object to the placing of their young people's organizations, as decreed, under the leadership of Baron von Schirach, whose "heathenish" heresies, they said, have given much occasion for disquietude in church circles. The leaders also told him they refused to recognize his authority over them or the youths entrusted to them.

They pointed out that the reich sports leader had declined to have young athletes placed under Von Schirach on the grounds that such action would interfere with the coming Olympic games here. Why then, they asked, should the religious youths be forced to bow to Von Schirach's leadership.

BRITISH COMMISSION PROPOSES RADICAL HIGH COURT REFORM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Sweeping changes in the practice of the high courts, which, it is claimed, will make for cheaper and speedier legal action, were contained in the report of the lord chancellor's committee on law reform, published today. The committee includes judges and leading lawyers.

Important changes recommended by the committee are: Merging of the divorce division of the high court with the reconstituted king's bench division; limitation of the number of appeals; restriction on all appeals from the Court of Appeal to the house of lords; total abolition of the Divisional court.

Other proposals recommend that puisne judges sit in the Court of Appeal; that no more lord justices be created; that the Court of Appeal hear all appeals previously heard by the Divisional court; that the Court of Criminal Appeal be a division of the Court of Appeal; abolition of a number of assizes in certain towns, while other assizes be grouped for civil work and matrimonial cases.

LONDON INQUIRY ACCUSES NAZIS OF FIRING REICHSTAG

Lawyers Find Defendants Are Innocent.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The so-called "legal commission" of inquiry into the burning of the reichstag, for which five men are on trial in Germany, issued a report on its findings tonight. The commission is an entirely unofficial body composed of lawyers from several nations, including the United States. In a brief speech before reading the report, the British representative, D. N. Pritt, said the commission had received many letters, threatening and otherwise.

The commission's findings were that it was impossible that Marinus Van Der Lubbe, the mentally deficient Dutch youth, who is one of the five defendants, "could have accomplished the burning of the reichstag alone, and that all the known facts in the case point to National Socialist [Nazi] circles as having carried out or caused to be carried out this act of incendiarism."

Clears Four Defendants.

The commission further found that in any case, the four other communist defendants—three Bulgarians and one German—are not only innocent of the crime but had no connection, direct or indirect, with the fire.

The report goes on to say that retroactive application of the German penal law of March 23 imposing the death sentence in cases of arson or high treason would constitute a monstrous violation of one of the principles of justice most universally recognized among all civilized nations. Conviction of Ernst Torgler, former German Communist party whip in the reichstag, would doubtless rightly give rise to universal protest, the report asserted.

Calls Execution "Murder."

Finally, the commission declared that, "bound by its terms of legal reference, the legal commission is not in a position to give expression to that protest in this report, but is considers it a duty to proclaim that in these circumstances a sentence of death against Torgler would constitute judicial murder."

Later, Pritt, speaking as an individual and not as a member of the commission, criticized the Hitlerites for their treatment of the five defendants.

"I and my colleagues think the way Torgler has been treated since last February is an outrage upon justice and humanity," he said. "Those people who retain control of that great country, Germany, have done her reputation and her history irreparable harm by their conduct against these poor individuals."

BERLIN PROTESTS TO LITHUANIA ON MEMEL EVICTIONS

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Germany's minister at Vilna was instructed today to protest to the Lithuanian government an alleged violation of the Memel statute as a result of the removal yesterday of about 100 non-Lithuanians employed in civil capacities in the Memel territory.

Most of those ordered from office by the governor of the territory, the Nazis complain, were Germans.

A dispatch from Memel said the Memel Dampfboot, a daily German newspaper, was under suppression today for publishing an article headed "Mass Expulsion." The Memel territory was detached from Germany by the treaty of Versailles and under a convention drawn by a commission of the league of nations in 1924 it constitutes a unit, largely autonomous, of Lithuania.

SEA WAVE FLOODS CRYPT OF FIRST SANTA IN ITALY

BARI, Italy, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The sea today invaded the crypt of St. Nicholas, traditional original of Santa Claus, forcing a hurried removal of urns and ornaments.

The inundation was caused by a tidal wave which flooded St. Nicholas church. Firemen carried two priests on their backs through waist deep water, enabling the priests to remove furnishings of the church in safety.

The waves followed a heavy storm which caused considerable damage at the water front.

CHINESE CHIEF REPORTS JAPAN'S INVASION ENDED

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Sung Cheh-Yuan, governor of Chahar, telegraphed to national government officials tonight that the Japanese detachment reported entering Chahar from Jehol had withdrawn.

The reported invasion had roused Chinese protests over an alleged violation of the Tangku agreement which established peace between Japan and China last April.

HITLERITES ISSUE RULE FOR BAN ON 'TITLE' WEDDINGS

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—Hermann Wilhelm Goering, premier of Prussia and federal minister for air, today issued the rules and procedure for application of the recent decree against aristocratic sham marriages and adoptions supposedly contracted merely for the sake of obtaining an aristocratic name.

All registry offices and police authorities are instructed to report immediately all cases subject to the decree and public prosecutors are instructed to start suit for annulment of such marriages and adoptions before May 26, 1934. Marriages between an aristocrat and a commoner which were quickly followed by divorce are supposed to fall under this decree automatically.

Children born of such marriages are to be declared illegitimate, which is contrary to a recent announcement according to which these children were not to be stigmatized.

So far as is known, American girls are not affected because none have married German aristocrats in recent years.

Joe Benoit Catches Big Pike and It Shoots Him

THE PAS, Man., Dec. 20.—Joe Benoit, French-Canadian trapper, caught a large northern pike in the Mattawiskiwa river. He placed it in the bottom of his canoe. It threshed about and its tail touched the trigger of Benoit's loaded rifle. The trapper was killed instantly.

U. S. ATTORNEY ACTS TO TAKE MURDER CASE

Prepares to Try Alleged Slayer of Veteran.

The United States district attorney today will act to transfer a murder case from the state courts to the federal courts, one of the few times such action has been taken. The government is entitled to assume jurisdiction because the alleged murder was committed on a federal reservation, it was explained. Conviction on the charge carries a death penalty.

The case is that of James Cox, 25 years old, of Libertyville. Cox is now held without bail in the Lake county jail at Waukegan on a state murder charge. He is accused of the killing of William McNamara, 43 years old, 734 Oakdale avenue, Chicago. McNamara died last Saturday in the Veterans' hospital at North Chicago, where he was a patient. The government contends he was the victim of a beating by Cox, an employé of the hospital.

What U. S. Law Provides.

Under the federal statutes any crime is a federal offense if committed on land under the jurisdiction of the federal government, and the perpetrator of the crime may be tried in a federal court. The usual practice is for the state to try the case with the government coöperating.

Assistant United States Attorney James C. Leaton today will confer with State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county with a view to having Cox turned over to the government for prosecution. Melvin Purvis, agent in charge of the Chicago division of the federal bureau of investigation, has previously talked with Mason, and federal investigators have aded in the preparation of the case.

Faces Arraignment Here.

When Cox is turned over to the government he will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Walker in Chicago and placed in the Cook county jail. In the event of a conviction the prisoner could be hanged on any military reservation in this judicial district, under the supervision of H. C. W. Laubenheimer, United States marshal.

LAKE CO. COUPLE AND NEPHEW HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

Arthur E. Briggs, 66 years old; his wife, and their nephew, Percy McAndrews, 33 years old, were arrested last night by Sheriff Lester Tiffany of Lake county on a charge of arson. It was alleged that the two men set fire to a barn on their farm a mile north of Lake Zurich on Sept. 16.

The barn was destroyed, as were grain, live stock, and farm machinery owned by Lee W. Popp, 1127 North Shore avenue, who had leased the structure from Briggs.

Popp was the complainant. He asserted that he had witnesses who saw the men fire the barn and also asserted that they were given a bribe of $100 to do it. The donors of the money, Popp told Assistant State's Attorney Okel Fuqua, were his own personal enemies in Chicago, who hoped to ruin him financially by destroying his Guernsey herd. Also, it was learned, Briggs had taken out a $6,000 fire insurance policy only two days before the fire.

McAndrews and Mrs. Briggs were released on bonds early today. Briggs was kept in custody. All denied any knowledge of an arson plot.

TWO OVERPOWER THEIR KIDNAPER AFTER ROBBERY

Two men, kidnaped by a gunman who appeared to be crazed, overpowered and captured their captor, with the aid of a policeman, at Byron street and Lawndale avenue last night.

The victims were Edwin J. Choste, 3734 Wabansia avenue, and Richard Kiel, 3550 Cortland street. They were driving at Ridgeway and Wabansia avenues when the kidnaper, armed with a shotgun, leaped on the running board of Choste's car. He commanded the pair to give up their money, $1.40. Then he made them drive a roundabout course of some ten or twelve miles, muttering threats all the while.

Choste and Kiel were grappling with the robber for the gun when Policeman Patrick Kelly of the Albany Park station saw the struggle and intervened. At the station the gunman said he was Andrew Matisen, 28 years old, 4053 North Kedzie avenue.

BECOMES BRIDE

MRS. RICHARD C. ATHERTON.
[Maurice Seymour Photo.]

Miss Elsa Kochs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Kochs, 1527 Dearborn parkway, a debutante this fall, eloped to Waukegan last evening and was married to Richard C. Atherton. The marriage was solemnized by Justice of the Peace Henry F. Wallenwein.

The bride's father, who is president of the Victor Chemical works, said that he and Mrs. Kochs were aware that the young couple intended to be married, although the fact that the ceremony had been held was a surprise.

Mrs. Atherton is 20 years old. The bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Marguerite Atherton of Milwaukee, is 22 and a Board of Trade broker.

JUDGE PROMISES TO HELP MOTHER KEEP 'STOLEN' BOY

Mrs. Ilo Blumenthal, 27 years old, of 6383 Sheridan road, who was urged to "dry her tears of sorrow" by Judge Alfred O. Erickson of the South State street court yesterday when she was arraigned on a fugitive warrant charging "child stealing," will have another hearing in court today.

"Do you think I'm going to wrest a child from a mother's breast?" Judge Erickson asked the police who arrested Mrs. Blumenthal Tuesday night. He said that if her former husband, James B. Coleman of South Bend, Ind., father of the 6 year old child, James B. Coleman Jr., whom Mrs. Blumenthal kidnaped from the father's custody in South Bend last Friday, is not present in court today that he will dismiss the case.

The father of the child was in Chicago yesterday conferring with Attorney J. Arthur Goldberg, who late yesterday filed a petition in the Circuit court for a writ of habeas corpus for the return of the boy. The hearing on the petition will be held this morning before Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski. Meanwhile a South Bend attorney for Coleman, Louis M. Hammerschmidt, declared that the father "is determined to get the child it possible," and will fight all efforts of Mrs. Blumenthal to keep him.

Mrs. Blumenthal and her son appeared in court with her present husband, Julius, a salesman for a loop store.

"You've come to the right place, and I am going to help you," Judge Erickson told the blonde young woman at the close of her recital.

JAPS CONFIRM SAITO AS NEW ENVOY TO U. S.

TOKIO, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Japanese cabinet today officially approved Hiroshi Saito as ambassador to the United States, having received from Washington approval of Saito's appointment.

The Japanese foreign minister cabled instructions to Saito at the Hague, where he was Japanese minister to the Netherlands, to proceed directly to Washington.

Saito succeeds Katsuji Debuchi, who recently resigned. He has a wide European background.

French Senate Approves Bill to Balance Budget

PARIS, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Cabinet of Premier Camille Chautemps hurdled another obstacle today when the senate approved a budget balancing bill, 206 to 57, after the premier made the issue a question of confidence. The bill provides for economies totalling 4,632,000,000 francs. It now returns to the chamber, which previously had approved the major bone of contention, a proposal to cut the pay of government workers.

LIVERMORE HOME, MUCH SURPRISED AT KIDNAP SCARE

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—As pale and shorn-looking as a Wall street lamb after the crash, Jesse Livermore, famous bear raider, tonight weakly walked into his home at 89th street and Park avenue, exploding kidnap scares that had lasted for nearly 24 hours.

He disembarked from a taxi a block away and walked with upturned collar through a drizzling rain to his private entrance of his swank duplex apartment.

Apparently minus his key, he rang the bell and waited until a servant admitted him. He said weakly to two photographers who recognized him, "Get away," and rushed inside. It was approximately 6:20 p. m., 25 hours and 5 minutes since he mysteriously vanished from his office at 120 Broadway.

With Friends, He Says.

"I was with friends," he said to his distraught Omaha bride of less than a year, Harriet. He then became tight-lipped as he surveyed department of justice agents and detectives under Inspector Francis Kear who were wating to quiz him.

After restoratives had been administered he undressed and went to bed, where he talked for a few minutes to the sleuths before dropping off to sleep.

He said, according to police, that he remembered little about his activities during his missing hours. He recalled having been at his office yesterday, but said that after that he "almost drew a blank." He engaged a room at the Pennsylvania hotel, Livermore said, but he was unable to recall under what name he was registered.

He slept throughout today and was amazed when he awakened to pick up a newspaper proclaiming: "Livermore kidnap feared." He said he decided then to go home.

Becomes Ill in Taxi.

The noted trader of the financial cañons was obviously not feeling well. And a check on his activities just prior to his vanishment revealed that Abe Kanarick, a taxi driver, reported to police that Livermore had become extremely ill in his cab en route from his Park avenue home to his office shortly after 4 p. m. on Tuesday.

"He was in a tough way when I had him," Kanarick said, "and he got terribly sick."

The government men and police, who had spent a fruitless day, checking on all Livermore's known haunts, immediately washed the case up after listening to the plunger's story.

Both arms of the law were inclined to the kidnap theory after the alarm was spread by Mrs. Livermore because of numerous threats received by her husband over a period of years.

Too, he was credited recently with recouping many of his losses in quiet Wall street deals and the third Mrs. Livermore is reputedly wealthy in her own right.

Guarded Since Threats.

He has been almost constantly under the eye of a bodyguard since 1925 when he first was threatened, and his two sons, Jesse Jr. and Paul, both in California, have likewise been under surveillance.

When the nationally famous speculator, who walked out of the panic of 1907 with $4,000,000, failed to keep a dinner date with his bride on Tuesday night she became worried.

He had often spoken of kidnap threats, she told friends, and he had always been punctual in his appointments with her. She became so distraught at midnight that she notified police, who immediately began a search.

A traditionally romantic figure in a Wall street undergoing standardization, Livermore led a spectacular financial and social life since he began as a "board boy," who was told by his broker employers to "stop speculating or quit." He quit and kept on speculating.

SOCIALISTS DEFY SPANISH CHURCH; RIOT IN CORTES

Radicals Openly Threaten New Revolution.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, Dec. 20.—Spanish Socialists on the floor of parliament tonight countered the demands yesterday of the triumphant Catholic conservatives for modification of the anti-religious laws with a ringing threat of revolution.

Indalecio Prieto, former newsboy who rose to be minister of the republic, announced that the Socialist party, with affiliated unions solidly behind it, considers that the utterances of José Maria Gil Robles, young Catholic chieftain, carry a threat of dictatorship.

"We wish to declare here and now, so that everything may be clear, that we will defend the republic and its legislation by every possible means," Prieto said. "And we will meet any attempt at a coup d'état by revolution."

Prepare for General Strike.

When Prieto said "every possible means" there was little doubt as to what he meant. Leaders of the powerful Socialist unions, the strongest single organization in the country, are warning the masses that they are in danger of meeting the fate of the Socialists in Italy and Germany, and are making preparations for a general strike.

The Socialists in the last few days have made peace with the various communistic factions, which hitherto were their bitter enemies, and are now negotiating with the Syndicalist Federation of Labor in the hope of building up a common labor front against reaction.

THE TRIBUNE is informed that the Socialists are in agreement with syndicalist leaders, but are still hesitant less anarchist elements in the confederation, which precipitated the terroristic blowup a week ago, should sell them out in event of a general strike by all Spanish labor organizations being called.

Riot on Floor of Cortes.

Hostilities opened tonight when José Antonio Primo de Rivera, marques de Estella, son of the late dictator, attempted to floor the chubby Prieto.

Prieto was under fire from Antonio Goicoechea, former King Alfonso's spokesman in the cortes, who asked the Socialist leader why he had not said anything about the "crooked" telephone monopoly in his two and one-half years in power. Prieto, furious, said:

"I was not alone in the government, but I still say Primo de Rivera sold out the nation to a foreign company."

From his seat in the right wing bleachers, which some jokester had put next to the Socialists, José Antonio charged, bowling over friend and foe alike. Prieto, who is almost blind as a result of a beating by Fascists three years ago, stood his ground, while friends rushed to his aid. Prieto struck him before the others could interfere.

Tonight's riotous session revealed the new cortes as thoroughly representative—representative of the seething animosity of Spain in the third year of the republic.

Premier Wins Confidence Vote.

Incidentally, the cortes gave Premier Alejandro Lerroux the majority he has been waiting for all his life on a diffuse program for "pacifying" the country.

The veteran republican's first vote of confidence was 265 to 53. His majority consisted of his own 105 so-called Radical Republicans. The rest was made up of Catholic conservatives. The other republicans walked out and only the Socialists voted against him.

In the face of Catholic demands for what amounts to constitutional revision of religious and agrarian laws, Premier Lerroux blandly assured the cortes that there will be no change in the laws without the consent of this or another cortes. A concordat with the Vatican, which Gil Robles also demands as the price for keeping Lerroux afloat, will depend on the result of negotiations with the Vatican, the aged statesman declared.

Lerroux formally denied he promised Gil Robles anything for his support. When Goicoechea, chief of the 18 Alfonsist deputies, offered his votes for a pledge that anti-clerical legislation would be repealed, Lerroux bristled and replied haughtily:

"In the last stage of my political career I am certainly not taking assistance from monarchists."

CASE CONTINUED

The case of Mrs. Margaret Bettis, 33 years old, mother of two children, who was driven from her quarters at 900 Dakin street Tuesday night by a tear gas bomb thrown by policemen, was continued to Dec. 22 by Judge Lambert K. Hayes in the Women's court yesterday. She was arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Judge Hayes ordered her to move from the Dakin street address at once.

She explained to the judge that she had fired a shot through her locked door to frighten her landlord in order that she and her son, Melvin, 5 years old, might remain until her husband, Gus, unemployed, and her daughter, Ladine, 8 years old, returned from a search for another rooming house. She said she had paid $25 on an $84 bill a week ago with money obtained from a charity organization.

TELLS REASONS WHY PHILIPPINES REFUSE FREEDOM

Elpidio Quirino, floor leader of the Philippine senate, speaking yesterday before a meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations at the Palmer house, explained why the Philippine legislature has refused to accept independence as proffered in the Hawes-Cutting act passed by congress a year ago.

Senator Quirino said the greatest objection to the law is the provision which gives the United States, at the discretion of the President, the right to hold military and naval reservations in the Philippine islands after independence shall have been granted.

"We cannot conceive how the Philippines could be really independent if the United States is to retain and maintain indefinitely military and naval reservations scattered throughout the archipelago and in the most important strategic and commercial places," the senator said.

Another major objection of the Philippine legislature, the senator said, is the provision on trade relations between the two countries during the ten year period before independence. He pointed out that under the terms of the act Philippine products coming into the United States from the sixth year on during the transition period would be saddled with an export tax. At the end of the tenth year the full tariff would be imposed.

HITLER CALLS ON VON HINDENBURG; HAS A LONG TALK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 20.—Chancellor Hitler and Baron Konstantin von Neurath, foreign minister, called on President von Hindenburg today after Von Neurath had had a long conference with Sir Eric Phipps, the British ambassador.

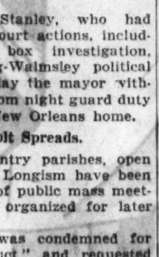
This aroused rumors that new steps have been prepared in negotiations on the disarmament problem. It is learned from a reliable source, however, that Germany will refrain from sensational action of any kind.

The German demand for an army of 300,000 men and more arms was presented a few days ago in a memorandum which the counselor of the French embassy has taken to Paris. Now Germany is awaiting the allied reply, which is not expected until Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, has conferred extensively with the French and Italian governments.

NEW ORLEANS MAYOR LEADS WAR ON HUEY

Parishes' Voters Joining; Assail Senator.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Political uprising against the dictatorship of Senator Huey P. Long has swept the state of Louisiana.



MAYOR T. S. WALMSLEY.

The senator, better known as "Huey the Kingfish," had his back to the wall tonight and he was full of fight and venom for his enemies, whom he says he will crush.

In recent years one of Senator Long's strongholds had been in New Orleans, where the large city vote would overcome any shortage of the country vote.

Today Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley and his old regular Democratic organization broke with Long and his Louisiana Democratic association over the approaching election.

"We will have a new deal," said Mayor Walmsley. "I would rather go in with a few less votes and a clean background."

"It almost turns my stomach to have the matter even mentioned to me," said Senator Long.

Long issued a statement saying he would refuse to support Walmsley for reëlection for mayor if he ran on the same ticket with District Attorney Eugene Stanley, also seeking reëlection.

Long fought Stanley, who had brought several court actions, including the ballot box investigation, against the Long-Walmsley political combination. Today the mayor withdrew policemen from night guard duty at the senator's New Orleans home.

The Revolt Spreads.

Out in the country parishes, open uprisings against Longism have been held in the form of public mass meetings with others organized for later this month.

Senator Long was condemned for "traitorous conduct" and requested to resign by a massmeeting of Fifth congressional district citizens. Demand for his resignation, with those of five other officials, including Senator John H. Overton and Gov. O. K. Allen, was made at the massmeeting held at Monroe.

Others whose resignations were demanded were Gaston L. Porterie, attorney general of Louisiana; Secretary of State Conway, and John B. Fournet, lieutenant governor.

Others Are Assailed.

Introduced by Mayor George W. Hardy of Shreveport, the resolutions said: "This demand is made on the grounds that they have forfeited their rights to office by their participation in and countenancing of corruption, graft, waste, extravagance, bribery, coercion and extortion, their failure to readjust the inequitable burden of taxation, their failure to properly administer and account for public funds, and their manipulation of the election machinery of the state so as to deny the people the right of a free expression of their will."

New Group Is Formed.

In Plaquemines a massmeeting was called to seek an end to "corrupt Longism" and a New Deal Democratic organization was formed.

Massmeetings have been called for Shreveport on Thursday night and Alexandria on Dec. 29. Other massmeetings in other parts of the state also are being organized.

Long's recent attempt to have an election without a primary in the Sixth congressional district failed when the citizens rose in indignation, strapped on their pistols, and slung shotguns over their shoulders. They went out to stop the general election.

GRANTED DELAY

FRANKIE LAKE.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

The vagrancy charge against Frankie Lake, former Chicago beer baron, was continued until Jan. 5 yesterday by Judge Jay A. Schiller on the motion of the state.

6 ROBBERS POSE AS DELIVERYMEN, GET LIQUOR, $90

Posing as deliverymen, six robbers gained admittance to the Standard Liquor Corporation warehouse, 315 North Ada street, last night and obtained four cases of whisky, one case of wine, two revolvers and $90.

One of the men rapped on the door and attracted the attention of John Cook, a Pinkerton watchman, who stood inside. "We want that liquor for Patsy's grill," the man said. Cook opened the door and found himself facing shotguns and revolver muzzles. They took his weapon and that of another watchman and robbed Ben Wolf, 3322 Wilson avenue, a sales manager, of $90.

As the gunmen left they noticed one of the company's trucks loaded with 200 cases of whisky standing in an alley. They climbed aboard, tried to start the motor but failed and had to leave it. Officials of the company told police they had removed receipts of $8,000 from the warehouse shortly before the bandits appeared.

U. S. GIVES O. K. TO PACT GRANTING WOMEN EQUALITY

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The United States delegation at the Pan-American conference agreed today to sign what was characterized as "the first treaty in history to grant and guarantee equality to women in every department of life."

At President Roosevelt's suggestion the delegation notified the secretary-general of the conference of its intention to sign, but with the reservation that the agreement was subject to congressional action.

The Inter-American commission of women headed by Miss Doris Stevens of New York sponsored the treaty, the original draft of which said in part: "The contracting states agree that, upon the ratification of this treaty men and women shall have equal rights throughout the territory subject to their jurisdiction."

PARAGUAY SEIZES 4 FORTS IN 'TRUCE DRIVE' IN CHACO

Pan-American Parley Fears New Complications.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Confirmation of news from Paraguayan sources that four Bolivian forts in the Gran Chaco had been captured by Paraguayans within a few hours of the eleven day armistice, which began last midnight, caused a sensation today in the Pan-American conference.

Fear that a Bolivian protest against the capture on the eve of the truce might be injected into the conference caused a postponement of the plenary session until tomorrow, when leaders said they hoped the tensity would be relaxed.

The forts captured were Munoz, Sorprest, Chanar, and Corrales. Munoz was one of the most important Bolivian strongholds and headquarters of the Bolivian army during the Chaco campaign.

Charge "Moral Violation."

With the arrival of the news this afternoon Bolivian representatives sought confirmation by telephoning La Paz, meanwhile stating they believed the action, if true, was a "moral violation" of the truce, even if it were effected prior to midnight Tuesday, when the armistice went into effect.

Dispatches from La Paz reported the foreign ministry was organizing a delegation to negotiate at Montevideo a basis of peace with Paraguay. The possibility was mentioned that delegates now representing Bolivia at the conference might constitute the negotiating committee.

Skepticism Expressed in La Paz.

La Paz newspapers were reported to have received word of the armistice with some skepticism as to its final outcome.

The newspaper La Razon, after saying the armistice was well received in America and Europe, concluded:

"It is open to question that we are not assisting a new diplomatic ambush from Paraguay. Under the conditions proposed by that country, supposedly the victor, would there not be danger of a further devastating war?"

With the postponement of the plenary session today the Pan-American conference terminated its quietest session. Final passage of the nonintervention resolution, which the United States agreed yesterday, with reservations, to sign, was scheduled at the postponed session and probably will be taken up tomorrow.

One-Eighth of Village's Population Has Mumps

Pearl City, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—One out of every eight persons in this village of 400 population has the mumps, it was reported today. Several adults were included. The public school was closed.

M'FEELY WALKS OUT ON OAK PARK VILLAGE BOARD

Willis McFeely, president of the village board of Oak Park, acted with decision last night when members of the board introduced a resolution to limit his power of appointing and discharging village employes. He rapped on his desk, declared the resolution out of order, announced that the meeting was adjourned, put on his hat, and went away.

Undaunted, the five trustees went ahead. Mrs. Dorothy Kerr was appointed temporary chairman. A resolution was then adopted prohibiting the president from making appointments and at the same time forcing the appointees to submit resignations which he could hold and declare in effect at will. The same resolution averred that any appointees signing advance resignations would be held "in contempt of the board."

Preceding the clash the other trustees had refused to confirm three of President McFeely's appointments. One of those turned down was John F. Tyrrell, the president's choice for corporation counsel.

POLICE BULLETS HALT HOLDUP OF COUPLE IN AUTO

Four robbers who attempted to hold up a youth and a girl in an automobile at Foster avenue and Sheridan road early today were interrupted by Policemen John Brustman and Charles Ockerberg and forced to flee in a storm of bullets.

The couple, Patrick O'Brien, 2322 Commonwealth avenue, and Miss Rose Pectice, 5200 Sheridan road, had been forced to the curb. Three of the youths had left their car and were trying to rob them when the fourth, at the wheel, saw the policemen approach.

He signaled his confederates with the horn and they ran to him. Brustman and Ockerberg reported that one of them apparently was wounded by their fire and was dragged into the car by the others as they sped away. Nothing was taken from O'Brien or the girl.

KILLED AS TRUCK OVERTURNS.

Mattoon, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Robert Brown, an employé of the Mattoon Baking company, was fatally injured when his truck overturned near Arcola today.

They Shop Early, but Make Mistake in Cards

Allerton, Ill., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Carelessness in buying for early mailing caused Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Newon, young married couple, to send pink birth announcements instead of the small Christmas cards they thought they had. Congratulations asked name and weight of the baby.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

THESE AND OTHER TIMES AND MEN.

Analogies are frequently useful things to tranquillize opinion. They sometimes offer a common ground for people who are having a hard time to understand each other's point of view. Experience has been called the only safe guide to the future, and at least we know of none better.

THE TRIBUNE often finds that one dilemma bears a close resemblance to another, as, for instance: Before prohibition was seriously considered by the country at large as a probable remedy for a problem of government and personal conduct many citizens were greatly concerned by the public welfare contained in this issue. The problem was studied and various plans were put forward. There was an attempt to bring the liquor business under control by intelligent state laws and liquor ordinances and to supplement this with teaching and advice. THE TRIBUNE supported many of the measures proposed by the Anti-Saloon league and for years used its influence to minimize the abuses in the use of alcoholic beverages. A great deal of progress was being made, but not enough to satisfy the advocates of what proved to be an unworkable law. A sudden and unexpected change of conditions, chiefly attributable to the war, gave an opportunity to extremists which they pressed to its utmost and with the consent of the various state legislatures obtained the fullest measure of authority which could be granted them. The fear that they might be wrong did not assert itself in time and the caution which more reflection and more study of human experience would have supported was lost.

The extremists, having been given complete control of the situation, proved that they were indeed extremists. They drove their new authority hard and fast, riding down everything that stood in the way. The moderates, taken flank and center by the charging zealots, disappeared in the confusion and everything that experience could have taught the country was lost in the clamor of enthusiasts, zealots and bigots, whose voice had become law and against whom it had become immoral to make a stand.

THE TRIBUNE recalls how advocacy of the cause of law, constitutional rights, personal liberty and true democratic processes exposed the advocate to the opprobrium of a then prevailing social and moral leadership which for a time could win its arguments by denouncing the morals and intentions of the opposition. It seemed then a lonely and exposed position to undertake the defense of principles which had made the American people envied by others who had not attained their level of self-government and individual independence. The defender of these principles might even seem in the storm of abuse against him a pariah for whom society had no word but of condemnation.

We find now in the emotions aroused by much of the recovery program analogies recalling the early days when government practices under the 18th amendment were being opposed. Enthusiasms do not care to hear the voice of caution. They resent the admonitions of experience. They do not want to be reminded that the past has not been unacquainted with tendencies similar to the present and that consequences are often calamitously contrary to expectations. Again the instinct is to challenge the intentions of the person who views more with alarm than with confidence. Again, as was the case in prohibition, the tendency is to sweep the moderates out of position and give their place to the extremists. The popular acceptance of extreme measures is the driving power used by the least considerate and most determined men who find that at last they have opportunity to do their own will. This opportunity is broadened as the moderate and conservative opposition is isolated from popular support. The extremists have a free hand and they work their power to the utmost, unrestrained by the very influence which should be relied upon to keep governmental policies within reason and to prevent the worst consequences of mistakes.

The situation unfortunately is all too familiar. Conservative opinion must make the best of it. It must continue to offer such checks as it can, knowing that in the end realities will assert themselves. They cannot be shouted down, and when their unescapable pressure begins to bring clarity into confusion the emotions quiet and order is restored. Then stock is taken and damaged goods are set aside. It is the duty of conservatism to see to it that this inventory finds as little avoidable damage as may be possible. Moderate opinion does not follow the popular road just now, but it is the road which will be taken by the majority in the end.

AS IT WERE.

Representatives of that mystified element of the public known as the consumer sat in a Washington conference to hear words of encouragement and counsel from various officials. W. H. Davis, compliance director of the NRA, spoke. Mr. Davis said: "I can't tell offhand the elevation of Lake Como. But I can certainly see a fellow's head sticking up out of the water in Lake Como. And my job is to knock that fellow's head back in the water."

There have been apprehensions that such might really be the case.

SAFEGUARDING THE SANITARY LOAN.

The federal public works administration, in agreeing to finance two years' construction work on Chicago's sewage treatment plant, has retained the right to supervise the contracts. One purpose of this provision, of course, is to prevent waste through graft.

Even if federal supervision will accomplish all that any one expects of it in this direction, there is still a very considerable possibility that the money will be pretty largely wasted. Great progress has been made in the science of sewage treatment, but few men who have studied the problem would deny that the ideal method has still to be determined. The costs of equipment for the most economical plants are still enormous and the operating charges are high. There is much reason to fear that the best plant erected this year will be hopelessly obsolete a few years hence.

There is some encouragement to be found in the fact that under the auspices of Chicago's sanitary district an important experiment has been conducted in the design of treatment works. Following the suggestions of the late George Wisner, the district has sought a means of drying and burning the sludge and has met with considerable success. Those who are interested in the subject from the technical viewpoint will find it outlined in the leading article of the current number of the American City. Even Chicago's advanced technique, however, is in a highly experimental stage, as any reader of the article will readily infer. It is still too early to say with any certainty whether the saving in costs is as large as had been expected.

The danger of waste through graft is no greater than the danger of waste through obsolescence. It is to be hoped that every effort will be made to safeguard the expenditure from both dangers.

HARPO AND THE KARL MARXISTS.

Reports from Leningrad relate that Harpo Marx in his first appearance before a Russian audience was a tremendous success. Harpo, it hardly need be said, is the silent one of the Four Marx Brothers. His art is varied and has the charm of the unexpected. He can purloin a startled lady's step-ins by seeming merely to kiss her on the chin, and he can do an admirable job of strumming the strings of a harp. He is seldom nonplused when his host's silverware is found tumbling out from a hole in his pants. Any confusion he might feel as the result of such a contretemps he conceals by leaping into the arms of the nearest lady physically able to hold him and sitting there as if he were an affectionate Manx cat or marmoset. Throughout all his public career as an artist Harpo has never been known to utter a sound which could be recognized as a spoken word, and the only time he seemed to break this rule of silence it was soon discovered that the utterances came from a phonograph in the seat of his trousers.

Harpo is not only distinctly nondialectical but he is absolutely and profoundly silent. He appropriates other people's belongings, whether nut crackers, safety razor blades, pianofortes, bird houses, or the pearls of the late duchess, but he never appears to have any use for the articles he lifts and purposeless confusion for its own sake is the sublimation of his artistry. He disposes of books with a coal shovel to feed a fire which is not needed. The ecstasy of a natural goodishness which glints in his eyes and rationalizes his impishness of the unexpected is heightened by a red wig. And nobody ever knows how many clothes he has on or what they are or how he keeps them on.

These characteristics of Harpo Marx delight the Karl Marxes. The Karl Marxes and the Harpo Marxes apparently find a spiritual affinity which endears one to the other. Stalin may not see that Harpo is a more dangerous rival than Trotzky, but such may be the case. As Dr. Karl Marx has worked out in Russia, Harpo is his perfect exposition. Mr. Litvinov has promised that Uncle Sam will not find his silverware tumbling out of the Marxian trousers and will not lose his shirt in the Marxian embrace, but if it proves that these pledges are more honored in the breach than in the observance Harpo will be the complete explanation. No doubt the comrades find Harpo such a fascinating mirror that they are like children in a hall of grotesques, and Harpo is the wizard who puts a touch of reason in the Marxian dialectic.

It does not appear that the other three Marx brothers are with Harpo in Russia, and if they are not they may be able to perform the same service here that the silent, red-headed, harp playing member of the quartet is doing for the Russian comrades now associated in new bonds of amity and understanding with the Americans.

Editorial of the Day

"SPELL 'EM RIGHT."

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Stanley Walker, city editor of the New York Herald Tribune, has an amusing and informative article in the New Yorker on the particular curse of a newspaper man's life that is most conducive to madness—the vagaries of people's names and the Herculean task of getting them correctly into print. Mr. Walker makes no complaints; he merely states the facts. Thus he records the existence of such pitfalls to accuracy as the names of John McCormack, Langdon McCormick, and Mary McCormic; of Irving Bacheller, Irvin S. Cobb, Will Irwin, Rea Irvin, and Irving Berlin. Pairs of near-twins are Austen Chamberlain and Clarence Chamberlin, Horace Greeley and Gen. Adolphus W. Greely, Ramsay MacDonald, and Ranald H. Macdonald. Certain well-known sons of John, if all appeared in the same news item, would be a sure ticket to a padded cell. As listed by Mr. Walker, they are: Alba B. Johnson, Alvin Johnson, Allen Johnson, Alva Johnston, and Dr. Alvin Johnson.

It is a fascinating list Mr. Walker has compiled, and he is to be commended for the restraint with which he refrains from comment, save in his last line: "Might as well spell 'em right." Glancing back over his directory, however, we note that he cites "Samuel Untermeyer, a lawyer," and "Louis Untermeyer, a poet." Who's Who will inform Mr. Walker, if he is not already cursing a typographical or stenographic slip, that the eminent lawyer's name is Untermyer. This is no carping criticism, merely our well-meant contribution to the great cause of "spell 'em right."

TOO TRIFLING.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may

HONESTLY, I don't wonder that people stand in droves in front of the liquor stores these days and flatten their noses against the plate glass windows and fairly hold their breath as they gaze on the magnificent bottles piled inside. I went into a liquor store yesterday and asked for a brand of Scotch I used to like in those glad days when I used to visit dear old London. The clerk reached around to the shelf and produced the brand I asked for. "That costs six dollars and a half the bottle." I said I didn't believe I would take it, but that we were going to have a real old fashioned English plum pudding at our house for Christmas and I would like a bottle of Jamaica rum. Ah, not even the bootleggers had Jamaica rum, and here I could buy all I wanted and with no one to shoot my hind tires out from under me. The clerk said they didn't have Jamaica rum, but they had Cuban rum, very fine indeed, and he started to wrap up a bottle. "How much?" asked I craftily. "Eight dollars a quart," says he. "Never mind," says I, and I went right outside and flattened my nose against the window.

BETHLEHEM SAGA.

In the heart of Mary
Was always certainty
That life was incorruptible
Timeless unity.
When an angel whispered
"I charge you with great light!"
It seemed that some old handclasp
Had deepened the dark night.
And when the winged dove hovered
Above her glowing hair
It seemed that love had covered
The world where it was bare.

II.

When Joseph heard the voices
Of angels in his sleep
He thought that some disturbance
Had stirred the troubled sheep.
But when he looked on Mary,
Saw she was crowned with light—
With something more than beauty—
He charted out their flight.

III.

They looked at Jesus reverently,
Knowing He was their Son,
And Mary said to Joseph, "Now
Apocalypse is done."
But when her Son at Calvary
Saw that men are all flame,
Burning into infinity,
He spoke a Greater Name.

A tree that grew near Golgotha
Said, "I, the chosen one,
By my own strength will lift Him high!
Return Him to the sun."

RACHEL MACE WILSON.

THESE DAYS almost anything will do. Old Tom Chiggers was imploring me yesterday to go over and have a drink at a bar across the street. "Never in daytime," said I sternly; "that's no time to be gay. There's work to do." "But this isn't getting gay," objected old Tom; "this ish most solemn 'casion. I wantta drown my shorrow." "What sorrow?" I asked suspiciously, for I knew old Tom. "Oh, jus' shorrow, shorrow on general principles," said old Tom. "No." I said firmly. "I am ready to drown a genuine, concrete sorrow, but I never drown a sorrow on general principles. I want concrete evidence." Old Tom looked crestfallen, and then he happened to glance at the headlines of the newspaper he was carrying in his hand. "Pipe!" he exclaimed triumphantly, and at the same time bursting into tears. "Shee wot it says, 'Lama of Tibet Is Dead.' Old friend of fambly. Used to hold me on his knee when I was li'l boy. Good old Lama! And he's dead. Just breaks my heart. Got to drown grief. Come on an' help me drown awful grief." Oh, well, of course, in a case like that—well, what else can one do? Grief has just got to be drowned, no matter what time of day it is.

Straighten your backs, my people!
Lift eyes from the gray sod.
Give praise for what I give you,

How to Keep Well By Dr. W. A. Evans

FOR RELIEF OF BUERGER'S DISEASE.

IT seems probable there is a method of treatment of Buerger's disease that relieves the pain and spasm in the leg muscles, makes possible more walking and other leg work, and prevents attacks. There is evidence that it can cure some cases. The indications are good that it is superior to other methods. This new treatment consists in injecting a specially prepared sterile solution of pancreatin. The amount injected is about forty-five drops, designated by physicians as thirty units.

This method of treatment is especially valuable in those cases in which the spasms and pain in the muscles of the lower leg are the outstanding symptoms. In a series of clinical tests by Dr. G. M. Roth and associates it was found that an hour or two after taking an injection of pancreatic extract a person subject to intermittent claudication could walk a fair distance without spasm or pain.

The treatment, given daily for some time, appeared to cure, in a sense, one case. The theory is that in intermittent claudication the muscles make more waste than the blood and lymph vessels can promptly drain away. The presence of this waste is responsible for the cramping. The pancreatic extract makes it possible to keep the muscle cleared of waste.

If it is true, as seems likely, that the cramping stage in Buerger's is seldom reached until after the blood vessels of the lower leg have been badly damaged, the remedy promises more by way of relief of attacks and easing pain than by way of cure.

It is well to recall that heat cramps resulting from excessive sweating are prevented or cured by the use of salt by injection or added to drinking water. Night cramps due to cold feet and legs might be benefited by the pancreatic extract injection.

This pancreatic extract used for the relief of the spasms of intermittent claudication is not the only pancreatic substance in use as a remedy in diseases of the group to which Buerger's belongs. One, called kallikrein, was found to be capable of reducing blood pressure and dilating small blood vessels. A related product is called adosan or adosan phosphoric acid. These may find a place in the treatment of Raynaud's disease, frostbite, and sensitization to cold. There may be a field for it in high blood pressure.

SHOULD NOT HARM YOU.

Mrs. B. H. writes: Ten years ago I was operated on for a gall bladder condition and at the same time my appendix was removed. Since that time I have suffered from constipation and, at very frequent intervals, was forced to revert to a cathartic in order to clean out my system. However, for the last two years my bowels will not function unless I take a laxative. Therefore I have been taking psyllium seed constantly every night for two years. Otherwise my bowels hardly function.

REPLY.

Your constipation habit seems to be pretty well established. Ten years of wrong practice will fix any habit. Time and persistence are required to overcome any habit that has been established for ten years. Taking psyllium should not harm you. It helps, but probably you need to do more than that.

OSTEOMYELITIS.

C. R. writes:

1. I would like to know if you would give me the history of osteomyelitis. When was the discovery made that maggots would cure it?

2. I would like very much if you would tell me where I could get the history of its treatment.

REPLY.

1. In several wars it was noted that certain neglected wounds that became fly-blown got well unexpectedly. This was reported occasionally in surgical literature, but it seemed so preposterous that surgeons were slow about accepting the reports. Dr. Baer of Johns Hopkins hospital observed this anew during the world war. He decided to investigate further when he got back to his home hospital. His reports popularized the method.

2. You can find much about it in the post-world war surgical literature.

From Across the Sea

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AUCKLAND, N. Z.—Revelations of discontent in New Zealand's navy were made recently at Lyttelton when the crew of the cruiser Diomede burst into the song "Red Flag."

The men aboard the cruiser had expected to go ashore on leave on New Zealand's Labor day. Sudden tightening up of restrictions governing naval ratings by Capt. Cosmo Graham, British commander of the ship, caused the leave to be canceled.

The men were kept working for two hours on the afternoon of a national holiday, when suddenly there was a demonstration and the men burst into the international song of revolt. Such a demonstration never occurred in the history of the navy before.

Naval officers said they attached no significance to the fact that the men chose the "Red Flag" with which to express their objections. Nevertheless, the country received a shock when it learned that the navy had suddenly shown radical leanings.

Capt. Cosmo Graham handled the situation with tact. The cruiser's crew consisted of Britishers and New Zealanders. It was only the colonists who demonstrated. The captain explained that the work on which the men were engaged was necessary because of a pending inspection of the ship and gave leave men an hour and a half extra in which to stay away from the ship.

Parading the men the following morning the captain did not reprimand them. Instead he appealed to them as hosts, pointing out that he and his officers had been invited to the country to give the New Zealanders the benefit of their experience in naval affairs and holding that they were entitled to the courtesy due from hosts.

Jocularly he told them that if they insisted on singing the "Red Flag" they should do it in the original German, which, he held, "was far superior to the English words." The appeal worked and the cruiser was able to leave Port Lyttelton in time to join the rest of the fleet at scheduled time for a cruise of the Pacific islands.

THE HIGH PRICE OF WINES.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—The editorial "A Frenchman on Wine," in this morning's paper, is splendid, but, O dear! what a difference. In France and quite generally abroad one can buy wine at reasonable prices. Only yesterday a liquor dealer recently returned from France told me good champagne there may be had for $12 a case. Here it is $35 to $60.

Prices for wines, both domestic and foreign, in this country always have been absurd. Moreover, wines are packed wrong. Who wants a quart of wine at a sitting, or who wants to pay 75 cents for a pint?

Why won't wine sellers find some way to serve ordinary wine from the spigot or in bottles holding quantities that one or two persons would care to consume, at a moderate charge, instead of treating the wine drinker as if he were a little yappy to ask for wine and so a sure mark for the waiter and the house? And who wants hard liquor with a meal? JOSEPH G. HUSSELL.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The editorial assailing Gov. McNutt of Indiana for inefficiency because of the Michigan City prison escape seems unfair, for a fair per cent of the convicts involved are Chicago products. Chicago should welcome her own. If "Fur" Sammons, now in the Michigan City prison, should escape he probably would head for Chicago, where he always has been moderately safe from imprisonment. The policeman who was slain in Chicago is no deader than the policemen and bank officials who have been slain in forays of Chicago criminals into Indiana. Why should an inefficient metropolitan police force expect efficiency elsewhere? WM. M. CROCKETT.

AMERICAN CHEESE WEEK.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Imagine the confusion and chagrin of Chicago school teachers, many of whom have helped prepare special programs for Americanism week only to find that it is Cheese week!

O, well, it is quite apparent that the majority of Chicago's citizenry is more interested in cheese than education.

STREET NAMES.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—I had just about allowed myself to become reconciled to the inconceivable stupidity of the city council when Miss Krasniak's letter again showed up the fallaciousness of the defense. I don't believe any one doubts Pulaski's heroism or the fact that he should be honored. He was famous, he served voluntarily, he had military skill, perhaps he was the superman of all time, yet "any one of any nationality" can "be antagonistic towards changing Crawford avenue to Pulaski road and still claim to call himself a patriot."

Even granting that Pulaski is more deserving of honor in Chicago than the Chicago pioneer, Peter Crawford, which in itself is an absurdity, why not perform the substitution on some street that hasn't been named in honor of some famous person? Why not choose those possessing only geographic connotations, such as Milwaukee, Western, North, Lake, Lake Park, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and a host of others? Pulaski would be honored equally well by having his name on one of these thoroughfares, and at the same time no slur would be cast on the memory of an early Chicago settler. SEYMOUR TWEBY.

WE WON'T BREATHE IT.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—A correspondent objects that Nathan Hale is not honored in street naming in Chicago. He is mistaken. Hale avenue extends southward from 103d street to the city limits. However, let's keep the information quiet; some one may want to change it to Coughlin road or somethin'.

THE SHORTAGE OF TOOLS.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—I see by the papers that there are still thousands of unemployed men waiting for work for the CWA, but because of lack of tools they are still waiting. I, being one of them, suggest that we furnish our own tools.

SPEED.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—Your campaign for stepped up railroad schedules must be having results.

I came in from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Englewood station last Sunday, a distance of 141 miles, on Pennsylvania train No. 207. It took the train just 123 minutes, including stops, and the conductor said they run like that every night.

LOCAL OPTION LAWS.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Does the eighteenth or twenty-first amendment change local option laws—i. e., when the village of Washington Heights was annexed to Chicago it was stated that all local laws would be in effect. One of these was that no beverage dispensers were allowed outside of two hundred feet of Vincennes road. 2. Has the city of Chicago a Sunday closing law? 3. Chicago formerly issued saloon licenses according to population. Did the eighteenth amendment void this law? If so, did the twenty-first amendment bring it back?

H. W. S.

1. No, in the sense that they were already repealed and are not revived. In People vs. Williams, 809 Ill. 403, 495, the court said: "The prohibition act is a revision of the whole subject under the amendment of the federal constitution and was intended as a substitute for the existing law on that subject. It operated as a repeal except as to pending proceedings, although it contained no express repealing clause."

Sec. 3 of the chapter on "Statutes" in the Revised Statutes is as follows: "No act or part of an act repealed by the general assembly shall be deemed to be revived by the repeal of the repealing act."

2. Sec. 3240-7 of the ordinance passed Nov. 28, 1933, reads as follows: "No retail liquor dealer shall sell, permit to be sold or give away any liquor between the hours of one o'clock a. m. and seven o'clock a. m. on week days and between the hours of two o'clock a. m. and one o'clock p. m. on Sundays."

3. This law seems to be within the principle of the Williams case.

ILLINOIS VALUES BILLION LOWER ON TAX BOOKS

Estimate Is Based on 85 Counties' Data.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A decrease of 1 billion, 500 million dollars in assessed valuation of property in Illinois during the last year was estimated today by Scott Lucas, chairman of the state tax commission.

The commission estimates the total assessed valuation of the state on which 1934 taxes will be paid as $5,764,000,000.

The valuation estimate made last December, the figure on which the present 50 cent state tax rate was based, exceeded $7,043,754,262. That later was cut to $6,064,000,000, largely the result of a reduction in Cook county assessments.

Valuations for 1933 have not been returned to the tax commission by all counties. The estimates are based on returns from 85 counties.

Depends on Sales Tax.

A decrease in assessed valuation is usually accompanied by an increase in the tax rate, as was the case a year ago, when the state rate was boosted from 35 cents to 50 cents on the $100 valuation.

In event the sales tax is held constitutional by the state Supreme court—a decision is expected Friday or Saturday—Gov. Horner hopes it will yield sufficient funds in 1934 to replace the state property tax.

If the sales tax is held unconstitutional, an increase in the present 50 cent rate appears unavoidable, despite decreased appropriations.

A decrease of 10 per cent is expected on downstate personal property and of 11¼ per cent on railroad properties throughout the state. Downstate real estate assessments will be approximately 4 per cent lower.

Assessment on capital stock downstate is likely to rise from $22,000,000 to $53,000,000.

Cook county's capital stock assessment is estimated at $47,,000,000, against $51,000,000. These figures show net increase on capital stock of $27,000,000 throughout the state.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Real estate tax collections yesterday were $239,555, making a total of $96,862,371 collected since enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act began on April 28. The day's collections of real estate taxes and the uncollected taxes for the last four years follows:

	1928.	1929.
Dec. 20	$ 13,598	$ 56,976
Uncollected	15,912,227	42,441,479

Dec. 20	$ 86,222	$ 82,759
Uncollected	67,355,763	66,854,974

The day's collections of 1931 personal property taxes totaled $11,356.

County Judge Jarecki yesterday ordered fifty-two income bearing properties into tax receivership under the Kerner-Skarda act. County Treasurer McDonough was appointed receiver to collect taxes totaling $108,000 for the years 1928, 1929, and 1930. Attorneys for other property owners paid $97,000 in court to forestall receivership action. The treasurer filed twenty more tax receivership petitions in the County court against buildings owing $54,371 in back taxes. Among those named in the suits was a building at 1455-59 West 79th street, on which $6,346 in taxes is overdue.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY HANGS SELF IN LA GRANGE HOME

Three hours before he was to have taken part in a Christmas pageant last night, Robert Diver, 17 years old, a junior at the Lyons Township High school, La Grange, committed suicide by hanging himself in a closet of his home at 303 South Fifth avenue, La Grange. He was the son of George C. Diver, head of the Diver Music company, 315 South Wabash avenue.

The body of young Diver was found by his mother when she went to call him to dinner. He had fastened a belt around his neck and tied it to a clothes rack bar in the closet off his second floor bedroom. A police inhalator squad worked for nearly an hour trying to revive the boy.

His parents said they knew of no reason for his act. He was a normal, healthy boy with no trouble at school or elsewhere, they said. He was an adopted son, but whether he was aware of this or not was not known, the police said.

WINS DIVORCE

MRS. JENNIE LOVE.

Judge Rudolph F. Desort granted a divorce yesterday in the Superior court to Mrs. Jennie Love, 643 Gordon terrace, from Ralph Love. Mrs. Love is manager of the Madame Love chain of beauty shops in New York and Chicago and Love also is a beauty shop operator.

Mrs. Love, who was represented by Attorney Harry X. Cole, charged desertion. She married Love in Paris in 1914, she testified, and he deserted her on Oct. 15, 1931. The bill on which she got her decree was the eighth which Mrs. Love had filed. She had withdrawn the other seven following reconciliations with her husband.

Love filed a cross bill in the present action, charging his wife with infidelity and asking a receiver for her business, charging that she had defrauded him of his original half interest in it. Judge Desort ruled out Love's cross bill and plea for a receiver, and also denied his petition for alimony. Mrs. Love asked no alimony.

GREECE CALLS OUT ARMY AND NAVY TO BREAK STRIKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 20.—The Greek government today put the 7,000 striking postal and telegraph workers under mobilization, and disobedience now means treason. The strikers are demanding wage increases of 100 per cent.

In addition army and navy technical staffs were called out. The army has 1,000 men on telegraph duty and the navy has half that number in readiness to run the generators. Naval forces also are being held in readiness for duty if the workers of privately owned public utilities walk out in sympathy.

The government today arrested 51 of the central committee representing the postal and telegraphic employés. Later two were released. Retired postal and telegraphic workers were called out to man depleted staffs. The Socialist opposition is supporting Premier Tsaldaris against the strikers.

The new way to face winter is not only to look out for exposure but also to build up resistance!

It never pays to brave bad weather unprotected. But neither is it wise to stop with outward precautions.

If you want to avoid the chance of uncomfortable winter ills, you must also keep your physical condition at prime. You must build up your resistance!

This is a new idea which has taken strong hold among thoughtful people. They see the mistake in letting their resistance run so low that they cannot stand the slightest exposure, in waiting until they're actually sick to begin building up.

What these people do now is to protect themselves in advance against the special demands of winter. Each fall they begin with a resistance builder!

Two factors, they have found, contribute particularly to their well-being—Vitamins A and D.

People who fail to get enough of them are likely to need an extra abundance at this season.

And now there's a pleasant way to obtain them. With Squibb Adex Tablets-10 D.

Squibb Adex tablets differ from any other source of resistance-building Vitamin A and sunshine Vitamin D. They are specially protected to ensure you of their benefits.

IRISH BLUE SHIRTS CALL BAN BREACH OF CONSTITUTION

BY HUGH CURRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Dec. 20.—The politico-legal battle which has raged in the Irish Free State over the right of Gen. Owen O'Duffy's followers to wear blue shirts entered another phase today when the issue was brought before the high court in Dublin.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus to release Gen. O'Duffy and one of his aids, Capt. Sullivan, came before Justice Johnson. The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow, when the counsel for the state claimed they had not had adequate time to prepare the necessary affidavits.

The habeas corpus writ was sought on the grounds that the two men were unlawfully arrested at a political rally at Westport, County Mayo, last Sunday for an alleged offense which did not exist in law—namely, the wearing of a blue shirt.

Calls Arrest Unconstitutional.

J. A. Costello, counsel for Gen. O'Duffy, said the De Valera government's action was outrageous and demanded the men's instant release. Gavan Duffy, another O'Duffy lawyer, said the article of the constitution which gave liberty to a subject had been overridden by the public safety act.

Because they were arrested under this act, Gen. O'Duffy and Capt. Sullivan had to be transferred to a military prison, Arbour Hill barracks, where they are at present. Supt. Murray, against whom the habeas corpus writ was sought, transferred the men to the military prison from Westport yesterday.

Costello charged Murray with contempt of court in doing this, as Murray had been informed by telephone in Westport that the judge had made a provisional grant of the writ. Justice Johnson in granting the adjournment until tomorrow said that as far as the evidence before him went, Gen. O'Duffy and Capt. Sullivan had committed no crime and that on the prima facie evidence they were innocent and should be released.

Act Against Barracks Head.

During the afternoon another judge granted an order making the governor of Arbour Hill barracks joint defendant with Murray.

If, as appears likely, the state counsel claims tomorrow that the public safety act is superior to civil law, this will be tantamount to admission that the country is virtually under martial law, which the government does not desire. In this event, it is assumed that the application for the habeas corpus writ must be refused. The position is admittedly difficult for the government.

Commandant Cronin, Gen. O'Duffy's right hand man, is to be tried by a military tribunal tomorrow. He was released on parole this morning to visit his father, who is dangerously ill in County Cork, but he is expected to return in time for the trial.

Police Seize Newspapers.

DUBLIN, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Acting on orders of a military tribunal, police tonight seized all copies of the Republic, the official weekly newspaper of the Irish republican army, due to appear Dec. 23.

They also seized copies of United Ireland, an organ of the United Ireland party, which was to have appeared tomorrow. Grounds for seizure in both cases was alleged sedition.

The United Ireland party publication contained the full speech of Gen. Owen O'Duffy, co-leader of the party, which he was unable to deliver Sunday at Westport, County Mayo, where he was arrested.

The publications were seized in a raid on a printing office. The suppression was understood to apply only to the present week's issues.

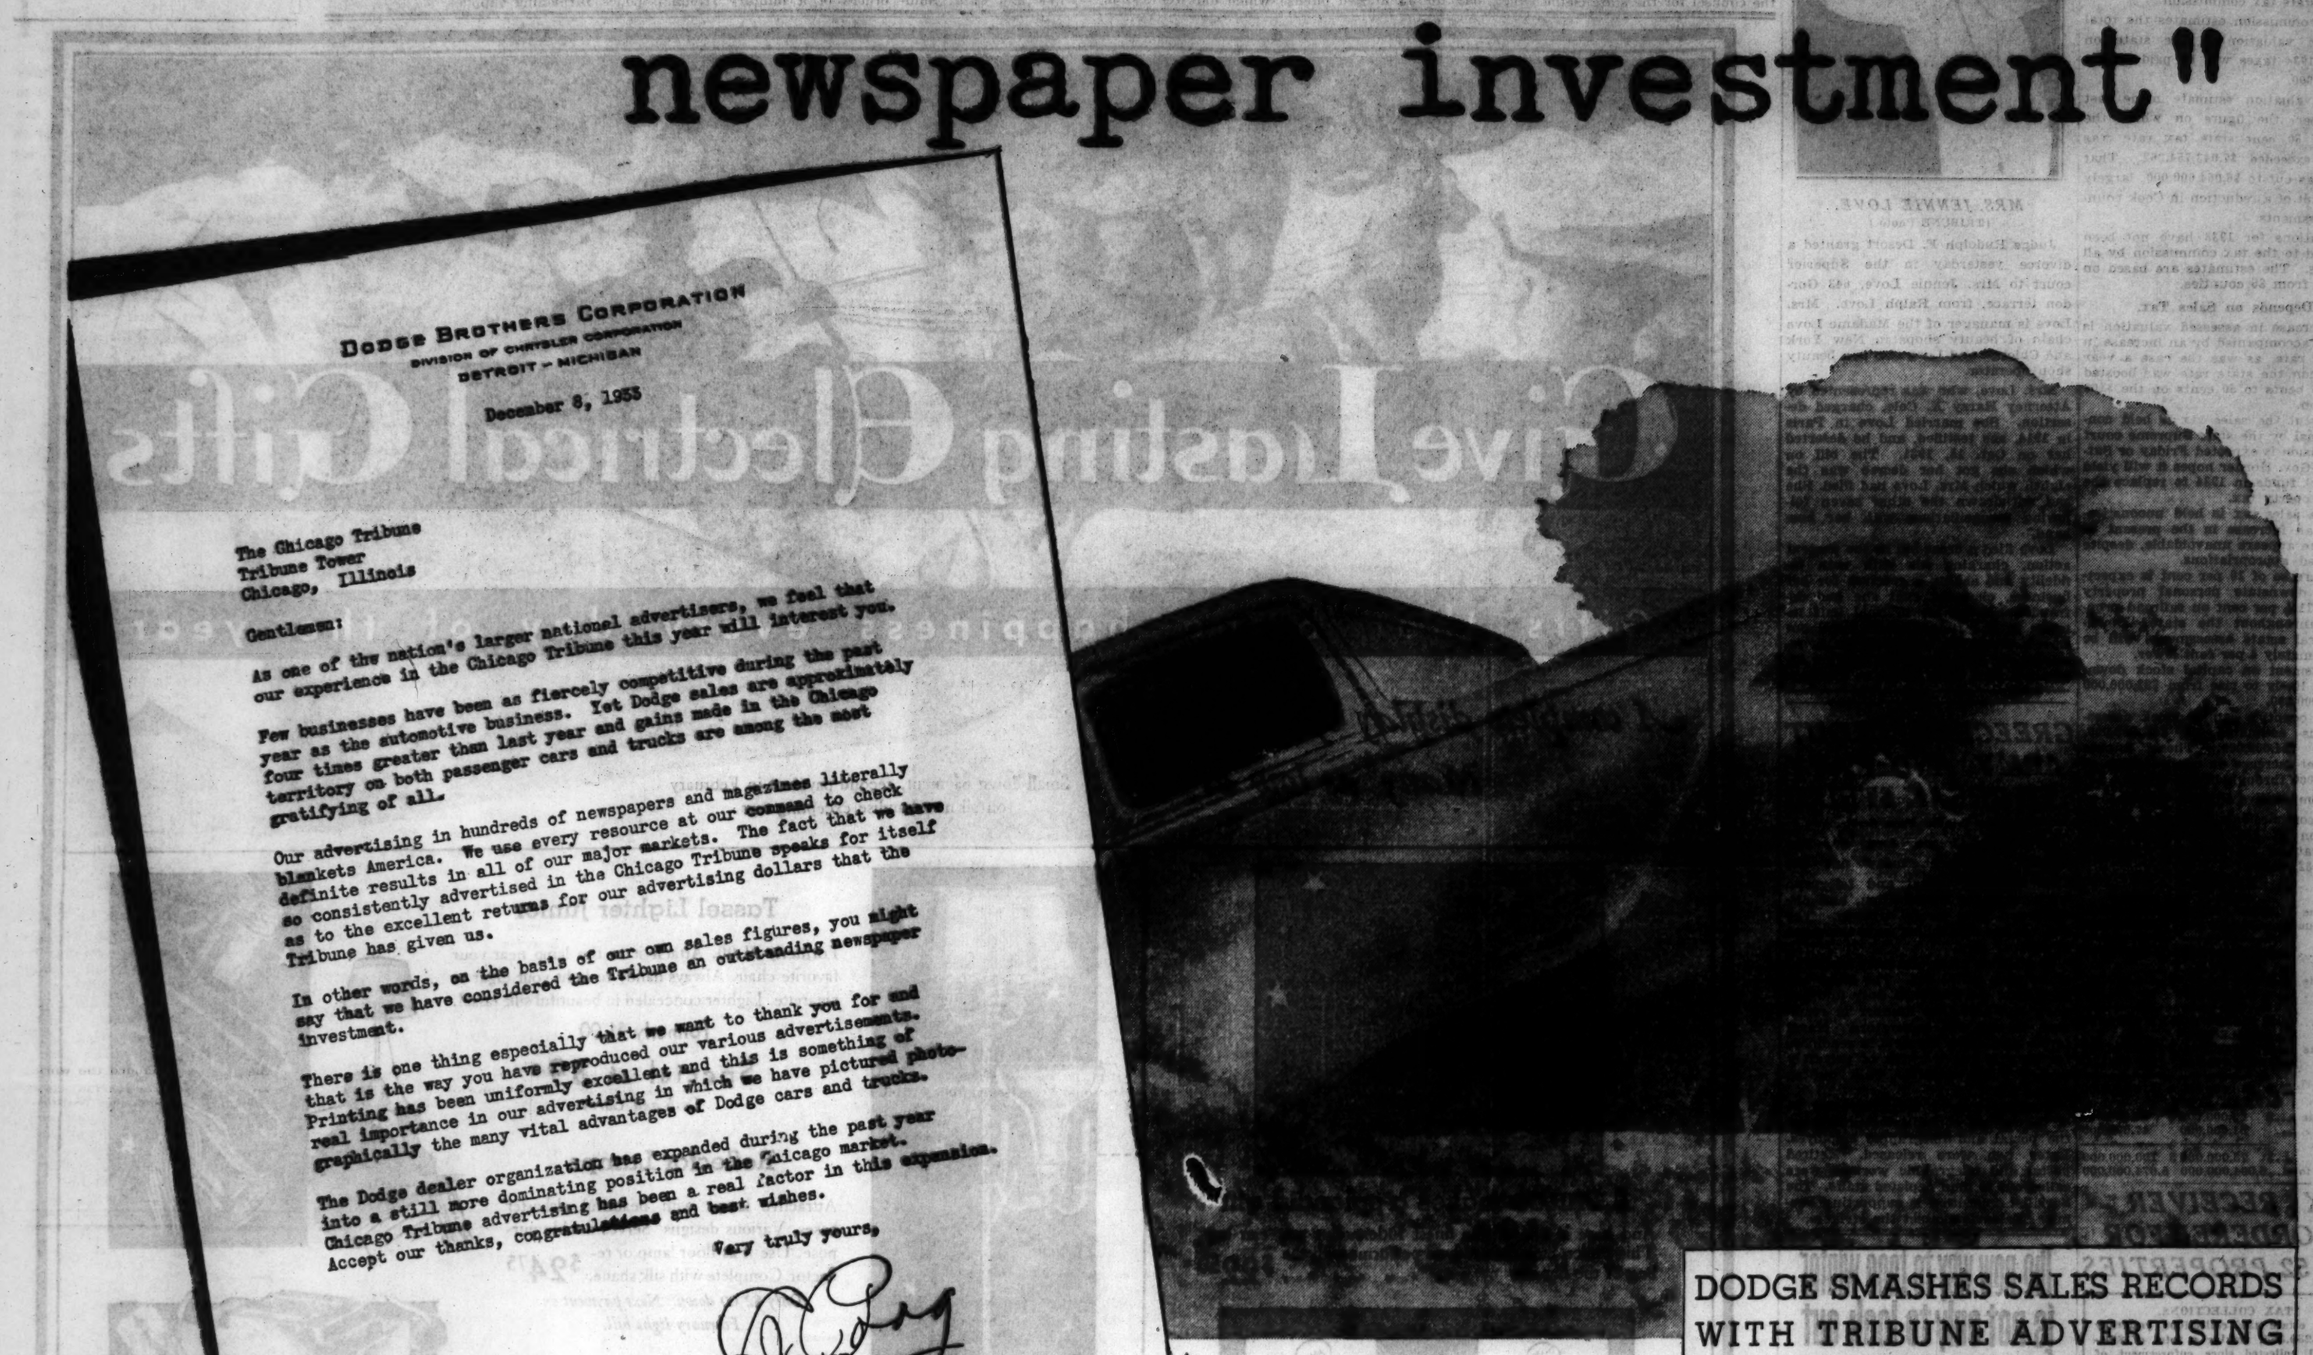
"We have considered the Tribune an outstanding newspaper investment"



DODGE BROTHERS CORPORATION
DIVISION OF CHRYSLER CORPORATION
DETROIT – MICHIGAN

December 8, 1933

The Chicago Tribune
Tribune Tower
Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

As one of the nation's larger national advertisers, we feel that our experience in the Chicago Tribune this year will interest you.

Few businesses have been as fiercely competitive during the past year as the automotive business. Yet Dodge sales are approximately four times greater than last year and gains made in the Chicago territory on both passenger cars and trucks are among the most gratifying of all.

Our advertising in hundreds of newspapers and magazines literally blankets America. We use every resource at our command to check definite results in all of our major markets. The fact that we have so consistently advertised in the Chicago Tribune speaks for itself as to the excellent returns for our advertising dollars that the Tribune has given us.

In other words, on the basis of our own sales figures, you might say that we have considered the Tribune an outstanding newspaper investment.

There is one thing especially that we want to thank you for and that is the way you have reproduced our various advertisements. Printing has been uniformly excellent and this is something of real importance in our advertising in which we have pictured photographically the many vital advantages of Dodge cars and trucks.

The Dodge dealer organization has expanded during the past year into a still more dominating position in the Chicago market. Chicago Tribune advertising has been a real factor in this expansion. Accept our thanks, congratulations and best wishes.

Very truly yours,

Director

FIRST on the list of the hundreds of newspapers used by Dodge Brothers Corporation stands the Chicago Tribune. During the first eleven months of this year Dodge spent more money in the Tribune than in any other newspaper in the country.

Deliveries of Dodge passenger cars in Cook county for the first eleven months of 1933 were up 297%. Sales in the five states comprising the Chicago territory likewise showed smashing gains.

The Chicago Tribune during the first eleven months of 1933 carried 46% of all Dodge passenger car advertising in all Chicago newspapers—146% more advertising than the next Chicago newspaper carried.

With 52% coverage of all families in Chicago and suburbs, the Tribune reaches practically the entire market for automobiles. The Tribune is read daily by 620,000 families in the metropolitan area—59% more than read any other Chicago daily newspaper.

The Tribune also provides a daily coverage of 150,000 able-to-buy families in the cities and towns adjacent to Chicago and suburbs. Here is the volume of circulation which produces volume of response—available at a general daily milline rate lower than that of any other Chicago newspaper.

The Chicago Tribune stands first on the list of Dodge and many of America's other aggressive merchandisers because it is the outstanding newspaper in the great Chicago market. Let a Tribune representative tell you why. Wire, phone or write.

Florence Otis Sets Feb. 3 for Wedding Rites

Ceremony to Be Held at Fourth Presbyterian.

BY JUDITH CASS.

IN the twilight of the late afternoon on Feb. 3 Miss Florence Otis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chester Otis, will exchange her wedding vows with Wade Fetzer Jr. of Hinsdale. Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson will read the marriage ceremony at 4:30 o'clock at the chancel steps of the Fourth Presbyterian church.

After a two day reunion with her sister, Mrs. Robert S. Burns [the former Sarane Otis], Miss Otis completed these wedding plans yesterday. Inviting Mrs. Burns to be her matron of honor, of course, Miss Otis has held the arrangements in abeyance pending the arrival of the Burns family from their home in Los Angeles.

They came on Monday . . . Mrs. Burns, Mr. Burns, and Wee Sarane . . . and between luncheons, teas, and dinners with old friends, wedding plans, and Christmas shopping, they have scarcely found a quiet moment since then. Mr. and Mrs. Burns regret that they couldn't bring their infant son, Robert Otis Burns, for his first visit to Chicago, but a trip across the continent would not be a holiday for him, they decided.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis will have a family dinner at their home in Lincoln Park West on Christmas day, and then Mr. Burns will decide whether or no he can remain in Chicago—with Mrs. Burns through Miss Otis' wedding on Feb. 3.

The church ceremony on that day is to be followed by a small wedding reception at the Fortnightly club. As soon as the holidays are over, Miss Otis and Mr. Fetzer will complete their arrangements by selecting the rest of their attendants. The engagement of this popular young couple was announced last Oct. 12.

Nancy Harris to Bow on Christmas Day.

When Miss Nancy Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Harris Jr., bows to society Christmas afternoon at an open house at her parents' attractive home on Lincoln avenue in Winnetka, she will be assisted by seven of her debutante friends. They are Miss Patricia Calkins, Miss Allene Withers, a student at Sarah Lawrence college with Miss Harris; Miss Marie Louise Gardner, Miss Roslyn Paine, Miss Jean O'Brien, Miss Eleanor Janney, and Miss Anne Palmer.

Miss Harris, a senior, arrives at home today. Before entering college she prepared at the Baldwin school.

Two Debutante Events Today.

Debutante activity today centers in two events . . . the reception Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King are giving this afternoon at the Casino for the granddaughter of their long time friends, the late Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mitchell, and the supper dance tonight at which Andrew N. Rebori will introduce his daughter, Naneen.

Although Miss Hunter has been here only two days from her home in Pasadena, Cal. . . . she is the daughter of the Robert Hunters who used to be Chicagoans . . . she has already renewed former acquaintances and made many new friends. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. King and Miss Hunter this afternoon will be Mrs. Charles Adams, the debutante's grandaunt, who is at the Ambassador from Honolulu.

The Kings will have a visitor, for word reached Chicago yesterday that Mrs. Arnold C. Klebs, the sister of Mr. King and the mother of Mrs. William Burry Jr., will be here for Christmas. Mrs. Klebs with Dr. Klebs have unexpectedly returned to this country from Europe, where they have been living at Nyon, Switzerland. Now Mrs. Klebs is coming on west, leaving Dr. Klebs in the east with his daughter.

Debutantes and grandmothers will mingle at Miss Rebori's supper dance at the Drake, for the popular father of this bud has paid little attention to age in drawing up his invitation list, asking all of his good friends as well as those of his daughter. Because Mr. Rebori is devoting so much of his time to the opera ball to be held the 29th, he says he hasn't planned anything unusual for the party this evening but this is hard to believe.

Before the supper dance Mrs. Howard Linn is entertaining at dinner at the Casino for Miss Rebori. Mrs. Linn has invited thirty young members of society.

Miss Martha Lee, in a chic dress of gray wool with a tangerine velvet tie and a gray and tangerine hat to match, and Miss Jean Hyman, in black with green sequins at the neckline, greeted the forty odd young women whom Miss Lee had invited to the luncheon she gave for Miss Hyman yesterday in the Casino club.

The debutantes and post-debs—Miss Hyman has an extensive acquaintanceship among both the younger and the older girls—sat at four oblong tables in the green "fountain" room of the club. Among them were Miss Jane Boyce, fashionably dressed in black, the Lampert twins, Lillian and Myrtle, who still have the debutantes guessing about their identity, especially as they insist upon calling each other "sister," Miss Isabel and Miss Marion Gordon, who spend every summer near Miss Hyman at Harbor Point, Miss Caryl Bloomingston, Miss Betty Alexander, Miss Jane Fortune, Miss Pauline Seipp, who looked more distinguished than ever in a classic black dress and perky black hat, Mrs. Edgar Stanton Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Cary Jr.

Among the guests who remained to play bridge following the luncheon were Miss Lydia Swift, Miss Alice May Dickinson, Miss Helen Marie

A GIRL named Eleanor Kaspereit is pretty confused about something that happened last Sunday at the Bethel Evangelical church at 114th and State streets. After services two envelopes were found in the collection plate marked "St. Nicholas Catholic church." St. Nicholas Catholic church is located at 113th place and State street. You can worry as to how the bearers of the envelopes got in the wrong church in the first place, or maybe as to how they happened to sit through the whole service without knowing it wasn't a Catholic service.

EMANUEL JACOBSON reports the conversation between two men he overheard the other evening on a north bound bus.

"I saw the best picture last night, Harry, the best picture I ever seen," one said to the other.

"What was it?" asked the second dully.

"'Little Women.' It sure was marvelous."

"Little Women? Aw, Jackie . . . Midgets?"

WE ARE sorry to dwell overmuch on hotel bars [did you know Police Commissioner James P. Allman insists that they be identified as "taverns" in police calls], but after all they are new phenomena on the social horizon. This, then, is about the bartender at a hotel on the boulevard Mrs. A. J. Gaines tells about. He concluded a merry evening behind the bar by coming around to the other side, after he had changed his clothes to go home, and joining the customers.

CLARA MIES tells about the two middle-aged ladies who approached the table in the Palmer house bar where she was having luncheon with a woman from Freeport, Ill. As the room was crowded, they asked if they might sit down there. Seated, they gazed at the surroundings.

"Do you know what period these pictures are?" one finally asked the other, indicating the murals.

"The Repeal period, I guess," her companion answered.

Answer Shop Ends Hunt for He-Man Gifts

Nothing Is Forgotten in Clever Selections.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The Answer shop! . . . not a heart throb spot gone commercial, but a new shop for troubled and uncertain shoppers on a sincere hunt for something in the way of Christmas cheer for He men. A shop within a shop for men, filled to bulging with swanky stuff for discriminating males, a store of hints and broadsides, just what a regular guy would appreciate unwrapping.

The most masculine loot is the leather; leather brief cases, picture frames, swanky bill folds, cases, wallets, anything you ever dreamed about, made of leather.

Next the drinking paraphernalia . . . gigantic shakers of glass, chromium, silver and combinations, with featured capacity . . . all kinds of practically prehistoric tantalus sets out in gala array after the late aridity . . . pilsner glasses with a college education, tall, high ones with the pennant of every known seat of learning enameled on the smooth sides . . . flotillas of steins that might have been in Heidelberg no later than a week ago . . . tankards, wooden kegs and all the grand old stuff returned to greet the thirsty mob.

A heartening comfort for any cruising female is the assortment of smokes officially O. K.'ed by a knowing connoisseur for equally particular smokers . . . cigarets, cigars, everything but snuff, ready for wrapping and toting home, without the usual misgivings about the selection. Humidors, cases, jars, smokers' trays, and all the equipment placed strategically right next to the smokes. What else could you want?

The bookshelves boast hair thrilling detective yarns especially dished up for the strong souls who eat them up in an hour or two . . . thin and thick booklets on the interesting art of liquid eye openers . . . books of good jokes, toasts for the habitual banquet attender and ambitious speechmaker . . . books of cartoons, travel yarns, and a few technical themes bound in good sturdy covers for a den.

You can find trick windshield wipers for his car and other gadgets for the man that drives . . . steak trays and cheese ensembles for the gentleman who likes to invade the kitchen and steal some gal's pet recipe and work it over to suit himself . . . baskets of eats for the hungry—jams, potted shrimps and other fancy edibles.

The variety is endless . . . the thing to do is to take half a day and inspect this helpful nook . . . even veteran shoppers will be surprised. Nothing has been omitted . . . everything is obtainable; all are gifts, novelties, swell He-man loot without a weary looking necktie or sock in the place.

Chicago Stages Record Show; Gets $140,000 for Children

Revue Sponsored by Mayor Is Huge Success of 34 Features; All Varieties of Entertainers Appear.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

MAYOR EDWARD J. KELLY made his debut as an impresario in the Chicago Stadium last night, offering to an audience of 19,000 people a program that had every right to the classic theatrical boast, "the biggest show in town." Its title was "Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit Revue," and some 30,000 children of the poor will discover next Monday that it was a profitable enterprise. Each will receive an entire new outfit of winter clothing as his or her share.

The box office count reached $140,000 about the time that De Wolf Hopper came out on the stage to pinch hit for Phil Baker as master of ceremonies, but this was not regarded as final. Contributions from missing precincts were coming in every few minutes.

The bill, consisting of 34 features, began at 9 p. m., and lasted almost as long as a New Year's eve party. It covered the entire field of Chicago's amusements and ranged from the symphony orchestra in full force with Frederick Stock as conductor to jazz bands and night club dancers.

The realm of sports was represented by such celebrities as "Gabby" Hartnett and "Red" Grange, mentioned in a footnote to the program as "expected to appear." But if they failed to turn up they were not missed, for about 500 performers crossed the stage at one time or another during the performance. Even the delinquent "legitimate" stage figured on the bill with the Duncan sisters, Rosetta and Vivian, as its mouthpieces.

Show of This Size Needs Classification.

A show of such dimensions requires classification and cross-indexing. After close study statisticians reported that it contained:

Nine cabaret and dance bands captained by Jan Garber, Vincent Lopez, Richard Cole, Wayne King, Paul Ash, Carlos Molina, Ted Weems, Hal Kemp, and Benny Meroff.

Eight masters of ceremonies: Pat Barnes, Bob Nolan, Phil Baker, De Wolf Hopper, Paul Ash, Harry Richman, and Don Santo.

Six cabaret revues, representing the current shows at the Terrace Garden, the Chez Paree, the Empire room of the Palmer house, the College inn, the Joseph Urban room of the Congress hotel, and the Blackhawk restaurant.

Five items of radio entertainment, including Amos and Andy, the WLS barn dance, Tom, Dick, and Harry of W-G-N, the WENR Minstrels, and Alice Joy.

Two choirs of religious singers: the Paulist organization under the direction of Father O'Malley and Prof. James Mundy's interpreters of Negro spirituals.

Three shows from vaudeville and cinema theaters: Olsen and Johnson from the Palace, Connie's "Hot Chocolates" from the Marbro, and the current bill from the State-Lake.

But That's Not All the Talent.

But this tabulation does not tell the full story. The unclassified department was also copious. The Ethel Morgan dancers, fifty in number, made a handsome stage picture in gypsy costumes. Margery Maxwell sang operatic arias. Irene Rich appeared as a personality of the Hollywood studios. Pat Kennedy, late of Ben Bernie's organization, crooned into the microphone.

A pair of Apache dancers from the cabarets [names forgotten in the excitement] dashed each other upon the floor with the zeal for which the gangsters of Paris are noted. The girl's apparent suffering in this skit was so extreme that Phil Baker—life of the party, in its early phases, as master of ceremonies—remarked with feeling, "That dame can take it!"

Out of Paul Ash's band emerged a tall, dark young man who sang "Old Man River" in a deeper basso than it has ever been sung before.

Announced as veterans of A Century of Progress, a company of fourteen earnest men and women puckered up their lips and gave a whistling concert under the direction of Fay Epperson.

Phil Baker became inspired and made a speech in which he pretended to be an Irish politician responding to the presentation of a watch.

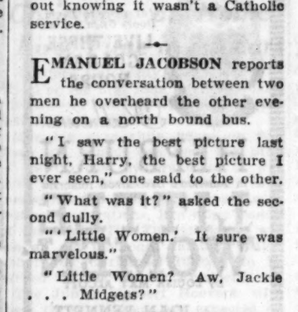
Mayor Kelly Speaks Prologue.

Mayor Kelly himself spoke the prologue, after a telegram from Gov. Horner [detained by official business] had been read. He told how the proceeds of the show will be used on Christmas day among ill clad and undernourished children.

The elaborate musical section of the program included the work of six directors — Josef Cherniavsky, Verne Buck, David Smason, Walter Davidson, James Henschel, and Dan Russo.

The keynote of the night was struck when the Paulist choir, in church vestments, sang the immortal Christmas hymn, "Holy Night," with supreme beauty of tone and mood.

Carolina Quilters Honor This Star of Unique Design



North Carolina Star.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Today's design is one of the loveliest of all the variations of the star pattern. It is the authentic state star pattern of North Carolina and, of course, quite old. Originally it was executed in blue and white calico, since those colors and that fabric were most common. Today it is usually made in modern materials in a variety of colors.

For a quilt pattern in this design send 5 cents in coin or stamps to Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, printing your name and address clearly. Or call at the Chicago Tribune Public Service office, One South Dearborn.

Page Mr. Pomeroy

By ELIZABETH JORDAN

SYNOPSIS.

Bruce Pomeroy, brought up in poverty, befriended a Russian, Boris Orleneff. In return Orleneff, before his death, left Pomeroy an invention, which is about to make Pomeroy a millionaire. Orleneff stipulated that his brother's family, whom he considered parasites, were not to get a cent from the invention. While walking through New York's Central park one winter's morning Pomeroy is kidnaped and taken to a small island off the coast of Maine, where he is made a prisoner in a luxurious home, but kept on a starvation diet. His captor is Boris Orleneff, nephew of the inventor. Boris' cousins, Cyril and Olga Norrikoff, assisted in the abduction. They want Pomeroy to make a settlement. He refuses. Boris invites Pomeroy to join the family circle downstairs. The older members are unaware that Pomeroy is an involuntary guest. He is impressed by Boris' sister, Irma, and his mother. Pomeroy manages to elude his guard, Grateful, and get out of his room, but a raging storm makes escape impossible. Olga Norrikoff offers to help him escape if he will take her to New York. She tells him they are all starving. That the house was let to them for the winter. Boris and Cyril hadn't been able to get work. Pomeroy gives Grateful money to buy food. He visits Andy Mason, caretaker of the island estate, and enlists his aid. Cyril finds him there and challenges him to a fight.

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.

MURDEROUS IMPULSES.

Together they returned to the house and entered it through the unlocked front door. They met no one on the little journey. Pomeroy helped Cyril up the broad staircase and his victim let him do it, leaning on him heavily.

"Better make some repairs before your women folks see you," Pomeroy suggested, and shot back the bolt of his room door with a sense of deep inner content.

"Go and look at yourself," Cyril suggested with a sudden grin that showed teeth stained with blood. Evidently the sight of Pomeroy's condition had cheered him. He had certainly banished any expression of superiority Bruce's battered face might have worn before the fight. He threw in a casual wave of the hand as he turned away. Later, Pomeroy was glad to recall that grin, and the change of feeling expressed by the gesture, for this was the last time he ever saw young Norrikoff. He returned the grin, and Cyril staggered back along the rear hall.

Pomeroy entered his now familiar retreat. He discovered when he looked in a mirror that Norrikoff's complacency over his opponent's appearance was justified. Pomeroy, too, needed some repairs.

He was in his shirt sleeves, brushing his shining brown hair before the dressing case, when Grateful entered with his evening meal. Evidently it was the man's first visit since noon.

"Here, what ye been doin'?" he asked sharply.

"You have actually made up your mind to murder me, if you can get away with it."

"Changing my shirt. That's allowed once in three days, isn't it? And, by the way, Grateful, I'd be much obliged if you would sponge and press this suit of mine again."

The effort to divert Grateful's attention was unsuccessful.

"You been tryin' to beat up the boss?" he asked, and his voice put a razor-edge on the question.

"Nothing like it," Pomeroy assured him. He added serenely, "If you don't like my looks go and take a squint at Mr. Norrikoff."

Grateful's round disc softened.

"Where'd it happen?" he asked in the low voice of a conspirator.

"Out in a pavilion near the shore. A fine, airy place it was, too, for a friendly bout," Pomeroy added complacently.

Grateful's face hardened again.

"How in hell did ye git there?"

"Young Norrikoff led me to it. And now, Grateful," Pomeroy added firmly, "if you have absorbed all the information your nature demands for the time being, I'll eat. You can carry in wood while I renew my tissues."

"Aw right. Gimme the soot."

"Now?"

"Sure. I'll take off them blood stains, too, while I'm at it."

Pomeroy ate his supper absently. Things were looking up. He had established connections with the caretaker. He would be out of this net within twenty-four hours. Surveying himself in the mirror after a bath and a fresh shave he had been relieved to find few indications left of the combat.

Pomeroy came to a quick decision. He turned from the dressing case and faced Grateful with a complete change of manner.

"Come over here and take that chair," he said crisply, swinging a chair forward and dropping into another that faced it. "You and I are going to have a showdown, right now."

Grateful hesitated, staring at him, head slightly lowered, like a bull in the arena. His small eyes looked like points of heat.

"Sit down," Pomeroy thundered.

Grateful sat down, slowly.

"I'll listen to wot ye gotta say," he growled.

"You bet you will. I'm going to tell you a few things you've got to know." Pomeroy settled himself comfortably in his chair, slipped his hands behind his head, crossed his legs, and went on conversationally. But he never took his eyes from the hot little eyes of his companion.

"The rest of the people in this house are babes in the woods," he began. "Your boss, as you call him, has no idea of what he has laid himself open to by this outrage on me. Even Norrikoff, the originator of it, has no notion of what he let himself in for. But you and I," Pomeroy added meaningly, "are not so innocent." He went on slowly, underlining every word he spoke. "We've learned a few things. We know that the crime of kidnaping is punished now by life imprisonment. We know that you and your boss and young Norrikoff are facing a life term, and we know exactly what that will mean to you and to them. Miss Norrikoff has said a good deal lately about what she called 'the hell of this house.' Well, you and I know that the hell of this house lately has been a picnic compared to what you three men will be up against in prison."

Grateful's eyes continued steady but he moved his tongue over his dry lips.

"Git down to brass tacks," he said harshly. "If ye want to make a deal wit' me, spill it."

Pomeroy laughed and at the sound Grateful half rose from his chair, then dropped back again.

"A deal with you?" Pomeroy said contemptuously. "Why the hell would I make a deal with you? If I made a deal, which I won't, I'd make it with your boss. What I'm doing now," he went on evenly, "is simply making it clear that I see through you. I can read you, Grateful, as if you were a primer. You're not naturally a vicious type. In fact you have several redeeming points of character. Your devotion to the boss is the best of them. When I first came here, and you thought I was going to meet the boss's terms, you were pretty decent. You could have made me very uncomfortable in a lot of ways, but you didn't do it. Then I disappointed you. You realized that I wasn't going to let myself be bled by your boss or by anybody else. You turned resentful at once. A little later you turned nasty. Then you began to think about the consequences of this crime you three have committed. The others aren't worrying about them, but you are. For the last forty-eight hours you've been brooding day and night. And now, you poor damned fool," he added incisively, dropping his casual pose and sitting up abruptly in his chair, "you have actually made up your mind to murder me, if you can get away with it!"

"Look here! Wot in hell you talkin' about? Say—yer crazy—"

Grateful sputtered and blustered, but his eyes dropped for the first time and his pallid skin took on a bluish tint.

Pomeroy watched him thoughtfully.

"This is the way you worked it out. If I get back to New York it will be all over for you and your bunch. You'd be on your way to Sing Sing in a few weeks. Then, you reminded yourself of that pump of yours. You told yourself you couldn't live long anyway, so you might as well make a big spectacular play and save the boss. You decided that if you murdered me and buried me somewhere in that damned cellar of yours, or burned me up in the big furnace you've got down there, you would all escape paying the piper. You began to think you could attend to the whole matter tonight. You would tell the others I made off in the boat. You would send the old tub adrift, to give color to that story. You thought no one would be the wiser, even the boss. That was the way you were figuring it out as you came and went in this room, with your trays and your wood. And, by God, Grateful, you've thrown out an atmosphere of evil that was like a thick fog! I felt it the first day you let it rise in you. I've been feeling it ever since. It's a queer thing." Pomeroy ended thoughtfully. "That phase of it, I mean. I wouldn't have believed a man's black thoughts and murderous impulses could be so tangible."

GASOLINE ALLEY—THE WOMAN IN THE CASE

I'M TRIXIE. I SAW CLARENCE PICK UP A BLACKJACK JUST LIKE THAT NEAR THE SMASHED CAR THE MORNING AFTER THE HOLDUP.
TRIXIE, AREN'T YOU TELLING ME THIS BECAUSE YOU LIKE CLARENCE AND WANT HIM TO GET OFF.
LIKE HIM! SAY HE TWISTED MY ARM PRETTY NEARLY OFF BECAUSE I SAW HIM PICK IT UP.
THEN YOU DON'T THINK HE KNEW ANYTHING ABOUT THIS HOLDUP BEFORE IT HAPPENED.
NO. I THINK HE JUST THOUGHT IT WAS SMART TO CARRY THAT THING AROUND.
THANKS, TRIXIE. I'M GLAD YOU CALLED THIS TO MY ATTENTION.

Movie Relief Society Faces Record Task

Film Fund Will Distribute 2,500 Baskets.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Things have been picking up in the way of movie production and movie jobs within the latter months of 1933, but the Motion Picture Relief fund still faces the largest job in its Christmas history. The fund will distribute 2,500 baskets to the industry's own needy. Movie people, many of them on a straitened budget, contributed $6,000 in small sums.

Greta Garbo made one of her infrequent public appearances in escort of Rouben Mamoulian at Cocoanut Grove. She danced once.

Jim Vesey, who arranges the snow effects on roofs, door steps, and window sills for Metro studio, has been one of the busiest gentlemen in Hollywood for the last week. After he gets through with his studio work every night, his time is in demand painting snowscapes and Christmas scenes on the mirrors of newly opened barrooms.

Lupe Velez did not make a hit when she brought two of her Christmas presents from Johnny Weismuller to the studio café. The presents were tiny Chihuahua dogs named Whisky and Soda. Lupe put them down on the table, and the pups ran around on the table cloth, ate pieces of butter, and threatened some of the lunchers' food.

Radio studio has assigned Wanda Touchok and George Morris [Chester's brother] to write the screen play of "Sea Girl," background shots for which were taken during a year's jaunt about islands of the South seas by George Dromgold and James Shackleford, representing the studio.

Richard Dix is at his ranch, slowly recuperating from his recent operation, and won't be ready to start his next film—already several times postponed—until after New Year's. It is titled "The Crime Doctor."

Jack Larue was knocked unconscious in an automobile accident several nights ago, when his car skidded on a rainy street and hit a telephone pole. Due to a gash on his head, it was necessary to shave some of Larue's hair, so that Jack is finishing the latter half of the film "Good Dame" with his hat on, after playing hatless through all the other sequences.

Carole Lombard, who steps around a lot these days with George Raft, presented Mack ["Killer"] Gray, Raft's bodyguard, with a toy machine gun for Christmas. Carole has invited 120 guests for her combination house warming and Christmas eve party. A principal guest will be her recently divorced husband and personal pal, Bill Powell.

Mary Carr, the "screen mother," is now a "screen grandmother" in "Registered Nurse," with Lyle Talbot and Bebe Daniels at Warners.

Margaret McConnell, brunette cigaret ad beauty from Chicago, who crashed the films during the year, is going back to Illinois and Indiana to visit her parents and relatives over the holidays. Her brother, Joe, is going with her.

Engaged Girl Sets $3,000 as Marriage Sum

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"After courting a girl for several years, spending every dollar in expensive gifts trying to express my love, the girl tells me all of a sudden she feels she would like to go out with other men. We were engaged, understand, and discussing future plans for marriage. Her belief is that one can't marry without having three thousand dollars saved. What do you think of this girl? Is she worth the heartache she has caused me?" O.K.

Whether she's worth the heartache or not, she's causing it, isn't she, O. K.? Will continue to, no doubt! Those girls with a high price on their heads manage somehow to cause the heartaches. But the question is whether the male heart is suffering as much as his vanity. The fact that he can't meet the lady's requirements may cause the ache. That is what you'd better determine about yourself, O. K. You might better clarify your real position in relation to the girl.

You've obviously been striving to "put up a big front" with the expensive gift gestures. Attached no end of importance to them, too, we take it, or you wouldn't be mentioning them along with your broken heart. Probably never noticed the fact that the young lady did not attach as much value to them as you.

If the young lady puts a three thousand dollar price upon her hand, she must think she's worth it. She may be and again she may not be. Our private opinion is that the sum was named to postpone the marriage. Young women with genuine romance in their hearts, while they might favor a certain security, would show more of the gambling instinct.

But what we started out to show was that ego is often the ruling motive in expensive gift giving and not the romantically beautiful thing the disappointed "sugar-daddy" would like to believe.

Ceremony to Be Held at Fourth Presbyterian.

Castle, Miss Nancy Traylor, and Miss Virginia Thatcher.

Tweedledee and Tweedledum, the March Hare and the White Rabbit, will live again for the grown-ups of society tonight when they attend the world premiere of the fascinating film, "Alice in Wonderland," in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel. A benefit for the Chicago Maternity center, the event has the aroma of a real first night with all of the boxes and main floor seats subscribed for by the city's fashionables.

Delightful Charlotte Henry, who passed through the city a fortnight ago and met the directors of the Maternity center, plays the title rôle as Alice. Miss Henry was selected from among 6,800 girls from all over the world for the part.

The Walter Brewsters and the John Alden Carpenters are to have a box party together this evening. The Charles S. Deweys will have the Watson Armours and the John Pichers as guests in their box.

Others who will entertain their friends in the ballroom horseshoe are the Laird Bells, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Blackburn, Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, whose daughter, Mrs. George Henry Schulz, has been the ticket chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Houghteling, Mr. and Mrs. Clark J. Lawrence, Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Welles.

Juniors to Hear Talk on Love.

"Love" . . . ever an engrossing subject . . . will bring the juniors of the Alliance Française together this afternoon in the drawing room of Mrs. Walter S. Brewster's handsome Lake View avenue home. George Cauuet is to discuss the topic. Miss Jean Wilhelm and Miss Louise Dewey as chairman and vice chairman, respectively, will assist Mrs. Brewster at the tea table.

The new ticket committee for the performances of "Peter Pan" to start in January in the Junior league's Saturday Morning Children's theater will meet this morning in the league office in the Italian Court building. Miss Catharine Noyes and Miss Jane Rowe are co-chairmen.

Because Mrs. Norman Pritchard and Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer have been literally swamped with requests for seats for the next series of current events lectures by Clifton Utley, under the sponsorship of the Junior league, beginning on Jan. 5, at the Casino club, the committee has decided to admit more persons to these talks by the young director of the Council on Foreign Relations. Each member and ex-member of the league may bring two guests.

The second series of ten weeks—the first series was completed last Friday—will be held at 11 a. m. every Friday on and after Jan. 5.

Mrs. D. M. Ryerson Is in Asheville.

Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson with her daughter, Joan, and her son, Anthony, is in Asheville for the Christmas holidays. As soon as it is time for Anthony to return to his studies at the Brooks school, Mrs. Ryerson and Joan will go to Jamaica for the late winter season.

Miss Katharine Linn, who has been here a fortnight visiting her brother, Winfield Scott Linn of Fullerton parkway, is going to spend two months more in Chicago. She entertained at a cocktail party last evening for Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis, who is going to Washington as soon as congress opens.

Miss Linn may go to Florida around the end of February. She has spent the last few winters in California.

Among the young women at home from Connecticut college are Miss Dorothy L. Winter, daughter of the Hugh P. Winters, Miss Dorothy M. Bard, daughter of the Francis N. Bards of Highland Park, Miss Margaret Richardson, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Norman E. Richardson of Evanston, Miss Mary Louise Hays and Miss Virginia Hays, daughters of the Clyde Hayeses of Wilmette, and Miss Virginia Rich, daughter of the Stanley Riches of Winnetka.

School Dance to Be Tonight.

Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze, Mrs. A. Merrill Coit, and Mrs. Leo M. Nicolson will be among the mothers and chaperones tonight at the high school dance of the University School for Girls. Miss Virginia Nicolson is chairman of the dance committee. The party will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingman Douglass and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Childs will entertain parties of ten this evening in the College inn of the Hotel Sherman when the Chicago committee of Arden Shore holds its second Thursday night roundup.

The Misses Jean Anderson, Caroline Buck, Lorraine Eddy, Prudence Johnson, Carola Keller, Marion Klink, Dorothy Lansing, Molly Mercer, Janet Seidel and Suzanne Traub are to be hostesses tonight at a dance at the Medinah Michigan avenue club.

Hoovers Will Spend Christmas at Home First Time in 7 Years

Stanford University, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—For the first time in seven years, the Herbert Hoovers will spend Christmas in their own home here.

The big gray-white house on San Juan hill, which has seen but little of its traveled owners since it was built on the Stanford university campus soon after the war, is abuzz with festive preparations, like other homes of the land. The Yuletide board will see an old fashioned family reunion about the Christmas turkey, to be carved by the former President.

The Junior Herbert Hoovers, with their three children, are expected on Friday from their southern California home in Sierra Madre, where young Hoover is connected with an aviation company. Allan, the younger son, will come Saturday from Fresno, if he "can get off in time" from his work in a bank there.

Hoover himself, in pink of health and spirits, friends say, smiles frequently these days in his rôle of citizen and grandfather.

Economical tips for week-end food shoppers—a weekly radio feature—will be presented tomorrow by Mary Meade over station W-G-N. Tune in at 11:10 o'clock for Miss Meade's market chat.

BY MARY MEADE.

If you're still dashing out after Christmas seals and tissue paper these days, or speculating on how to smuggle in skates and Christmas trees without a family of Sharp Eyes finding you out, then you don't have to be told that the stores are one grand jam.

But a thing you may not have guessed is just this. Stores this year would be even more jammed if many of the ladies who invariably used to turn up buying ties and socks for the men, books and lunch sets for the girl friends weren't swathed in aprons turning out their Christmas gifts this year from the kitchen!

Yes, ma'am! It's gotten to be as much a fad as hooked rugs and patchwork quilts. But kitchen Christmas presents are quantities more than just a fad. They're fun to make, friendly to give, and above all, most gentle on the pocketbook.

One of my best loved Christmas treats is candied fruits of every sort and description. Probably that's because I go ahead and eat all I wish of them with little chance of ruining appetite or digestion. They're less concentrated and more healthful, doctors tell us, than are the majority of Christmas sweets.

For the what-to-candy we have the choice of oranges, citron, apricots, cherries, pineapple, figs, and so forth. Just let the fruit drain if it's juicy, then dry with a clean towel. Boil up a sirup made in the proportion of 1 cup of water to 3 cups of sugar. Cook it till sirupy, then drop in the fruit and cook over a low flame for 10 minutes. Watch carefully so the sirup will not burn. Cook the fruit till it becomes clear and transparent, then drain it out and toss in a bag containing granulated sugar. All sorts of dried fruits are tempting when candied. One simply has to soak them overnight before the candying begins.

We'll not be stingy. We'll give a second candied fruit recipe which likewise may apply to many varieties.

CANDIED ORANGE AND LEMON PEELS.

Peel from 3 oranges [or 4 lemons]
½ cup sugar
½ cup water

Remove the peel in quarters and cook with 1 teaspoon salt and enough water to cover for 30 minutes. Then drain and cover with fresh water, boiling till tender, or about 30 minutes longer. Drain. Now heat together the sugar and water. When the mixture boils add the peel and cook it slowly until the sirup is nearly absorbed. Drain off the excess and roll the peel in sugar. Cut into strips with scissors.

Naturally a body could stop here. But let's not. Colored peel, spiced peel, and chocolate coated peel are all too good For the colored varieties add red or green vegetable coloring to the sirup to tint the peel. Or if fancy so dictates, roll the cooked peel in colored sugar crystals.

For adding an odd little snap to the flavor, deposit a discreet amount of cinnamon, clove, or ginger in the sirup. Or, instead of rolling the cut strips of candied fruit peel in sugar, coat them with melted dipping chocolate.

Vivid Posters from Foreign Places Shown

European Advance Noted in Academy Exhibit.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An original and unusual exhibit opened yesterday in the studios of the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, 18 South Michigan avenue. The exhibit consists of foreign posters from the Orson Lowell collection and includes many posters which have never before been shown on this side of the Atlantic.

One of the featured groups is the Scandinavian. Sweden has advanced immensely in the handicrafts, pewter and glassware being featured at several recent important American showings including that of A Century of Progress last summer, and equally far have their creative artists gone in executing posters and other forms of commercial art. This current exhibit attests their clever and amusing skill.

France, Germany and England, however, are all running mates of the Scandinavian artists and the current show gives an excellent impression of the work being turned out in the various countries. The posters cover the travel, theater and commercial field and are brilliant mouthpieces of the tendencies alive at present abroad.

The colors are striking in boldness and the designs both decorative and impressionistic in conception. Dashing suggestiveness characterizes much of the work and the rest is realistically modern. The famous "black cat" poster by Manet is one of the featured pieces in the show.

The exhibition will continue to Jan. 2 and is open to the public during its entire run. It is well worth seeing.

Another Yuletide exhibit that should be announced is of paintings suitable for gifts which are being shown in the Hoosier Art gallery, 211 West Wacker drive. This is a pleasant and attractive exhibition of work by artists established in this locality with whose skill many of us are already acquainted. It will continue through Jan. 15.

Plan to Enjoy Christmas Eve with Your Child

Don't Let Last Minute Rush Get in Way.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Christmas eve.

They're magic words to childhood. In their own way they're almost as magical as Christmas day. But in a different way. Christmas eve has all the magic of anticipation with that touch of mystery that comes with darkness and the thought of Santa in a star-spangled sky, holding in his champing reindeer who are just r'arin' to go.

Or if the children are a little older the magic of anticipation and the mystery of night are mingled with thoughts of that Christmas night so long ago when the Three Kings of the East travelled, bearing the first Christmas gifts this old earth has seen, toward a bright and distant star.

Christmas eve when you're a child is almost an ecstatic time. It's a joy to parents but in quite a different way—and all too often is completely swallowed up in hurry and scurry and hectic busy-ness.

Try this Christmas to manage it differently. Try to have time for the children on Christmas eve. Carols are lovely sung the night before Christmas. This is a perfect time to read once more—and for the last time until another year rolls around—the poem beloved of all children beginning:

'Twas the night before Christmas
And all through the house
Not a creature was stirring
Not even a mouse.
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care . . .

Have time for a leasurely choosing of stockings to hang before the fireplace. The little ankle socks are so tiny that for Santa Claus' convenience it may be necessary for some one to lend a long sock or long stocking to the baby of the family.

Leave time for a final wrapping of presents or finishing touches to the tree, if the children are old enough to trim their own.

And even allow time for a cozy going to bed, not too late, when everything is done and there's nothing left for the children to do but to sigh with contentment.

We lose a lot by hurrying. You'll enjoy Christmas eve more and so will the children if you clear the decks for it.

"Reunion in Vienna" Causes Austria to Ban M-G-M Films

VIENNA Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Austrian government has placed an embargo on Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer films until the picture "Reunion in Vienna" is taken off the screen throughout the world it became known today.

The portrayal of the Hapsburg prince in the American film company's picture was described as offensive to Austrian sensibilities.

The film was produced some time ago when any one in Culver City or Vienna could "kid" the Hapsburgs—former ruling house of Austria—without limit.

But times have changed with vague references recently to the possibility of the government's veering toward a monarchy, and it is popular now to kid the republican government of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The half mad Hapsburg prince in the film "Reunion in Vienna" was portrayed by John Barrymore.

The story, from a play by Robert E. Sherwood, concerns the return to Vienna of an exiled prince for a royalist reunion, during which he attempts to revive an old romance.

Halo Hats Take Lead as Youthful Style for Spring

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Hats that are worn around Paris this mid-winter can be divided into three big lots—Edwardian, halo, and sporty, brimmed Tyrolean. Of the three the hat with a brim like a halo is the one that has youth and vigor as a style. The dressmakers, who are taking up millinery all over the place, are going in for this shape to be worn with first spring clothes. Jeanne Lanvin shows halo brimmed hats with all kinds of clothes from suits to evening.

They sometimes look like the headdress of a Russian princess, and then again they look like Junior's roll brimmed sailor with the ribbon left off. The great Reboux has her own halo hat entry, which is shown in the lower part of the sketch herewith. It is made of velvet with the brim sweeping back along the crown, and then upward, as shown. It gets small at the back of the neck and finishes with a flourishing velvet bow. All around the edge is a narrow velvet ruffle that gives this hat a personal finish.

At the top is Reboux's oriental velvet turban, which is a new entry for dressy and evening wear. It isn't yet a style, but a few smart women wear it here. Reboux makes it of black panne velvet, and she also designs the velvet cape to go with it, lining and collaring this cape with pale pink ostrich feathers.

Prevention Easier Than Cure of Deep Lines Between Eyes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

How many people have those two deep-cut lines between the eyes, just over the nose bridge? You can count dozens of them in a trip on almost any conveyance. Sometimes there are three lines, these vertical ones known as frown lines. No other lines in the face, it seems to me, become so permanently fixed nor are so disfiguring. They look so deeply grooved, corded.

Of course, their treatment should have begun away back months, may be years, ago. Eyestrain causes them times without number. Postponement of eyeglass wearing, or poorly fitted glasses, or bad reading habits, and so on.

And frowning causes many of them. Just a habit of frowning rather than anything to frown upon. Folk don't frown upon enough these days to create as many of these lines as are seen. So, it is just a careless mannerism developed into a habit in many cases.

They're hard to smooth out once they've cut a line deeply. It takes months and months of patient brow smoothing, massaging, and astringent applying.

Best get a new habit now. While you sit, or stand, or read get the habit of taking two fingers of each hand and beginning over the frown lines work fingers out smoothly and flatly toward the temples. If at a table and it is convenient, use the entire palm of both hands, working in opposite direction, smoothing, smoothing the troubled lines. Even so, they'll probably call for circular massage with finger tips dipped in a good wrinkle lotion. No trick to work the fingers so. The trick is to keep at it long enough to effect a change. Any time, every time you can think of it, takes your lotion and your finger tips and work the circular massage racket on the lines.

And for good measure use a plaster nights over the affected area. One of our professional beauties, noting this characteristic of frown lines in her family, forestalls her brow against them by wearing the frown plasters to prevent them.

MINUTE MYSTERY
By H. A. RIPLEY

(Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.)

Dr. Fordney is professor of criminology at a famous university. His advice is often sought by the police of many cities when confronted with particularly baffling cases. This problem, which has ONLY ONE POSSIBLE SOLUTION, has been taken from his case-book covering hundreds of criminal investigations.

NO NEWS TO CITY EDITOR GOOD NEWS TO WIDOW, THREE CHILDREN.

"Listen carefully, Leone," Prof. Fordney said to his secretary, Miss Johannes. "I'm going to read you a newspaper clipping from the News-Press, St. Joseph, Mo., sent me by Mr. loving. Ready?"

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—[AP]—That tradition about city editors never being surprised got a jolt today when a telephone on a local city desk rang and a voice said:

"I want to borrow a wife and children."

"You what?"

The voice gave evidence of embarrassment.

"It's Thanksgiving, isn't it?" it went on. "Well, I'd like to be the father of a family just for a day and take 'em out and buy 'em a Thanksgiving dinner—a widow who doesn't know where the next meal is coming from. It's just a whim. I—well, I used to be an orphan, you see——"

More conversation, names, credentials.

"Call me in half an hour," said the city editor.

Then he telephoned a number on a list. City editors always have lists, he explained. The woman's voice at the other end, at first incredulous, suddenly broke.

"I'm just happy, that's all," she cried. "We hadn't a thing in the house and have been almost starving for three months and——"

The second call came promptly.

"Everything's set," said the city editor. "A widow—three kids—nothing to eat in the house. She's washing their faces now. Here's the address."

That's fine," said the voice. "I'll give 'em the time of their lives."

The city editor hung up. The managing editor stood at his elbow to ask the routine question:

"Anything doing?"

"Not a thing," said the city editor.

"Now, what's wrong with that story," Fordney inquired of Miss Johannes.

WHAT'S YOUR ANSWER?

Perhaps you have a story or problem you would like to submit to Prof. Fordney. If so, send it to him care of this paper. He will be delighted to receive it.

CHRISTMAS-TIME and Cranberry Sauce—an ideal combination. The gay red cranberry, with its delightful tangy flavor fittingly represents the cheer and happiness of the season.

Fresh cranberry sauce is delicious served with roasts or poultry. It is easy to make with this recipe—

"10-Minute" Cranberry Sauce (Stewed Cranberries)

Boil 2 cups of water and 1½ to 2 cups of sugar together 5 minutes, then add 4 cups Eatmor Cranberries. Boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins pop open. Remove from fire when the popping stops, and allow the sauce to remain in vessel undisturbed until cool.

LOYOLA U. FIVE RALLIES TO WIN OPENER, 24-22

Badgers Take Fifth in Row.

A brilliant second half offense which netted five successive goals gave Loyola university a 24 to 22 victory over St. Ambrose college in its opening basketball game last night at the Loyola gymnasium.

Trailing 14 to 11 at the half, Loyola opened the second period with a deceptive pass attack which permitted Motz to sink three baskets and Schuessler and Frisch one each before the Davenport collegians scored. St. Ambrose tried desperately to overcome this lead, but the best it could do was to count three goals and a pair of free throws in the second period.

After taking a 6 to 2 lead early in the game, Loyola watched St. Ambrose run up a 14 to 11 margin.

Motz, Loyola center, was high scorer with 12 points. Hogan made many of his scoring opportunities possible with his accurate passing and floor work. Loyola's new men performed well.

WISCONSIN WINS, 35-10

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Avenging a defeat suffered on the same floor a year ago, Wisconsin tonight defeated the Stevens Point Teachers, 35 to 10. Stevens Point last year humbled the Badgers, 28 to 24.

Approximately 3,500 Central Wisconsin fans saw tonight's engagement in which Tommy Smith, forward, led the Wisconsin attack with five field goals and two free throws. The Badgers led at the half, 12 to 7.

The Pointers scored only one free throw and a field goal in the last half as Wisconsin ran its string of victories for the season to five straight.

MARQUETTE BEATS HUSKERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Marquette tonight concluded its pre-Christmas basketball schedule by defeating Nebraska, 25 to 22, for its fourth victory in five starts.

Marquette rolled up a 13 to 5 margin at the half. Nebraska then came to life and, led by Dwight Loder, a substitute, scored 13 points in ten minutes. Except for this offensive demonstration the Hilltoppers held the upper hand.

Last Home Game Until Jan. 2.

It was Marquette's last home appearance until Jan. 2, when it plays Wisconsin a return game in the Auditorium. The Hilltoppers, however, are scheduled for an engagement against the University of Chicago there on Dec. 29.

WAKE LETTER BOX.

DEAR WAKE: I beg leave to answer a ridiculous and illogical statement made by "Nebraska Russ." The idea of Stanford being "slaughtered" by six teams in the Big Ten. Had he said two or three of them MIGHT have beaten Stanford in the Rose bowl game his statement might be taken as that of a rational mind.

I do not think Stanford as good as Southern California, although it won from the Trojans, but it must be one fine team. Its tie with Northwestern does not mean any more than Minnesota's tie with Indiana. The superior team often has one bad game in its system, or the inferior team often plays inspired football.

Pacific coast teams have won an overwhelming majority of games played with teams east of the Rockies. That includes teams in all sections. Notre Dame is an outstanding eastern eleven on its record for the last 15 years. In eight games played Southern California has won four and Notre Dame four. Southern California has an edge of three touchdowns and 15 points.

California alone has eight major teams. It takes seven states to make eleven major teams in the midwest. California is some state!

TONIGHT'S SCHEDULE.
8:15—Ponzi vs. Rudolph.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Erwin Rudolph's neck got red last night, an old fashioned red. Erwin, a bland Bohemian from Cleveland, O., is a pocket billiard player, and for 17 days has played and watched the other nine boys in the world's tournament at the 131 South Wabash Avenue Recreation room go through their business. Erwin was the perfect court room witness until last night, a treasure who would be a delight to any defense attorney and menace to the prosecution.

Rudolph was the bus man of the show, the most consistent spectator at the almost interminable cue marathon. He came up to last night's game in second place, right back of Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., and Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia. He needed only one game to tie either of them at six victories and two defeats, and he was playing Caras. His tonsils gleamed a rosy hue as he stretched himself over shot after shot to whip Jimmy, 125 to 39, in ten innings.

Clever Play Unnoticed.

Rudolph's ire was aroused by the fact that he had been playing some of the cleverest billiards of the tournament, and nobody, least of all the daring Caras, had paid a bit of attention to him. They forgot that he has scored the high run of the meet, an 80. So Erwin decided to go out and show the rest of the lads that he is still one of the smartest and most courageous pool players in the country.

He did just that so well that tonight he will meet Ponzi for the championship itself, and the well cluttered house which witnessed his victory last night was already extending sympathies to Ponzi.

In last night's match Rudolph took away the breath not only of the rapid firing Caras, but that of the customers as well. In the sixth inning, he knocked off a run of 39, which was concluded when he tried to cut the four ball into the right side pocket. This gave him a lead of 65 to 41 for the frame after Caras had come back with a 15 in his half. Rudy then tossed in a 16 in the seventh, and after scratching deliberately in the eighth, nudged in 16 balls in the next inning.

Dashes Off 31 to Win.

When Caras played safe in the ninth, after two successive scratches, Rudolph decided to quit playing around and dashed off 31 balls to win, finishing up with the 13 ball in the left foot corner.

Score by innings:

RUDOLPH — 0 26 2 0 0 39 16 0 15 31—125.

Charles Seaback, the unhappy one of the ten contestants, yesterday afternoon held a two hour conversation with 15 billiard balls and a green faced table dented by six pockets.

Mr. Seaback's chatter was not quite sufficiently eloquent, however, for after the two hours were up he was a loser for the eighth and last time in the tournament. This time the defeat was administered by the impatient young Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia by a score of 125 to 107 in 34 innings.

Score by innings:

Reds Swap Two Players for Koenig

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Philadelphia National league club announced today it has acquired Otto Bluege, shortstop, and Irvine Jeffries, second baseman, from Cincinnati in a trade for Mark Koenig, veteran infielder.

Koenig came to the Phillies in the deal for Chuck Klein, who went to the Chicago Cubs for cash and also Harvey Hendrick, utility player, and Ted Kleinhans, pitcher.

Bluege is a younger brother of Ossie Bluege, Washington third baseman.

LIKES INFIELD SETUP.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 20.—(AP)—With the acquisition of Mark Koenig from the Philadelphia National league club, Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said today that "Our infield is beginning to look pretty good."

"We haven't given up anything that we would utilize in 1934, and we have obtained a corking good infielder who can hit. Now if Santa Claus would bring us a third baseman we would be sitting pretty."

MacPhail explained that records showed the new Cincinnati second base combination of Piet and Koenig ranked second in hitting to Vaughan and Thevenow of Pittsburgh.

The deal was the fourth MacPhail has swung since becoming leader of the Reds. He obtained Piet and Comorosky from Pittsburgh for Lucas and Roettger; sent George Grantham to New York for Pitcher Glenn Spencer; bought Gordon Slade outright from St. Louis, and still, he revealed, has more irons in the fire in his plan to trade the Reds into a spot above eighth place in the league stands.

Boxer Jailed 20 Days for Taking a Dive

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA CITY, Dec. 20.—Expressing his disapproval of Panama's featherweight champion, Rafael [Kid] Hurtado, for taking the count in the third round of his title bout without being hit, Mayor Carlos de la Ossa today sentenced Hurtado to 20 days in jail. The boxing commission suspended him for life. He also will lose his share of the purse. A big crowd gathered at Panama's national stadium to witness the combat.

East Football Team Off for Coast Battle

Twenty-two eastern and midwestern football stars gathered at Dyche stadium, Evanston, yesterday for a brief workout and then left for the west coast via the Chicago and North Western railroad. They will play a western all-star team at San Francisco Jan. 1.

The squad posed for pictures and then traveled through a few warm-up exercises. Most of the players were unfamiliar with the Warner system, employed by Co-Coaches Dick Hanley and Andy Kerr, and so were introduced to its fundamentals.

Two From Michigan.

Included in the group were a number of men who gained nation-wide recognition during the last year. They are Joe Skladany, and Mike Sebastian, Pittsburgh; Francis Schammel, Iowa; Charles Ceppi, Princeton; Chuck Bernard and Herman Everhardus, Michigan; and Beattie Feathers, Tennessee.

Those who were captains of their respective teams at some time during the season were Waltin, Sebastian, and Skladany, Pittsburgh; Gailus and Gillman, Ohio State; Lukats, Notre Dame; Jones, Indiana; Anderson, Colgate; James, Bucknell; and Danowski, Fordham.

Who's Who on Squad.

The complete squad is as follows:

LIFSCHULTZ FIVE BEATS WICHITA CHIEFTAINS, 42-38

Wichita, Kas., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Chicago Lifschultz defeated the Wichita Chieftains, 42 to 38, in a Missouri Valley A. A. U. basketball game here tonight.

The Chieftains, apparently hoping to wear down the Lifschultz, who had only one reserve player, forced the play at high speed throughout. Gruenig, Chicago center, accounted for 23 of his team's points and gave an amazing exhibition of pivot work.

TERMS ALREADY ACCEPTED, SAYS CAMPUS REPORT

Walsh Resigns as St. Louis U. Coach.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—North Carolina State college athletic authorities today outlined a football coaching proposition to Heartly W. [Hunk] Anderson, former Notre Dame coach, which is interesting enough to warrant his "hanging around a while." Campus reports were that Anderson had accepted terms and that this will be announced in the next few days.

As he was leaving a conference with the faculty-alumni athletic council Anderson was asked whether any proposal made to him was interesting enough to warrant his staying here a day or two awaiting developments.

"Sure," he replied, "the proposition is interesting."

The former Notre Dame coach said he understood nothing could be given out on what the council was doing until it had laid the matter before Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of the college, who is ill at his home here.

In Touch with University.

Anderson revealed he also has been in touch with the University of North Carolina in regard to the coaching vacancy there, and said he planned to visit Auburn, where there is another opening, while in this part of the country.

"I was going south by Auburn, but when I got to Cincinnati an alumnus of North Carolina State contacted me. So I came here," he said.

Commenting on reports that the University of North Carolina was seeking a coach who could be an inspirational leader and football teacher, Anderson said:

"Yep, and that inspiration stays in a team just about three minutes. When its gone what can you do? They are on the field. You can't get out there and talk to 'em. You can try to shoot in a couple of spark plugs to pep them up. That's all."

Expects Close Game.

Anderson expressed the opinion that Columbia university will give Stanford "a good game" in the Rose Bowl tournament New Year's day.

"There oughtn't be more than a couple of touchdowns difference between the teams," Anderson said.

Anderson said he was in favor of keeping football scoring on the basis now used, despite the fact his team last season usually made many more first downs than opponents, even though they lost games. Football rules might be changed to give more offensive play by elimination of the one second stop on shifts, he said.

"Take out that one second stop on our offensive and we'll give 'em something," he added. "Let us go bang, bang, without a stop and the other team will never know where the ball is. They say they want more offense. Just remove that rule."

WALSH QUITS ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Charles F. [Chile] Walsh, head football coach at St. Louis university for the last four years, announced tonight that he had resigned.

The faculty board of the university, apprised of Walsh's announcement, verified it and stated Joe Maxwell, line coach, would take charge of the football situation.

It is regarded as probable that Maxwell, who, like Walsh, learned his football at Notre Dame, under the late Knute Rockne, would be appointed head coach.

Maxwell late today conferred with Father Robert S. Johnston, president of St. Louis university.

Walsh gave out a statement in which he said:

"Resigned as football coach and athletic director today. Sorry my plans demand leaving [St. Louis] tonight. Besides a badly needed rest, I have no future plans. I wish to take this opportunity to thank the alumni, my many friends and associates for the unusual assistance, counsel, and general loyalty shown to me for the last six years."

Walsh came to St. Louis university direct from the campus of Notre Dame following his graduation in the spring of 1928, and served two years as assistant to Hunk Anderson, then head coach. He was promoted to head coach when Anderson was unable to reach a salary agreement with university officials and returned to Notre Dame as line coach under Rockne.

YALE TO RETAIN ROOT

New York, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—Fortified by a strong undercurrent of undergraduate opinion, Malcolm Farmer, director of athletics at Yale, is likely to reappoint Reggie Root as head coach of Yale football.

While the reappointment of Root would meet with utter disapproval among New York alumni, it is being whispered at New Haven that Root is Farmer's choice.

It is the belief at New Haven that Root deserves more than a single season in which to prove himself. It also is believed he had no influence in the selection of his assistants, and on that score alone should be pardoned if his team was unsuccessful.

In this respect, it also is reported at Yale that even though Root may be reappointed, Charley Comerford and Bucky O'Connor, neither of whom, it is said, was appointed by Root, are certain to go. It isn't likely that Adam Walsh, former Notre Dame captain, will be released.

MILLER FLOORS LEVINE 3 TIMES TO WIN DECISION

Champion Unable to Stop Game Foe.

Freddy Miller, featherweight champion, won a ten round decision over Sammy Levine at the Arcadia Gardens last night. Miller's title was not at stake. He weighed 127 pounds and Levine 127½.

The champion started fast and dropped Levine twice in the first round, once for no count and then for nine. When the Chicago boxer arose the second time Miller bombarded him with terrific left and right hooks to the head and body.

But Levine proved to be in perfect condition and weathered the round.

Levine Lands Hard.

Miller slowed up in the second round and Levine stunned him twice with rights to the head. These two punches were the hardest that Sammy landed. From then on it was a question whether he would last ten rounds.

Levine was dropped again in the third for the count of one, staggered through the balance of the match, but showed plenty of gameness. He just couldn't untrack himself to solve Miller's southpaw style and his first chance against a champion availed him nothing but a beating.

Salvatore Takes Decision.

In the opening bout Frankie Keevil, London, England, 137, knocked out Les Darcy, Chicago, 138½, in the first round of a scheduled four rounder. Curtis Brown, Milwaukee, 147, knocked out Eddie Stiegel, Chicago, 148, in the final round of another four rounder. Jack King, Little Rock, Ark., 163, defeated Duane Maddox, Norfolk, Neb., 163½, in four rounds. Geno Salvatore, La Salle, Ill., 134½, pounded out a five round decision over George Engel, South Bend, Ind., 140.

A group of King Levinsky partisans yesterday watched Don McCorkindale train for his ten round bout with Levinsky at the Chicago Stadium Dec. 29. The British heavyweight champion apparently was not aware of the presence of his uninvited guests, headed by Mrs. Lena Levy, sister-manager of Levinsky, for he displayed his best form.

He finished the lambasting of one of his sparmates by flooring him with a straight right to the jaw at the end of the second round. This satisfied McCorkindale and his handlers immensely. Then Don worked two more rounds against his second sparring partner and employed a vigorous two fisted attack to the head and body.

Mrs. Levy and her followers, convinced that the Britain was showing off, walked out at this point with the caustic remark, "King will chase him through the ropes."

The card of the Rainbo Fronton tomorrow night was arranged yesterday. It follows:

Steve Psido vs. Eddie Chinski [5]. 141.
Joey Bozak vs. Art Mitchell [5]. 130.
Art Donovan vs. Scotty Sylvano [4]. 140.
Al Schirarto vs. Eddie Smith [4]. 135.
George Williams vs. Ossie Jefferson [4]. 165.
James High vs. John Holda [wrestling].

Ald. James R. Quinn is sponsoring the amateur program tonight at C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street. Eight matches are carded. Bob Crowley and Ernie Kulasik, welterweights, will meet in one. Harold Samson, Barney Ryan, Frank Kausak, and Sam Scurto are to appear in others.

Freddy Miller, featherweight champion, will leave today for Cincinnati, O., where he defends his title against Jackie Sharkey of Minneapolis, Minn., New Year's afternoon. Paul Dazzo started boxing yesterday for his 10 round semi-final against Varias Milling. The weight is set at 130 pounds, four more than when Milling scored a technical knockout over Paul on the west side last spring.

Kid Leonard, East Moline, Ill., and Solly Dukelsky, Chicago, have signed to meet in a 10 round match at Cicero stadium on Jan. 1. The bout will be at 160 pounds, Dukelsky's first at this weight. . . . Pee Wee Jarrell, Fort Wayne, Ind., welterweight, has agreed to head the show at White City New Year's afternoon. Johnny Coulon is attempting to obtain Puggy Weinert as his opponent.

Henry Rothier, welterweight, is in Davenport, Ia., for a hearing in Justice court today on the attachment proceedings brought by his manager. . . . Frankie Keevil will oppose Frank Sigilio in a preliminary match at the Stadium next week. . . . Joe Jahelka, former amateur champion, is serving as boxing instructor at Morton High school.

Attorney General Otto Kerner yesterday notified the Illinois Athletic commission that the statute controlling professional boxing and wrestling permits the issuance of licenses to women. This opinion was given at the request of the commission after application for renewal of a wrestling license was temporarily refused Nell Donald of Chicago. F. M.

WIEBOLDT AND SPARTA LEADERS PLAY 1 TO 1 TIE

The Wieboldt Wonderbolts and Sparta Leaders battled to a 1 to 1 tie in the second game of the indoor soccer series last night at the 124th Field Artillery armory. Neither team scored in the first half, but after 10 minutes of the second half Vidano, on a pass by Vleck, beat Jullian to put Sparta in the lead.

Five minutes later Munro caught a save from Baer, the Sparta goalkeeper, to score a goal from the touch line and even it up.

The Wonderbolts missed two easy chances to get in front, Munro missing a penalty kick on Rebello's handling and Harker, with an open goal, shooting high over the bar.

In the opening game the Armour's beat Calumet Park, 4 to 1.

BABY RUTHS OUT FOR 3D VICTORY OVER RIBBONS

The third amateur hockey league game between the Baby Ruths and Blue Ribbons will be played tonight at the Coliseum at 8:30 o'clock. A curtain raiser at 7 between Jones and Baumrucker and Roosevelt Bluebirds completes the double header.

Baby Ruths, although they won 6 to 2 and 5 to 3 in the two previous clashes, are expected to have a difficult time in making it three in a row. It will be the Baby Ruths last appearance of the year on local ice, as they will leave for a two game series in Calumet and Houghton, Mich.

The University of Wisconsin sextet will make its second appearance this season in Chicago Sunday afternoon against the Nestor Johnsons. This game will serve to get the Badgers in shape to meet the Queens university team from Kingston, Ont., on Dec. 28 in the first international collegiate game ever scheduled in Chicago.

Columbia Gets Brisk Drill on St. Louis Field

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Columbia university football team, bound for the Tournament of Roses, stopped off for five hours here today, went through a brisk workout under the watchful eyes of Coach Lou Little and his aids, and tonight resumed its journey westward.

While giving every indication of optimism, Coach Little said he almost had given up hope that Joe Ferrar, star tackle, might become scholastically eligible for the annual East-West classic at Pasadena.

While assistant coaches worked with the various groups of players, Little moved about the field shouting orders. He gave special attention to the

WILDCATS STRIVE TO END LOSING STREAK TONIGHT

Lineup Is Changed for Nebraska Game.

A shakeup in Northwestern's basketball lineup which will send Eggs Manske from a guard to a forward and insert Al Kawal into a regular position at guard will be put into effect when the Wildcats meet Nebraska at Patten gymnasium tonight.

Lyle Fisher will return to the lineup at center as part of the shakeup announced by Coach Dutch Lonborg. Fisher was benched during the last two games while Red Kopecky handled the pivot position. Fisher, who is 6 feet 2 inches tall, will give the Wildcats additional height. Nelson Culver, co-captain, is the only player not affected by the change.

Aims for Stronger Attack.

The new combination is part of the experimenting which Coach Lonborg is conducting in an effort to get more punch into the Wildcat attack. With both Manske and Kopecy at the forward, the Purple will have more height in the front court.

The Wildcats will endeavor to break their three game losing streak at the expense of the Cornhuskers. Nebraska will present a veteran line. Marion Scott, 6 foot 2 inch center, is the only sophomore in the starting five, the others all being lettermen.

Kawal's return to active duty is expected to aid the Purple both defensively and offensively. He has been recovering from a shoulder injury sustained in football. He was a regular on last year's quintet until he became ineligible in the second semester.

Brewer Still Ailing.

The Wildcats still will be without the services of Don Brewer, star forward, who received a broken toe in practice. He is expected back after the first of the year. The lineup:

NORTHWESTERN		NEBRASKA
Kopecky	L.F.	Rokwell
Manske	R.F.	Lunney
Fisher	C.	Scott
Culver	L.G.	Parsons
Kawal	R.G.	Mason

Referee—Nick Kearns (De Paul). Umpire—John Shoman (Chicago).

ILLINI AT WASHINGTON U.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A basketball double header will be presented Friday evening in the Washington university fieldhouse when the Washington Bears meet the University of Illinois quintet and two local high schools, Soldan and Central, play a preliminary contest. Hudson Hellmich, captain of the Illini, is a St. Louis boy and a former captain of the Soldan basketball team.

Although St. Louis university defeated Illinois by a point last week, Coach Don White of the Bears is expecting the Illini game to be the hardest of the season for his team.

NOTRE DAME AT BRADLEY

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 20.—[Special.]—A capacity crowd was assured today for the Bradley Tech-Notre Dame basketball game at the state armory here Friday night when officials announced that practically all reserved seats in the building had been sold.

Bradley will make a bid to stop the Notre Dame victory march with its midget quintet. Although no match in height for the Irish, Bradley will call upon speed. Capt. Handley, Cunningham, Getz and Harms are all extremely fast on their feet. Corbin, the center, is the tallest man on the team. Coach George Keogan and his 16 players, two of whom, Marty Peters and Joe Voegele, are Peorians, will arrive over the Rock Island lines at 1:30 p. m. Friday and will be greeted by officials of the Notre Dame Alumni club and a large crowd headed by the Spalding High School band.

HUSKERS TO FACE DE PAUL

The University of Nebraska basketball squad will meet De Paul at De Paul gymnasium tomorrow night.

De Paul opened its campaign with a 33 to 24 victory over North Central Monday night. Capt. El Weston, center; Jim Gorsky, forward, and Ray Adams, guard, set the scoring pace against North Central and are expected to repeat against Nebraska.

Coach Jim Kelly's efforts in the last few days have been aimed in the direction of a more effective passing attack. Pete Barskis and Bob Sand have been looking good at forward, while Francis Linsky has been playing a fine game at guard.

BLIND BRITISH GOLFER GIVEN HANDICAP OF 20

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Dec. 20.—W. H. J. Oxenham, osteopath of Brighton, who claims to be the first blind man to play golf has been awarded a handicap of 20 strokes by the Westhove club. Blinded in both eyes during the world war, Oxenham takes a chauffeur-caddy along with him.

"He tees up for me, tells me where the ball lies and the direction of the hole and hands me the club," Oxenham explained. "I know by the club he hands me how far away the hole is and make my stroke accordingly. When it comes to putting the chauffeur tells me the distance. Sometimes my opponent helps by rattling on the cup."

Yesterday Oxenham went out in 47 and once has been out in 42. He started playing only two years ago when a doctor friend handed him a club on the links.

"He gave me the club, told me the direction to hit the ball, and I did my first hole in par."

He now plays regularly twice a week.

Wilmette Ping-Pong Team to Play Oak Park

The Wilmette ping-pong team, led by Carlton Prouty, Billy Condy, and Gordon Wells, will play a league match with the Oak Park team at the Oak Park Ping-Pong club, 1112 North Boulevard, Oak Park, tonight. The match will be a preliminary to the suburban tournament which will be held on Dec. 29 and 30 at the Lowell school in Oak Park.

Star American Leaguers Plan Tour of World

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Less than two weeks after the 1934 world's baseball championship is decided a troupe of the American league's best players will pack bags, bats, and mitts and depart for foreign shores in a move to "internationalize" America's national pastime.

Voted last week at the major league meeting in Chicago, on the suggestion of John D. Shibe, vice president of the Philadelphia Athletics, the world tour will start on or about Oct. 20, with first stops in Canada.

Realizes His Ambition.

To Shibe the tour will mark realization of an ambition of years.

"It's something I've wanted to do a long time," he says. "and I suddenly made up my mind I'd like to go through with it next year."

Plans and arrangements still are in the formulative stage, Shibe said today.

"Some of the games have been arranged," he said. "Others are being arranged, while on many we haven't had time to work yet."

Many Games in Orient.

From another source came information that games with teams in many parts of the orient have been scheduled.

"Our advance agents," said Earl Mack, son of Connie Mack, the Athletics' manager, who probably will accompany the team, "already have arranged games in Japan and Shanghai, China, and are now working on visits to the Philippines and Australia."

He said that after the series of games in Canada the stars will ship to Honolulu for one game, then continue to Japan for a two weeks' stay, and go from there to Shanghai. A short stop in the Philippines may come next, probably followed by a trip to Australia.

May Play in India.

The direction taken after winding up in Australia, Mack said, depends on whether games can be booked in India, Egypt, and some European countries.

Shibe has disclosed that when the team is selected the list of possibilities will be turned over to Will Harridge, president of the American league, who will attempt to obtain permission from club owners for the players to travel.

Harridge, among others, has announced that he would like to accompany the squad and become one of baseball's "traveling ambassadors." Shibe will act as business agent and young Mack as director of the team's affairs, under present plans.

GIANTS YEAR'S BEST

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Not entirely satisfied with having produced the outstanding athletic performer of 1933 in Pitcher Carl Owen Hubbell, the New York Giants emerged from the annual battle of ballots today as the choice of the experts for the greatest team achievement of the year in any sport.

Newspaper sports editors and writers, registering their opinions in the third annual Associated Press sports poll, unhesitatingly nominated and elected Bill Terry's baseball champions to the honor position on the strength of their triumphant dash to the National league pennant and their subsequent decisive victory over the Washington Senators in the world series.

Princeton is Second.

The Giants polled 68 votes out of a total of 198 and won handily in this year's contest from their two closest rivals—Princeton's undefeated football team and the British Davis cup forces which trounced the United States and lifted the famous tennis trophy from France. The Tigers received 43 votes in recognition of their sensational renaissance under the direction of Fritz Crisler. The tribute to the tennis combination of Fred Perry and Bunny Austin was represented by 27 votes.

Football naturally covered the widest range of opinion in the balloting on the subject of outstanding team performers. Michigan's Big Ten champions finished fourth in the standing with 14 votes. Army's followers lost some of their enthusiasm after the Cadets fell victim to Notre Dame, but there were eight ballots for West Point, nevertheless.

Polo Gets Votes.

Other standout teams, in the judgment of the nation's jury of sports observers, included Louisiana State's track and field squad, National Collegiate Athletic association champions; Washington's varsity crew, Oregon State's football "iron men," and the western all-star polo team which beat the East at Chicago.

Complete results of the team voting follows:

Woods and Waters By Bob Becker

Illinois duck hunters who have a few wild ducks or geese in their refrigerators should not forget the game code regulation which governs the holding of waterfowl after the close of the open season. According to the provisions of the revised code as passed last summer by the legislature hunters must not have ducks or geese in their possession ten days after the close of the season.

The regulation reads: "It shall be unlawful to have any game bird or the carcass of any game bird named in this act ten days after the open season on such game birds has closed, except as provided in section 37 of article 4 of this act, unless there is attached to such game bird a tag or permit issued by the department of conservation."

In other words, hunters must "eat their cake" before the official arrival of Christmas because the open season on waterfowl closed Dec. 15. Ten days from this date is Christmas. Therefore, all wild ducks and geese in the refrigerator must be served not later than dinner time Christmas eve.

The exception mentioned in the regulation and the specification about a permit or tag refers to breeders of game birds who under their permits are enabled to raise wild game in captivity and sell it for breeding and propagation purposes as well as for food. This regulation has nothing to do with the waterfowl hunter who takes birds under the regulation of his state hunting license.

If the warden finds that a resident has waterfowl in his possession after the law says it is illegal to possess such birds, the game code stipulates that the violator shall be fined "not less than $25 nor more than $100 for each offense, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than 15 days nor more than 30 days, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court." We do not know of any species of duck in North America that is worth such penalties.

That "for each offense" is the stickler in the regulation. As we understand the law, every illegal duck in possession is a separate offense. In as much as the bag limit this year is quite small compared to former years, sportsmen should have no trouble in eating their waterfowl in plenty of time to forestall a visit from the wardens who will be around checking up on birds in possession.

PasadenaOpen Golf Tourney Starts Today

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The big push for California's winter golf gets away here tomorrow, the immediate objective $4,000 in stakes in the Pasadena 72 hole medal play championship, and the qualifying field divided into two sections of about 100 players each.

Half the field will play 18 holes tomorrow over the Brookside Park course, the second half competing Friday for the 100 qualifying places in Saturday's second round. The field will be pared to the 57 low scores and ties for Sunday's final 36 holes.

Diegel Shoots Under Par.

It will be a thoroughly representative field, with scores of the nation's leading professionals training their big guns at the championship subpar 278 posted for the 72 holes last year by Craig Wood of Deal, N. J. Craig's score was the best made in the five year history of the Pasadena open and six strokes under par. Wood is also the only player who has won the Pasadena open twice. He topped the field in the inaugural year, 1928.

Leo Diegel of Philmont, Pa., who recently won the California open and the Southern California open, has indicated that he will be one of the players to beat, as his first practice round of 69 on the Brookside course was two under par. Johnny Dawson, Chicago amateur, toured the course in 68 in his first try, however, and Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., and Harry Cooper of Chicago turned in 69's.

Winners Gets $1,000.

Included in the first day's qualifying field are Dick Metz of Deal, Archie Hambrick of Bluefield, W. Va., Fred Morrison of Pasadena, Craig Wood, John Revolta, Menominee, Wis., Al Espinosa, Akron, O., Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore., Mortie Dutra, Detroit, Charles Guest of Deal, Runyan, Ben Coltrin of San Francisco and MacDonald Smith of Nashville.

Denny Shute, British open champion; Harry Cooper, Olin Dutra, Horton Smith, Bill Melhorn, Dawson, Diegel and Ralph Guldahl are among Friday's qualifying field.

The winner will get $1,000 and the other $3,000 will be distributed among the next 29 places.

LOYOLA SWIM TEAM TO MEET BIG 10 "B" FOES

Although swimming is a minor sport at Loyola university, interest in the team this year is high at the Rogers Park school. University of Chicago, University of Wisconsin, and the Northwestern "B" teams have been scheduled and Coach Alex Wilson expects to add Michigan State, Milwaukee State Teachers, and Armour Tech before the Christmas recess begins.

Three regulars from last year and three freshmen numeral winners will be available this season. They are Capt. Eddie Ertz, Bill Trick, John Kearns, Jim Elwell, Don Vandenberg, and Bill Spoerl.

ZUPPKE TO HELP MIAMI DRILL FOR DUQUESNE GAME

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Bob Zuppke, University of Illinois football coach, left today for Miami, Fla., where he will assist Coach Tom McCann of Miami university in the Miami-Duquesne game on New Year's day.

McCann, former Illinois football player, requested Zuppke to come down and lend moral support after his presence last year was regarded by McCann as an aid in defeating Manhattan college.

Zuppke first declined to return this year, but a barrage of telegrams prompted him to go. He sent McCann a message: "Have the squad ready for practice at 2:30 Saturday afternoon."

Doctors Give Bailey Even Chance to Live

Boston, Mass., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The slight but progressive improvement that Irvin [Ace] Bailey has made since his relapse of Monday night continued tonight and, for the first time since the Toronto hockey player suffered his skull fracture on Dec. 12, his physicians expressed hopes of his recovery.

Dr. Donald Munro, who twice operated on Bailey's brain, gave him an even chance for life.

"His chart is essentially normal and he is really better," Dr. Munro reported today. "He responds easily to stimuli and has an even chance of pulling through. He has been taking nourishment through the mouth."

Case for Records.

Later the surgeon again looked in on his patient, whose tragic accident stirred the sports worlds of two nations, and reported that he had held on to his surprising gain and still was able to take liquid nourishment in small quantities. Until today it was necessary to feed him by means of intravenous injections.

Bailey's case, it was said at the City hospital, has created a furore in medical circles. He has remained alive a remarkably long time for one with such serious brain injuries and if he recovers, it will be a case for the medical records.

Recognizes Four Visitors.

Mrs. Gladys Bailey, Dr. Martin Crotty, the Boston Bruins' physician who treated the hockey player until the brain specialists were called in; Connie Smythe, Toronto Maplelcaf manager, and Mrs. Smythe were allowed inside of the sick room this afternoon. During their stay, Bailey regained consciousness and recognized each one of them.

The father of the injured player, C. H. Bailey of Bracebridge, Ont., arrived during the day and his two sisters are expected before Christmas.

LIFT HORNER BAN DEC. 31.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The suspension of Reginald [Red] Horner, defense star of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey league, who was set down for his part in the Bailey incident at Boston, will end Dec. 31, Frank Patrick, managing director of the league, announced today.

Patrick said he was not yet ready to announce any action on the case of Eddie Shore, Boston Bruins defense man, who was indefinitely suspended at the same time.

Horner will be eligible to play against the Chicago Blackhawks at Chicago Jan. 1.

Blackhawks Fear Upset Tonight by Montreal Maroons

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—[Special.]—The Chicago Blackhawks, second in the United States division of the National Hockey league, only one game behind the Detroit Red Wings, will meet Eddie Gerard's Montreal Maroons here tomorrow night.

Hockey fans have been puzzled at the showing of the Montreal team. Selected at the start of the season as the team in the International division which would jump into the lead and stay there, the Maroons, division high scorers last season, have been anything but impressive.

The feeling prevails, however, that the Maroons, now last in scoring in their division, are just about due to break out with an attack which will mean a lot of trouble for the team opposing them. For that reason the Blackhawks will have to keep a close watch on Baldy Northcott, Hooley Smith, Jimmy Ward, Dave Trottier, Paul Haynes, and Earl Robinson. The teams met once before this season—in Chicago—and the Hawks won, 3 to 1.

Art Coulter, the convalescing defense player who was left in Chicago when the Hawks went east, sent word that his injured knee is mending rapidly and he expects to resume his place in the Hawks' lineup when the team returns to meet the Ottawa Senators at the Stadium Thursday, Dec. 28.

15 Entered by Northwest Skating Club

Rudolph Notz, secretary of the Northwest Skating club, yesterday entered a team of 15 skaters in the opening ice meet of the season, scheduled for Wednesday at the Coliseum. He is relying on Cornie Ewert and Charles Serro, class A speedsters, to win the half mile event, but also has John Sero and Al Prang in the same event.

John Ramaciotti, national 220 yard intermediate title holder, should extend Leo Freisinger of the Brekke S. C., intermediate holder of the national championship and western open indoor title. Sig Jablonski and Dick Fee also are entered by Notz in this class.

Bobby McLean will give an exhibition of speed skating and barrel jumping.

Emil Iverson, president of the Chicago Amateur Hockey association, has picked the Whiting, Ind., Macks and the Egan Shamrocks in the hockey game on the program.

Le Maire and Reynolds, Tom Conlin, Paul Wilson, and Eleanor Burger appear in figure skating exhibitions.

U. S. Agents Probe Chicago Hockey League

Agents of the United States department of labor were reported last night to be investigating activities of Emil Iverson, former coach of the Chicago Blackhawks, and Edward Thompson in the operation of the American Amateur Hockey association. The government charges that Iverson and Thompson, who is personnel manager of the league, violated the contract labor laws in bringing Canadian players into the United States.

Eight teams are now operating in the league, which plays its games at the Coliseum, each with 15 players, nearly all of whom are Canadians. Government agents charge that the players, though ostensibly amateurs, were induced to come to Chicago on promises of obtaining positions upon their arrival here. Many of the players are employed by the companies that sponsor teams in the hockey league.

Under the immigration laws the making of contract before an alien leaves his own country constitutes a violation. If the alien comes to America and obtains work after his arrival, no violation of the law is involved. In the present instance the government contends the contracts were made in Canada.

Each offense carries a penalty of 6 to 18 months in jail and a fine of $1,000.

PRINCETON HAS $53,000 DEFICIT IN SPORT BUDGET

1933-'34 Program Cut to $200,000.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Despite a 25 per cent reduction in expenditures, a deficit of $53,030 was incurred in operating Princeton athletic teams during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, said the report today of the Princeton Athletic association.

The report was published in the current issue of the Princeton Alumni Weekly, which said that the budget for 1933-'34 again had been reduced to $200,000 and that it was hoped, with the new economies and greater receipts in football, to show a favorable balance next year. That is almost a 50 per cent reduction from the peak year of 1930-'31, when $380,000 was allotted.

Football Takes Big Slump.

The chief decrease in revenue was in football receipts, which dropped to $170,418 for the 1932 season and showed a favorable balance of only $95,590. All other sports except hockey failed to pay their own way, and the $13,794 receipts from hockey were only $746 above expenses.

Despite the drastic retrenchment, the weekly said, "there has not been a corresponding loss of athletic opportunity. The athletic association has continued to support the 15 branches of athletics which have for many years come under its jurisdiction. Certain schedules have been curtailed and a few junior varsity schedules completely eliminated, but all undergraduates still have the privilege of participating in intercollegiate competition as members of properly equipped and adequately coached teams in the 15 branches of sport.

Track Most Expensive.

"The association feels that its duty is to administer a well rounded sports program in good times and bad. It feels that the earning power of a specific sport should not be a determining factor in making budget allowances. For instance, crew makes no return to the athletic association yet engages the attention of 180 undergraduates."

Track was the most expensive sport, the outlay being $13,774, against receipts of only $701. Baseball receipts were only half the expenses and basketball was little better, while crews, tennis, golf, cross-country, soccer, and fencing brought in no returns.

COUNCIL WANTS SURVEY REVISING ELECTION LAWS

Adopts Mayor's Plan for Commission.

The city council yesterday adopted a resolution submitted by Mayor Kelly, authorizing him to appoint a citizen's commission to revise the election laws applying to Chicago, which the resolution points out have become antiquated and ineffective. The resolution empowers the mayor to ask Gov. Horner to include election laws in the call for the third special session of the legislature, scheduled to meet early next year.

Mayor Kelly stated from the rostrum of the council that he will appoint civic minded citizens of both major political parties to the commission. The chairmen of the Republican and Democratic county central committees will also be members.

Present Laws Antiquated.

"Many of the election laws affecting Chicago and Cook county, relative to the counting of ballots and the conduct of election," the resolution says, "have been in force for many years, some since 1872, but Chicago has grown in population and territory to such an extent that the election legislation on the statute books today is inadequate to cope with a city of its size, particularly with respect to the counting and tabulation of votes.

"It has been disclosed recently that various inaccuracies, errors and irregularities have been made in the tabulation of votes by judges and clerks of election, which may be attributed to the following, among other reasons:

600 Voters a Precinct.

"1—The large number of voters in a precinct, many exceeding 600.

"2—The enormous size of the ballots voted upon, many of which contain the names of 400 candidates for various offices.

"3—The large number of different ballots and propositions voted upon at the average election.

"4—The fact that judges or clerks of election work from 5:30 a. m. on election day until the completion of the tabulation of votes, which results in innumerable instances in the officials working until 3, 4 or 5 a. m. the day after the election without sleep, rest or any intermission, which they are required to do under the present law.

"Because these conditions and others require election officials to perform their duties under inhuman and intolerable conditions, not anticipated when the present statutes were passed, and in the interest of clean elections and the accurate tabulation of the votes cast for all candidates and propositions, recodification of election laws suitable to the present great size of this metropolis is desirable."

ONE KILLED, ONE SEVERELY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Edward Paletz, 26 years old, 6046 South Albany avenue, was killed early today when an automobile in which he was riding overturned after a collision with another car at Garfield boulevard and Mozart street. The driver of the second automobile did not stop after the accident.

Paletz was riding in the rumble seat. Beside him was Philip Newman, 24 years old, 3301 West 60th street, who suffered a fracture of the skull and other severe injuries. Edward Schnudde, 3659 West 59th street, the driver, and two companions inside the car with him were only slightly injured.

This death and four others raised the Cook county motor toll for 1933 to 1,089. The other victims:

PISTOL BATTLE ON BROADWAY; 5 FLEE UNHURT

Five men, three against two, fought a pistol battle last night in the yard of a gasoline filling station at 3358 Broadway. The fight ended with all the gunmen fleeing.

According to statements made by witnesses to the Town Hall police, the three men drove up to the filling station and leaped out of an automobile. They then ran to a garage in the rear of the station and began to shoot into the doors and windows. The two men inside, apparently expecting something of the sort, returned the fire and repulsed the attackers, who left their automobile as they fled.

The car bore a license number which was issued to Andrew Hinkley, 2846 Arthington street. The license plates, Hinkley declared, were stolen from him last March. A man known only as Prince, said to have been connected with a liquor and gambling syndicate, was the lessee of the garage where the shooting started. Police attributed the fight to some obscure gang quarrel.

LEAPS 7 FLOORS IN LOOP; LANDS ON ROOF; LIVES

Adolph Franks, 50 years old, owner of a shoestore at 1209 North Clark street, was probably fatally injured last evening when he leaped from the tenth floor of the Madison-La Salle building, 173 West Madison street. Police learned that earlier in the day he had visited his son, Edward Franks, 19 years old, who is ill in St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Ivar Ericson, elevator operator in the building, found Franks in an upper corridor and started toward him. As he did so Franks said, "Well, goodby! Call the police." He then stepped out a door leading to a narrow roof, from which he jumped.

His body struck the roof of a three story building on Madison street, occupied by the Triangle restaurant, with such force that it broke through and was wedged in the timbers. Firemen had to be called to extricate him. Franks was taken to Henrotin hospital.

Adalgisa Gabbi, Singer of Decade Ago, Dies at 75

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 20. — (AP) — Adalgisa Gabbi, 75, renowned opera singer of a decade ago, died here today.

DEATH OF TIBET LAMA IS SEEN AS BLOW TO BRITAIN

PEIPING, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A first rank political crisis in central Asia may follow the death of the dalai lama of Tibet last Sunday, speculations in Chinese political circles held today.

Political observers expressed the opinion that Great Britain's influence in Tibet would likely decline, "as the English hold was largely dependent upon the dalai lama, who was ardently pro-British."

The lama's demise likely will have an important effect upon Sino-Tibetan relations, already strained as a result of a reported Tibetan threat to attack Sinkiang province on the Tibetan border, where a territorial dispute has arisen, observers predicted.

Chinese circles believed the situation was laden with possibilities competent to bring about far-reaching political disturbances in that portion of Asia. A suggestion that the death of the powerful ruler might result in a Tibetan religious war was considered unlikely by those familiar with Tibetans.

TELLS OF VISIT.

Prof. William McGovern of the political science department of Northwestern university, disclosed yesterday that in 1923 he visited the forbidden city of Lhasa, Tibet, and talked to the dalai lama, supreme religious and civil ruler of that mystical country, who died on Sunday.

"I got into the city under a disguise, having learned on a previous expedition that the natives' great distrust of foreigners would bar me from the forbidden city," said Prof. McGovern. "But when I took off my disguise the natives threatened to lynch me. I was lodged in jail and held there six weeks, though it was probably to protect me from the mobs.

"Finally I was brought before the lama. We talked for about an hour but the lama was so shrewd he gave me practically no information. His interest in me was to learn my mission in Tibet. I discerned, however, that he did believe in his own divinity, though he was far from claiming the occult powers that his subjects believe he possesses.

"It will be interesting to see if another lama is selected, for, according to a Tibetan legend, there were to be only 13 and the man who died Sunday was the 13th."

THE MOON TAKES ON TWO PLANETS IN TWO HOURS; ECLIPSES BOTH

TOKIO, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A phenomenon which Japanese astronomers asserted had not happened in several thousands years—successive eclipses of Venus and Saturn by the moon within two hours—was witnessed by millions of star gazers in Japan late today.

While it was still daylight watchers with the naked eye saw a slim moon in the western sky swallow Venus at 4:04 p. m.

After dark, as Venus reappeared from the crescent's lower rim at 5:16 p. m., Saturn was visible above—waiting its turn to be eclipsed at 6:03 p. m. It reappeared at 7:01 p. m. The Tokio observatory obtained photographs of the phenomenon which was visible only in eastern Asia.

CONTINENTAL BANK APPROVES RFC STOCK SALE

A Shareholder Buys $333 of Preferred.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Stockholders of the Continental Illinois National bank and Trust company at a special meeting yesterday afternoon approved the issuance and sale of $50,000,000 of preferred stock which had been proposed by the bank's directors in line with President Roosevelt's demands for increased capital structures for banks.

Well over the required two-thirds majority of stock was represented in the affirmative vote, proxies for more than 605,000 shares being voted in favor of the proposition.

Of the $50,000,000 of new preferred stock $42,999,666.66 worth is to be sold to the Reconstruction Finance corporation and $333.33 worth to a lone stockholder, who insisted upon exercising his rights to subscribe. Stockholders were not urged to exercise their subscription rights so that the entire block might be sold to the RFC.

Cut Stock; Set Up Reserves.

In addition to approving the preferred stock sale stockholders also ratified the reduction of the outstanding common stock from $75,000,000 to $25,000,000 and the setting up of an additional $50,000,000 of special reserve against assets that have depreciated during the depression.

This makes a total of $128,000,000 of charge-offs for the bank since the beginning of the depression.

James R. Leavell, president of the bank, in a talk to shareholders before the balloting explained these charge-offs and expressed the belief that with return to normal business conditions there would be substantial recoveries from these reserves and said that such recoveries would be included in net earnings of the bank.

Excluding charge-offs, Mr. Leavell said, the earnings of the bank this year would amount to slightly less than six million dollars, after all charges, including $300,000 for building depreciation and a liberal reserve for taxes.

Operating Costs but 45 Per Cent.

Operating expenses, he said, had been reduced 45 per cent since the beginning of the depression, a substantial part of which had been accomplished by reduction of officers' salaries. His own salary, he told stockholders, had been reduced from $75,000 to $50,000 per year.

Mr. Leavell declined to tell an inquiring stockholder the total amount of loans made by the bank to former Insull companies on the ground that the publishing of the figure might jeopardize the bank's chances of winning pending lawsuits for the recovery of Insull collateral held by the bank as security for loans. When the stockholder asked whether the $28,000,000 figure brought out in a court hearing was correct, Mr. Leavell replied, "It's fully that much."

Asked whether the loans to the former Insull companies were amply backed by collateral at the time they were made he replied in the affirmative.

Questioned on Chargeoffs.

Several questions were raised by stockholders concerning the reasons for the large charge-offs and attempts were made by a number to elicit information concerning the part Mr. Leavell's predecessors among the bank's executive officers had in causing the bank's losses.

These questions, he said, he was willing to answer privately, but he expressed the belief that the airing of these matters in a large meeting could serve no good purpose for the stockholders as a whole.

"About a year ago," Mr. Leavell said, "we charged off some 50 million dollars, making a total of two reserves of approximately 110 million dollars. This is admittedly a very large amount and no one regrets it more than those of us connected with the institution.

Build Up Capital Account.

"The amount so depletes our capital account that we feel it inadequate for the large deposits and general business which the bank enjoys. The consensus of our directors and officers, therefore, was that the capital account should be built up by sale of preferred stock.

"The plan has been studied carefully from all angles and it represents the best judgment of your directors and officers and has the approval of the controller of the currency.

"Giving effect to the plan will provide the following capital structure: Fifty million dollars preferred, 25 million common, 10 million surplus, 2,500,000 undivided profit, and 12,500,000 reserve for contingencies.

"We feel that with this capital adjustment we will have provided a reasonable and fair amount to cover the depreciation in our securities and in our loans and discounts.

"Timid About Strong Statements."

"We are timid about strong statements in this regard after our statements to you at the time of nationalization of the bank last year.

"We were sincere in our judgment

Stock Price Quiz Widened by Exchange

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 20.—Investigations of market movements by the stock exchange business conduct committee were increased today by the addition of Celanese Corporation of America to the list under scrutiny.

A break of ten points from yesterday's close of 41½ was a feature of today's trading. The stock has risen spectacularly early this year from 4½ to a high of 58⅞.

Specialists in the issue include Jackson & Curtis and three associated brokers, H. Hirschberg, H. Schwartz, and T. H. Benton.

Eye Union Bag and Paper.

Trading in Union Bag and Paper corporation stock, which has had a similar course this year, also is being studied by the business conduct committee, one of whose members is a partner in Rhoades, Williams & Co., specialists in the shares. Two other firms, it is reported, have been responsible for most of the activity of the shares. The price had risen from 5½ in January to 60 in July, and, after wide fluctuations, dropped from 52 last week to 45¾ yesterday and a low of 36½ today.

Alexander Calder, president of Union Bag and Paper, said today that directors would meet on Jan. 3 to consider dividend action. For the first six months of 1933, he said, there was a loss of $115,000, but since then earnings have been at the rate of $7 to $8 a share on an annual basis.

Report Others Under Scrutiny.

Other issues reported to be under scrutiny today included Bayuk Cigars, Inc., and Industrial Rayon. Bayuk had ranged between a low of 3¼ and a high of 52½. It dropped a couple of points today from the previous close of 30. Industrial Rayon broke more than 6 points from yesterday's close of 77. The high and low were 85 and 24 this year.

Assistant Attorney Generals McCall and Gruber, who are investigating the recent Atlas Tack break, announced that they would question "a Mr. Newton" of the stock exchange firm of Boettcher, Newton & Co., and Ralph Hornblower, a former director of the Atlas Tack company. Kermit Roosevelt, son of the late President Roosevelt, will be questioned, Mr. McCall said. Mr. Roosevelt became a director of the company last September.

DOLLAR VALUE CONTINUES GAIN TO 64.33 CENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 20.—The American dollar rose today against principal foreign currencies, reaching an indicated gold value of 64.33 cents as measured in terms of the French gold franc, an advance of about two-thirds of a cent.

Trading was quiet in the exchange market here as well as in Paris and London. There was no change in the American gold bid price of $34.06, which accounted in a large measure for the lack of speculative interest.

The closing quotation on the franc was 6.09 cents, down 7½ points from last night's final price. The gold value of 64.33 cents which the franc placed on the dollar compares with yesterday's price of 63.55 cents.

The pound was weak against the dollar, receding to $5.09½, a decline of 4½ cents.

DETROIT BANKER ADMITS HIDING 'BILLS PAYABLE'

May Probe Plan of Montgomery Ward.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Robert O. Lord, former head of the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc., testified today before senate investigators that a bookkeeping process was followed so that banks in that system could show "no bills payable" in their public reports when it was not true.

Lord gave this testimony after close questioning by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel.

At first he denied a suggestion by Pecora that a "device" was used to show no bills payable when there were such bills. Finally, however, he agreed that there was such a device.

"It was a device to show no bills payable despite the fact there were bills payable?" Pecora asked.

"Yes," the witness agreed.

May Quiz Avery Option.

Meanwhile it was indicated that the senate banking committee would investigate the option granted to Sewell L. Avery, president of Montgomery Ward & Co., to purchase stock in that company. Chairman Fletcher turned over to Mr. Pecora for investigation a complaint from a Montgomery Ward stockholder who opposes the action of the company in granting the stock purchase option.

The stockholder, Charles H. MacDonald, asked an inquiry into the legality of the option given Avery to buy 100,000 shares of the company stock at $11 per share. He contended that the option lacked the consent of the majority of the stockholders. MacDonald added that Avery gets a salary of $100,000 a year and is provided with a limousine and chauffeur, despite the fact that the company lost $15,000,000 in 1931 and 1932.

Assets Are Shifted.

Shifting of assets between subsidiaries of the Guardian group, for the purpose of showing complete liquidity of all units when liabilities actually existed was described as the means of "window dressing" the bills payable.

Evidence was presented to show that the Guardian Detroit Union Group insisted upon a dividend by a subsidiary bank at Niles, Mich., despite protests of the bank officers that it was in violation of a request from the controller of the currency.

Despite the insistence of the holding company, however, the bank did not issue the dividend because of a warning from the national bank examiner that it would be "illegal." The evidence disclosed that F. M. Brandon, president of the City National Bank and Trsut company of Niles, protested. The correspondence over the dividend of the Niles bank was in September and October, 1931.

Warned on Impaired Capital.

Pecora introduced a letter from the deputy controller of the currency, dated Oct. 21, 1931, warning that the bank's capital was impaired to the extent of $34,000 and must be replaced imemdiately. The letter said the bank was in no condtion to pay a dividend.

During the hearing Lord testified the Second National Bank of Saginaw declared a special dividend of $15,000 for a loan to help Joseph H. Brewer, Grand Rapids banker, out of financial difficulties early this year. Earlier a letter was placed before the investigators indicating the holding company decided upon its own dividend rate and then told the subsidiary banks

Stocks Bounce Back After Selling Storm

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 20.—Wide open breaks in a handful of specialties reported to be in bad odor for one cause and another touched off a selling storm on the stock exchange today. Offerings were heavy all along the line and prices tumbled from 3 to 10 points before bumping solid ground.

The liquidating movement continued unchecked until around midafternoon, when support began to appear for the leaders. Selling gradually dried up and the final hour witnessed a vigorous and well sustained recovery movement. Final quotations recorded rebounds of as much as 50 per cent from the lows of the day.

Leaders Rebound Sharply.

Among the leaders, American Can, after dipping to 91½ recovered to 93, off 1⅜ on the day. U. S. Steel, down at one time to 44½, rebounded to 45⅝, off ⅝. J. I. Case, after sinking to 63⅞, came back to 65, off 3½, and Allied Chemical, after selling off to 140¼, rose anew to 142, off 2¾.

Recoveries among the so-called volatiles were even more pronounced. Thus Celanese, one of the outstanding selling targets of the earlier dealings, sold back to 35½ after dropping to 31½ from an opening price of 41, while Atlas Tack, the weak sister of two previous sessions, recovered all but a small fraction of its early four point loss. Union Bag and Paper, another outstanding victim of the day, finished the day at 40½, off 5¼, after being down at one time to 36½.

Probe Cause of Collapse.

The Atlas Tack collapse and reports that the stock exchange authorities were inquiring into pool operations in Union Bag and Paper, Bayuk Cigars and Industrial Rayon stocks were the primary causes of the collapse. The big scale selling started in Union Bag and Paper, which dropped nearly 10 points in a few minutes. The next victim for slaughter was Celanese, which was crushed down about ten points.

The selling spread throughout the list. Armour preferred, a star performer of last week, suffered a 6 point decline, 4 points of which it later recovered, and American Woolen preferred went through a like performance. New York Central dropped 4 points in short order. Industrial Rayon sagged 6 points. Phoenix preferred fell 10 points, having lost as much yesterday. Atlas Tack had another sinking spell, giving up 4 points.

Gold and silver shares tumbled 1 to 5 points, the rails went down 1 to 3 and the chemicals had their difficulties. Utilities and oils made about the best group showing of the lot.

Rumors that the stock exchange was going to "crack down" on pool manipulations generally were all over the place but lacked official confirmation.

Trading slowed down when the tide turned and the late dealings were quite "normal." The closing gong found the whole list veering strongly upward. Sales were 2,173,518 shares.

COMMODITY PRICES EASE FOR MONTH, BUT HOLD ABOVE YEAR AGO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—Wholesale commodity prices receded slightly during November, according to figures made public today by Isador Lubin, commissioner of labor statistics of the department of labor.

The index number, which includes 784 commodities, or price series, weighted according to their relative importance in the markets and based on the average of 1926 as 100, declined from 71.2 for October to 71.1 for November.

"Between October and November," said Mr. Lubin, "decreases in prices were reported for 150 items, increases for 181, while in 453 instances no change occurred. Although price declines were reported for only one-fifth of the commodities covered, these decreases were sufficiently large to offset the advances in other commodities and thus cause the total index to move slightly downward.

For the sixth consecutive month current prices averaged higher than those in the corresponding month in the year before. The index shows an increase of more than 11 per cent over prices of November a year ago, when the index was 62.9 The average is 19 per cent higher than that for February, 1933.

Power Output Here Highest in Two Years

Electricity production in the Chicago district last week reached the highest total since the week ended Jan. 9, 1932, the Commonwealth Edison company announced yesterday.

Output amounted to 105,191,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 101,962,000 in the preceding week. The margin maintained over the total of 101,831,000 kilowatt hours in the corresponding week of 1932 was 3.8 per cent, or the same as for the preceding week.

At the same time the national production of electricity increased to 1,644,018,000 kilowatt hours, the highest total in several months, from 1,619,157,000 in the week ended Dec. 9, according to the Edison Electric institute.

Margin Is Reduced.

However the margin over the output of the like week last year was reduced to 5.2 per cent from 6.6 in the preceding week.

Production in all but two of the main districts of the country showed smaller margins over 1932 than in the preceding week.

In New England output was 7.1 per cent greater than in the like week last year, against 6.4 in the preceding week, and in the west central district output advanced 2.4 per cent, against only eight-tenths of one per cent.

Production in the middle Atlantic region gained 4.1 per cent, against 6.2; in the central industrial, 8.2, against 8.8; in the Rocky mountains, 14.6, against 21; on the Pacific coast, 1, against 3.2. There was a loss of nine-tenths of one per cent in the southern states, against a margin of five-tenths of one per cent a week before.

Railroads Find Holiday Travel Best in Years

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Passenger departments of the railroads are looking for sharply increased business over the Christmas and New Year's holidays as a result of the sharply reduced fares which have been put into effect. Already reports of greatly stimulated travel as a result of the fare cuts are being made by a number of the roads.

Members of the Western Passenger association are offering fares of 1½ cents a mile for round trip travel in coaches and chair cars, as compared with the regular rate of two cents a mile. These fares were put into effect on Dec. 16 and will extend to Jan. 1, with the return limit on Jan. 15.

Fares at 2 Cents a Mile.

Tickets good in all classes of equipment are selling at 2 cents a mile for round trip travel, with the return limit also Jan. 15. Under the reduced fares put into effect Dec. 1, the two cent round trip rate good in all classes of equipment has been confined to a limit of 10 days. These tickets likewise are on sale up to Jan. 1.

Besides the savings on railroad tickets proper, the roads have eliminated the surcharge on Pullman tickets, which means an additional saving of one-third for first class travel.

In addition to the steam roads, the electric lines are reducing fares. The North Shore Electric has announced a rate of one and a half times the regular fare for travel between any two points on the line, with a minimum fare of one dollar. The tickets are on sale up to Jan. 1, with the return limit Jan. 15.

Travel Up 10 Per Cent.

R. Thomson, general passenger traffic manager of the North Western, says that reports received from nine states indicate the Christmas and New Year's holiday business will be 10 per cent ahead of the 1932 volume. "Holiday business is already moving in good volume, with extra sleeping cars and coaches being handled on all major trains," he asserted.

"Christmas holiday travel is heavier this season than for several years," D. M. Bowman, passenger traffic manager of the New York Central lines, stated.

W. B. Dixon, general passenger agent for the Milwaukee road, agreed.

"Never have we seen such a volume of long distance travel among students of colleges and universities," Mr. Dixon said.

N. Y. EXCHANGE VOTES TO STAY OPEN SATURDAY

The board of governors of the New York Stock exchange yesterday voted down a petition signed by several hundred members asking that Saturday, Dec. 23, be declared an exchange holiday. As a result of the New York exchange's action, the majority of the stock exchanges located in other cities will remain open on Saturday. These include the Chicago Stock exchange and the Chicago Curb exchange.

Most of the commodity exchanges in the country will take a holiday on Saturday. The Board of Trade and the Chicago Mercantile exchange will be closed on Saturday as well as on Christmas. Abroad the Liverpool wheat market will be closed on Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday. The Winnipeg wheat market will be closed on Monday and Tuesday.

The Chicago stockyards, taking one of its rare holidays, will be closed on Christmas day.

WILSON JOINS OTHER PACKERS IN PROFIT GAINS

Earns $4.26 a Share on 'A' Stock.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Wilson & Co. shared the good fortune of the other big packing companies in returning to a profitable basis of operation in 1933. The annual statement for the year ended Oct. 28, issued last night, showed net earnings of $2,935,934, equivalent after preferred dividends to $4.26 a share on class A stock.

Class A stock holders are entitled to $5 in dividends yearly before payments on the common stock. In 1932 the company incurred a deficit of $273,193.

Thind to Report Gain.

Wilson is the third of the "big four" packers to report on 1933 results. Swift reported a profit of nearly six million dollars against a loss in 1932, and Cudahy, the only one of the four to show a profit in 1932, reported a bigger profit for 1933.

Armour & Co. is yet to report, but is expected to show net income for the year close to $9,000,000.

The operating profit reported by Wilson is before credits arising from the purchase and retirement of preferred shares and the discount on bonds purchased for the sinking fund. These credits aggregating $1,676,144 were transferred to capital surplus all of which was used to write down the company's plant account.

Plant Account Figures.

Plant and equipment is now carried at $35,773,359, after depreciation, as compared with $51,612,493 a year ago.

Thomas E. Wilson, president, pointed out that as a result of this writedown the company was able to effect a substantial savings in depreciation charges. The company set aside $1,225,490 for depreciation in 1933 as compared with $1,698,438 in the preceding year.

The credit accruing to the company through the retirement of preferred shares was $1,555,783 while the profit from bond purchases below par for the sinking fund was $120,360. These increased capital surplus to $16,328,795, all of which was eliminated by the writedown.

Cuts Accumulations.

The directors recently declared a dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock, the first disbursement in two years. This brought the unpaid accumulation down to $26.25 a share as of Nov. 1. Accumulations on the A stock, on the same date, amounted to $15 a share.

Whether dividends can be continued on the preferred stock will depend on future developments, President Wilson said in his letter to stockholders.

On Oct. 31 the company had total current liabilities of $29,246,371, against current liabilities of $3,678,893, a ratio of 8 to 1.

Cash on hand totaled $5,306,380, against $8,341,661 a year ago. Marketable securities were carried at $351,550, against $1,255,043. Inventories stood at $16,232,289, as compared with $11,996,456.

Sales for 1933 were in excess of $140,000,000, approximately the same as last year.

Notice to the Holders of Debentures of

Associated Gas and Electric Company

You, of course, wish to do your utmost to safeguard your investment in the Debentures of Associated Gas and Electric Company. To do this we believe you should exchange them at once under the Plan of Rearrangement of Debt Capitalization.

About $100,000,000 of the Debentures of all series have been exchanged by well over 40,000 holders.

Realization by important banks, trust companies and investment dealers of the need for the Plan has been growing steadily. Many, who heretofore showed no interest or were opposed to it, have recently changed their opinion. They are now exchanging their own Debentures and advising others to do likewise without delay.

Options 1 and 2 are the more conservative and have been the choice of almost all holders. Regular payment of interest is more certain with Option 1.

Nearly three-quarters of the new Debentures which are reserved under Option 1 (subject to the terms of the original offer) have already been issued and are outstanding. Certain expected large deposits make quite likely the early closing of Option 1.

All Debentures sent in for exchange under Option 1 will be exchanged under Option 2 if Option 1 is closed prior to their receipt unless the holder otherwise directs. Those who send in their Debentures by return mail will be reasonably certain, however, of having their Debentures accepted for deposit under Option 1.

In figuring the interest adjustment on exchanges made from now to the first of the year, you will be allowed full interest to January 1, 1934, on your present holdings.

Holders who wish to do their part to protect their own interests should act immediately.

New York, Dec. 20.—All classifications of bonds were irregularly lower on the stock exchange today in comparatively quiet trading. Tax selling and switching were prominent in the day's dealings. United States government bonds were off 1-32d to 8-32ds point, with the exceptions of the Liberty 3½s, which moved up 1-32d, and three other issues, which held unchanged.

Many domestic corporation issues showed net losses of a point or more. Industrial bonds were weakest and the utilities steadiest.

New York Groups Strong.

In the latter group New York Rapid Transit issues showed further strength on unification and higher fare prospects. Brooklyn-Manhattan 6s closed at the high of the day, 92⅜, up 1¼; Manhattan railway first and second 4s were up ⅜ and 3 points, respectively, and the Interborough issues closed ¾ up to ⅝ down.

Leading foreign loans drifted irregularly lower. French government and municipal loans finished 2 down to ⅜ up; United Kingdom issues fractionally lower; Dutch East Indies 6s, due 1947, down 3½; Swiss government 5½s, off ½.

German Loans Weak.

Small losses were suffered by a number of German issues. Most of the Latin-American issues showed small recessions on the day.

Domestic bonds on the Curb exchange were generally lower in a dull market, with losses ranging up to 5 or 6 points. The more active issues as a rule showed the smallest losses.

United States Rubber Company.

Investors' Guide: What can you tell me about United States Rubber company?—H. P.

Answer: This is the second largest American manufacturer of tires and other rubber goods. In 1928 the Du Ponts acquired a controlling stock interest. New management was instituted with the aim of centralizing production. During the last five years more than 18 plants have been closed.

About one-third of the company's rubber requirements are obtained from its own plantations in Malay and Sumatra. These represent an investment of about $37,000,000. During recent years the cost of growing and shipping the crude rubber has been higher than the market price in New York.

The three years through 1932 were marked by heavy inventory losses occasioned by the decline in market prices of cotton and rubber, lessened demand, lower selling prices and recurring price wars. This condition carried over into the first quarter of 1933, but was somewhat alleviated during the second quarter. Since then quickening of demand, both for replacement and original equipment, and rising prices of raw material have resulted in higher selling prices and a more stabilized trade condition. It is expected that a profit will be reported for the second half of this year.

For the first half of 1933 the company reported loss of $3,419,000 on sales of $36,495,000. Sales for the corresponding 1932 period were $42,432,000 and loss was $5,028,000.

The four year record of earnings is as follows:

	Net Sales.	Net Loss.	Loss per Common Shares.
1932	$78,300,000	$10,726,000	$10.88
1931	114,132,000	11,758,000	11.59
1930	157,075,000	18,064,000	15.89
1929	192,902 000	*576,000	3.16

*Net income.

The company was unable to pay in full the $8,699,000 note issue which matured June 1, 1933. It offered 30 per cent cash and the balance in three year 6 per cent notes. This was accepted by practically all noteholders.

Giving effect to this adjustment current assets on June 30, 1933, including cash of $5,791,000, totaled $42,941,000 and current liabilities were $8,563,000. Funded debt amounted to $71,294,000. There are outstanding 651,091 shares of 8 per cent $100 par preferred and 1,464,371 shares of no par common. The preferred is not cumulative. Nothing has been paid on the preferred since Feb. 15, 1928.

STEEL OUTPUT JUMPS AGAIN, SAYS IRON AGE

Chicago District Has Big Gain in Operations.

The current pressure of specifications against expiring contracts for products which will be higher priced next quarter has caused a further gain of 5½ points in steelworks operations to 38 per cent of capacity from 30½ a week ago, the Iron Age reoprts.

At the beginning of this week the American Iron and Steel institute reported that production was scheduled at 34.2 per cent.

The gains shown by mills in Chicago were equalled only by those at Buffalo. Operations rose 14 points to 40 per cent of capacity here, 14 to 41 at Buffalo, 7 to 45 at Detroit, 5 to 52 at Cleveland, 5 to 45 in the Wheeling district, 4 to 28 at Pittsburgh, 3 to 38 in the valley, and 3 to 25 in eastern Pennsylvania.

Pressure on Producers.

"Most steel buyers have specified that shipments against contracts be made on Dec. 30 or 31 so as to avoid receiving material during inventory taking, but mills are accepting releases for delivery at their discretion," comments the Iron Age. "The pressure on producers has become so great that it is now doubtful whether they will be able to fill all shipping orders by the end of the month."

The review adds that the contra-seasonal improvement is "partly artificial. December is in effect borrowing from January and February."

However, it cannot be predicted with certainty, adds the review, whether there will be an appreciable decline in mill operations after Jan. 1.

Influences for Next Year.

There are several factors which will help maintain the rate early next year. In the first place, much of the material for public works now being awarded will not be rolled until next year. Then, steel products whose prices have not been advanced for the first quarter, such as sheets and strip steel, "are being ordered sparingly because of approaching inventories and should move more freely in January.

"It is also becoming apparent that a resumption of automotive purchases of steel on an important scale will not occur until some time next month."

Scrap has risen again, revising the Iron Age composite upward to $10.67 a gross ton, against $10.25 last week. The composites for finished steel and pig iron are unchanged at 2.028 cents a pound and $16.90 a ton respectively.

GRADUATED SALE TAX IN KENTUCKY HELD TO BE LEGAL

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Kentucky's graduated gross retail sales tax law, enacted in 1930 and collections from which already have amounted to more than a million dollars, was upheld today by a three judge federal court here. Two of the three judges concurred in the opinion holding the act constitutional. The case is regarded of primary importance, inasmuch as its final outcome might influence plans of other states seeking new sources of revenue.

The opinion denied a petition of merchants for a permanent injunction to restrain the state tax commission from collecting the tax. It also dissolved a temporary injunction granted previously, but continued it in force for thirty days to allow an appeal to the United States Supreme court and, in that event, until final disposition.

The constitutionality of the act first was questioned in suits seeking to restrain the tax commission from collecting the tax, in which intervening petitions were filed by about forty chain and department stores.

The law levies a graduated scale on gross sales, ranging from one-twentieth of 1 per cent on sales up to $400,000 and increasing on each additional $100,000 until it amounts to 1 per cent on sales aggregating $1,000,000.

GRAIN PRICES PLUNGE WHEN STOCKS BREAK

Wheat Falls 3¼ Cents; Corn Drops 2¾.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A sharp break in stocks started a liquidating movement in grains yesterday that did not culminate until wheat prices had dropped 3¼ cents from Tuesday's finish and corn 2¾ cents. The close was at the bottom with wheat at the lowest level since Oct. 20, May touching 81½ cents. Corn was the lowest since Nov. 2, the active future dropping to 47⅝ cents at the extreme.

Wheat futures finished with net losses of 2⅝ to 3¼ cents. December closed at 79¼ cents and May at 81½ to 81⅝ cents. Corn lost 2¼ to 2½ cents for the day, with May at 47¾ to 48 cents. Oats were off 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents, May being 35 cents at the last. Rye was ¾ to 2⅜ cents lower with May 55¼ cents. Barley declined 1 cent, Mal closing at 46½ cents.

Stocks Break Chief News.

Aside from the break in stocks there was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the break in grains, but when the latter dropped into new ground on the current downward movement stop loss orders were uncovered and there was a noticeable lack of support. The government's final estimate on the 1933 crops given out late Tuesday attracted little attention and was not regarded as a factor in the market.

The processing tax on wheat and corn is holding a large part of the grain trade's interest. There is a belief the processing tax on corn will not be raised to 20 cents per bushel, as originally scheduled. This is based on the idea it would tend to restrict consumption which would be against the administrations efforts to advance prices.

Flour Output Declines.

What effect the processing tax on wheat has had in reducing consumption remains unknown. However production of flour for the country in November as given by General Mills, Inc., was 5,319,000 barrels, a reduction of 447,000 barrels, or slightly under 8 per cent as compared with the corresponding period last year. A draft on a car of flour was paid yesterday for $1,353, of which $413 represented the processing tax on the wheat used in its manufacture and the tax on the cotton bags used to package the flour.

Farmers continue to make applications for government loans on corn over a wide area, and the effect of the sharp break in prices at terminal markets of late is expected to accelerate the movement. December corn closed in Chicago Wednesday at 41⅝ cents, or 7 cents under the high point of Dec. 11, and is now 3⅝ cents less than can be borrowed by producers on grain in farm cribs. Country offerings to arrive yesterday were very small, only 5,000 bushels being booked by Chicago handlers.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE ON JANUARY LIQUIDATION

Lower cotton prices yesterday were the result of liquidation of January contracts, combined with scattered selling orders from the south. Support came largely from shorts and trade interests.

Trade sentiment is more mixed. The position of the government is regarded by some traders as having a moderate supporting influence. But cotton reflects too closely the course of grains to advance and hold gains.

At the close futures in Chicago were off 5 to 9 points, and other markets off 3 to 10 points. Spots in New York dropped 10 points to 10.05 cents; in New Orleans, 5 points to 9.95 cents; in Galveston, 5 points to 9.85 cents; and in Houston, 10 points to 9.85 cents. Prices:

LACK OF DEPOSIT GUARANTY RULES PUZZLES BANKS

Some Figure Balances 3 Ways to Avoid Tangles.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 20.—Confusion continued to reign in the principal banks today as rulings from the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation on methods of calculating deposits for purposes of temporary insurance, effective Jan. 1, failed to be transmitted from Washington. Several of the banks were informed unofficially, or through grapevine channels, that loans and uncollected checks could not be deducted from gross deposits in calculating insurable deposits. The banks upon advice of counsel continued to figure in their own way.

This afternoon it was reported that the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation would inform all the banks tomorrow through federal reserve bank channels or otherwise that loans and uncollected checks could not be deducted.

Put Decision Up to Lawyers.

In such a contingency the banks, which have until Dec. 23 to complete their figures and send checks for one-quarter of 1 per cent of their insurable deposits to Washington, probably will rely upon the advice of their legal counselors and leave the settlement of most points until a subsequent date.

Some of the banks were deducting all loans and their "float" today, while others were calculating in three different ways so as to be prepared to do whatever might be required. An enormous amount of routine work was involved in counting all depositors and in calculating insurable balances on the basis of all which had credits of $2,500 or less net in their account.

Some Deduct U. S. Bonds.

Some institutions, interpreting the law by advice of counsel, were deducting United States government bonds from United States government deposits. In one institution a curious conflict arose in connection with twenty-five different trust accounts for one individual.

Under the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation's rules this would mean twenty-five different accounts, each to be insured up to $2,500 of net deposit in each. The bank interpreted the law differently and made up its figures as though the trust accounts belong to one person with one balance.

Some of the banks forecast quite frankly that there would be innumerable tangles, possibly involving suits to clarify provisions of an obscure law.

Ickes Holds Up Pool Plan Approval.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—Oil operators, signatories of the recent agreement for marketing surpluses to avoid price fixing, were worried today by an order issued by Secretary Ickes for an immediate investigation of the price of crude oil.

Secretary Ickes, who issued an ultimatum only a few weeks ago to the large petroleum companies to come to an agreement or be dictated to, has surprised these same operators by holding up approval on this same agreement while a flood of protests against it rolls in.

First Step in Price Fixing?

While it was stated by the petroleum administration board this survey was conceived six weeks ago before the agreement was in, oil operators point out that it would be the logical first step before price fixing.

Harold B. Fell, executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, today issued a statement supporting the operators' pool agreement, which was made to prevent arbitrary price fixing by Mr. Ickes.

Simultaneously with his request for a survey of crude oil costs Secretary Ickes announced the allowable oil production in the oil producing states for January, February, and March.

Fixes Inventories for Jan. 31.

The administrator also stipulated that inventories of gasoline at the close of January, 1934, should total 51,500,000 barrels, an increase of about 500,000 barrels above the levels determined for Dec. 31, 1933.

The daily production allowable for the three month period was reduced to 2,183,000 barrels of crude oil, as compared with 2,210,000 barrels in December. The new rate of production becomes effective at 7 a. m. Jan. 1.

"I am ordering the survey of the cost of producing crude oil," Mr. Ickes admitted, "to be conducted by the petroleum administrative board, under my direction, to obtain data necessary in the administration of the code of fair competition for the petroleum industry."

WARBURG ADVOCATES NEW UNIFORM PLAN OF BANKING CONTROL

New York, Dec. 20.—(AP)—James P. Warburg, financier, tonight urged creation of a national banking system under control of uniformly operating banking authorities. He said that the minimum capital requirements of banks should be raised "from the ridiculous figure of $50,000 to $500,000," and called for modification of the banking guarantee plan and the securities act.

Warburg spoke at a dinner of the economic club at which Senator Elmer Thomas, recognized leader of inflation forces, and Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey joined in a plea for devaluation of the dollar until gold doubles its present statutory value.

Rainey and Thomas also spoke in favor of remonetization of silver. Thomas declared, however, he was an opponent of "improper and excessive overissue of paper money."

Reiterating his stand for a modernized international gold dollar Warburg attacked Senator Thomas' inflationary views with the assertion that while the senator had been attacking Wall street bankers, he had been advised by a Wall street international banker.

"I am for a modernized international gold standard," Warburg said, "as against any purely national currency scheme, and more particularly as against the present gold buying policy. It would seem to me the present policy has already proved its futility."

CHASE INDICATES IT WILL JOIN IN RFC STOCK PLAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 20.—The directors of the Chase National bank at their weekly meeting today discussed the question of sale of preferred stock by the bank to the RFC, but deferred action pending further conferences on the matter between the bank's officers and the RFC. The directors indicated that the bank would coöperate with the government's program, however, by selling capital securities to the RFC.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the board announced:

"It was the sense of the directors that the bank should coöperate with the Reconstruction Finance corporation in its program of purchasing preferred stock or capital notes of banks, but the discussion of the officers of the bank with officials of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the preparation of the necessary papers have not reached the point where it was possible for the board to take definite action."

CONTINENTAL BANK APPROVES RFC STOCK SALE

One Stockholder Buys $333.33 of Preferred.

then and, while it was concurred in by the best available authorities, the blame for the bad judgment should be directed toward me as, after all, it was my responsibility.

"While we have had many things in general and more in particular discourage us, we have not succumbed to these influences, as I believe that the institution with its great list of depositors and friends will succeed in spite of possible errors of judgment on the part of its president.

"Incidentally, I am impressed with that latent accumulated strength of the business of this country, including this bank, which carries them on through depression and periods of adversity.

"This fact gives me reason for my belief that we will again prosper in due time.

Improve Credit System.

"For the last year and a half, since the responsibility of the institution has been mine, we have spent a great deal of time and effort toward the improvement of our personnel, operations, and credit system.

"We now have a credit control which I believe will develop better credits and better men.

"We have reduced our expenses very materially and the reduction of salaries of officers was contributed to that end.

"I have always believed that the place to start this kind of saving is at the top. My salary was at a maximum of $75,000 and is now at the rate of $50,000 per year. We pay no bonuses.

"The general expense of the bank has been reduced 45 per cent since 1929, and we have figures from other comparable banks in Chicago and elsewhere which show a comparison favorable to us. We have not lessened our efforts, however, to eliminate unnecessary expense.

"This bank this year will earn, before chargeoffs, slightly less than $6,000,000 after all expenses, $300,000 building depreciation, including liberal reserve for taxes.

"We now hold more than $103,000,000 of government bonds, all but a small amount maturing in less than one year."

Gives RFC Power in Bank.

The sale of approximately $50,000,000 of preferred stock to the Reconstruction Finance corporation, it was disclosed, will give that organization a distinct voice in the management of the bank.

An amendment to the bank's articles of association, approved by the stockholders yesterday, gives the RFC the power to regulate the salaries of all officers and employés as long as the RFC holds as much as 25 per cent of the total number of preferred shares outstanding at any time.

Directors must be "persons acceptable to the Reconstruction Finance corporation" as long as the RFC holds as much as 5% per cent of the total number of preferred shares outstanding at any time.

Doesn't Fear Government.

"I do not fear control by the government as a result of this sale of preferred stock to the RFC," Mr. Leavell told the stockholders. "Their good is the same as ours, to create a sound banking system."

The preferred stock, like the common, will have a par value of $33 1-3 per share. It has voting rights, which rights are to be doubled in the event service may be interrupted on preferred dividend payments or on payments into the sinking fund for the retirement of the preferred stock.

The Continental Illinois company, security affiliate of the bank, is to be divorced from the bank. The new common shares, which are to be issued shortly, therefore, will carry no interest in the security affiliate.
